MOUNT ST. MARY'S SEMINARY

ACADEMIC YEAR 2016/17

SEMINARY CATALOG

MESSAGE FROM THE RECTOR

On behalf of the entire seminary community I welcome your interest in our program and in the formation we provide for future priests. Mount St. Mary's Seminary is truly a national seminary whose alumni have been serving as priests for many dioceses across our great country. Since our humble beginnings in 1808 we have continued to thrive in partnership with bishops and religious superiors in preparing candidates for the priesthood who strive for holiness, are devoted to the Holy Eucharist and the Blessed Mother, and are totally loyal to the Gospel and the teaching of the Church. Our fully accredited academic programs are taught with the perspective of forming the mind, heart and soul of future shepherds. We offer degree programs in Theology including the Master of Divinity and the Master of Arts (theology) with concentrations in Systematic Theology, Moral Theology, Sacred Scripture, and Church History. Our S.T.B. program offered in conjunction with the Pontifical Faculty of the Immaculate Conception in Washington, invites students to focus their program on the study of Thomistic Theology. Imbedded in our two-year pre-theology program is the option of earning a Master of Arts in Philosophical Studies. We also offer a certificate in Hispanic Ministry and recommend a summer language program in Guatemala. It is truly an honor to be a part of such a sacred and important endeavor forming men to become priests. I pray this catalog will be a help to you in finding out more about the great legacy of Mount St. Mary's Seminary.

Rev. Msgr. Andrew R. Baker, S.T.D.

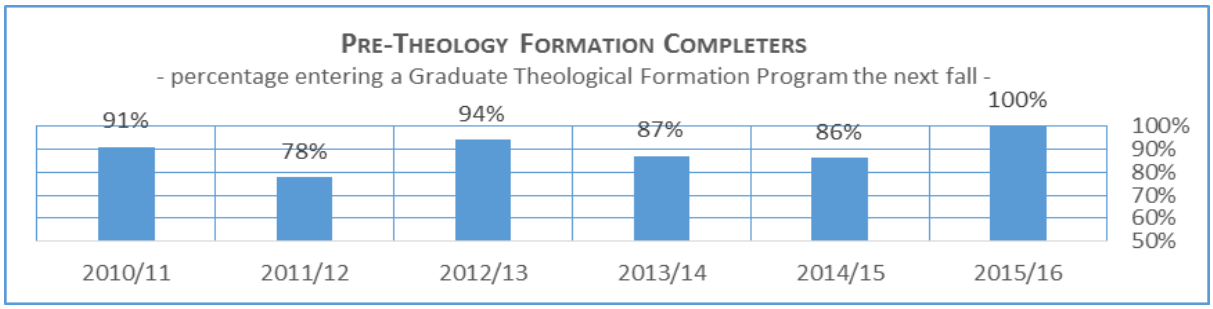
STATEMENT OF EDUCATIONAL EFFECTIVENESS

Mount St. Mary's Seminary provides education and formation for candidates for the Roman Catholic Priesthood. The school has developed a variety of direct and indirect measures to assess the extent to which the students are achieving the outcomes described in our catalog for the various degrees and programs they are pursuing. Faculty and Administration regularly review this data in the ongoing assessment of the educational effectiveness of the Seminary and to measure the success and timely completion of its degree and certificate programs. The following is a summary of the recent data.

Pre-Theology Certificate Program

This two-year formation program has as its purpose the preparation of candidates for entry into the theologate. The achievement of the goals of the program are measured by the formation team using direct and indirect measures of achievement in intellectual, spiritual, pastoral and human formation. As a demonstration of the effectiveness of the pre-theology formation program, the following chart shows the percentage (by recent academic years) of those who completed the pre-theology formation program at Mount St. Mary's Seminary and who subsequently entered a graduate theological formation program the following fall.



Master of Arts in Philosophical Studies (M.A.P.S.)

The two-year M.A.P.S. degree program has as its purpose to offer an opportunity for advanced graduate study of philosophy emphasizing both the history and major topical areas of philosophical inquiry, with attention to how these inform and are informed by the Catholic intellectual tradition. The graduates successfully passed the two-fold concluding exercise of a qualifying paper and oral presentation designed to measure student achievement of the degree program outcomes. The following chart of recent MAPS candidates by entering cohort year shows those who graduated from the MAPS degree program in a timely manner, those who withdrew from MAPS but not from Seminary formation, and those still eligible.

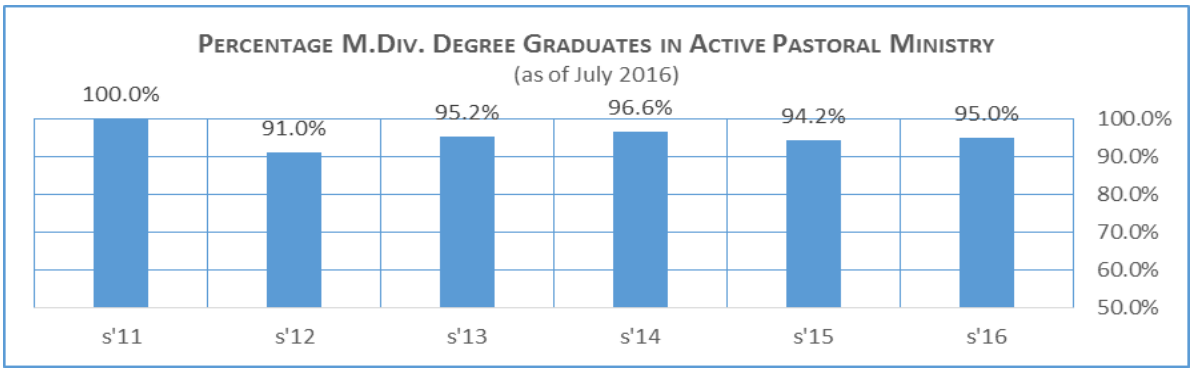
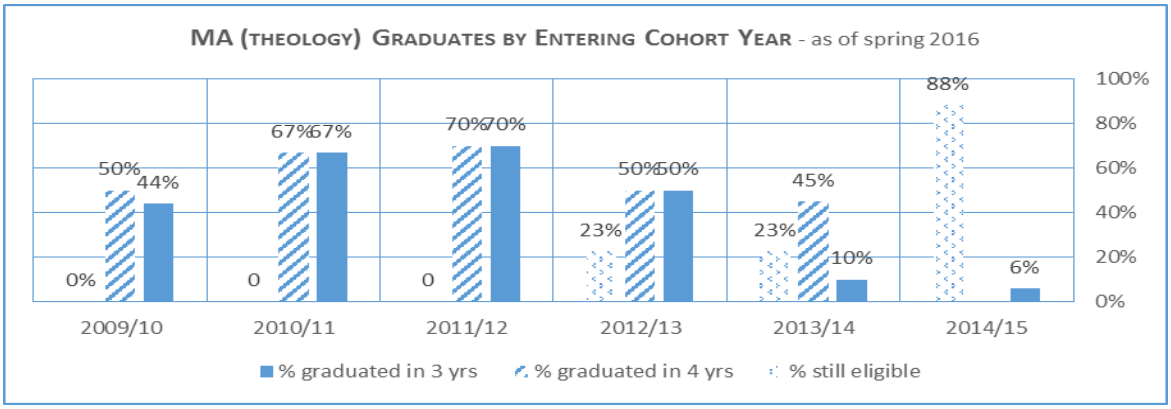
Master of Divinity (M.Div.)

The four-year Master of Divinity (M.Div.), a fully-accredited professional ministerial degree, is designed to be completed by seminarians while they are fulfilling the requirements of the ordination program. All graduates received a grade of "pass" on the direct and indirect assessment tools designed to measure achievement of the degree program outcomes in intellectual, spiritual, pastoral and human formation and were recommended to their sponsoring diocese for ordination. As a demonstration of the effectiveness of this degree program in preparing men for ordained ministry, the chart below shows the percentage of recent M.Div. graduates by class year who are still engaged in pastoral ministry.



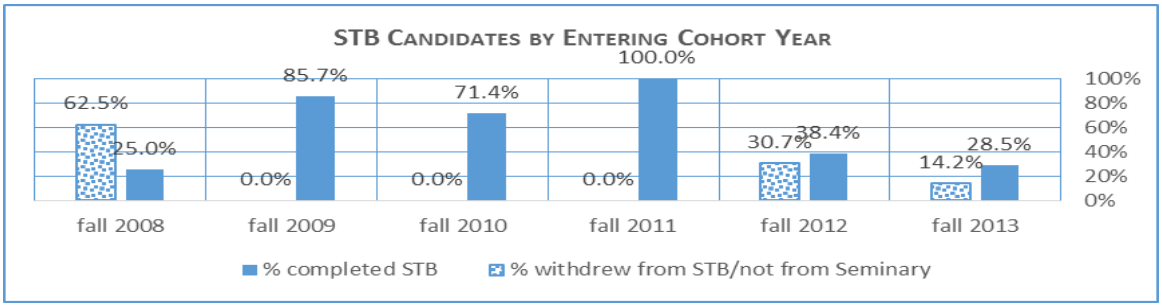
Master of Arts (Theology)

The degree program goals include both the attainment of survey knowledge of theology, as well as a focus in an area of concentration for study and research writing. Successful candidates, in addition to the required coursework, complete the capstone exercise of a three-part portfolio of directed M.A. (theology) research projects and an oral comprehensive examination designed to measure student achievement of the degree program outcomes. The graduation rate by entering cohort year (updated in spring 2016) is shown in the chart below:



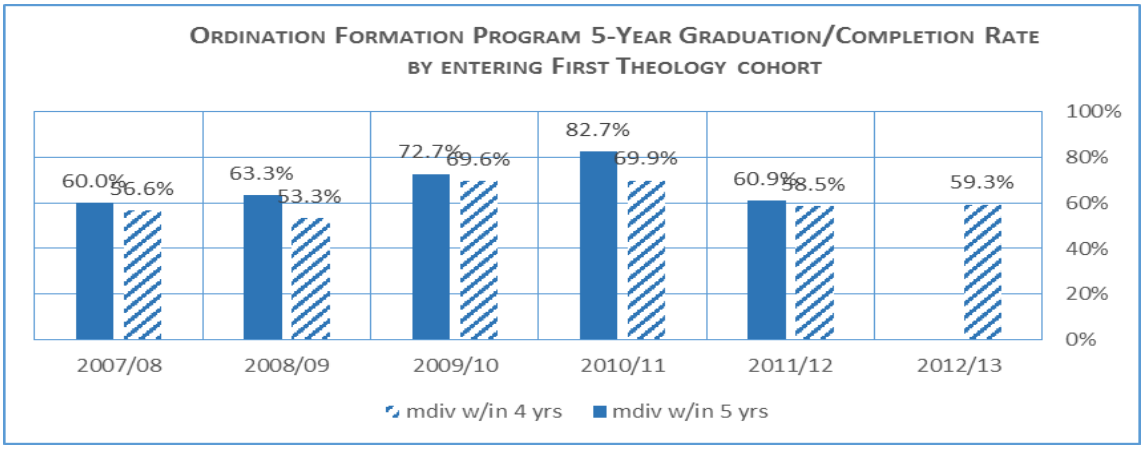
Bachelor of Sacred Theology (S.T.B.)

This degree is offered under an affiliation agreement (approved by the Vatican Congregatio de Institutione Catholica and in keeping with the Apostolic Constitution Sapientia Christiana), with The Pontifical Faculty of the Immaculate Conception (at The Dominican House of Studies, Washington, D.C.). The educational effectiveness of the degree program is measured by the concluding exercise, a two phase (written and oral) comprehensive examination coram professors from both institutions designed to measure student achievement of the degree program outcomes. The data below (updated summer 2016) shows the rate of completion by entering cohort, listing the percentage who graduated having successfully completed the concluding exercise along with the percentage of those who withdrew from the S.T.B. program (but not from seminary formation):



Overall Seminary Completion Rates, Ordination Curriculum

The chart below shows the five-year graduation rate of those First-year theology students, who entered as full time students in the Seminary's ordination curriculum in the fall of a given academic year and completed the overall ordination curriculum and its concluding exercises. For example, the majority who completed with the graduating seminary class of 2016 entered the ordination formation program in ay 2012/13 (others of their cohort may still be eligible for completion if they took a pastoral year).



Provisos of the Seminary Catalog

The provisions of this catalog are not to be regarded as an irrevocable contract between the seminary and the student. The seminary reserves the right to change any provisions or requirements at any time. Its general practice is to make no provisions retroactive, unless necessitated by changes in the Program of Priestly Formation or other compelling cause.

OUR 200-YEAR HISTORY

Mount St. Mary's Seminary, the second-oldest Catholic theologate in the United States, opened its doors in 1808. Fr. John DuBois, the Mount's founder and a refugee from the French revolution, arrived in the United States in 1791 bearing a letter of introduction from Lafayette, whose wife he had once counted among his parishioners. Fr. DuBois made the acquaintance of many of the Founding Fathers of the Republic, and offered his services to the first Catholic bishop in the United States, the Most Reverend John Carroll of Baltimore.

His mission territory extended through central Maryland and the Blue Ridge country. Shortly after founding St. John's Church in Frederick, Maryland, the circuit-riding priest resolved to purchase for himself a small tract of land in northern Frederick County, not far from the Pennsylvania border, where earlier Catholic colonists from southern Maryland had christened the adjacent summit "Mount St. Mary."

The missionary also desired to affiliate himself with the Society of St. Sulpice, whose members already operated St. Mary's Seminary in Baltimore. As part of his service to the Society, Fr. DuBois agreed to open a "petit seminaire" or school where boys and young men could prepare for eventual entry into major seminary. Students from the Sulpician school at "Pigeon Hills" in Adams County, Pennsylvania, were brought to the Mountain where they were soon joined by local boys.

Although the germ of the idea to found the Mount cannot be said to have originated with Fr. DuBois, he wasted no time in making the school into his life's work. Joined in 1812 by the man revered as the Mount's guardian angel, Fr. Simon Gabriel Bruté, Fr. DuBois and his small faculty strove to offer a full high school and college course to lay students and potential clerics alike, as well as a theological course to future diocesan priests. Although the Mount initially had to give up its theology students to the Baltimore seminary, it gradually won the permission to retain students until ordination. By the early 1820s, ties to the Sulpicians were severed, and the Mount continued an independent existence under the Archbishop of Baltimore.

In the summer of 1809, Fr. DuBois had the honor of welcoming Mother Elizabeth Ann Seton and her first sisters to Emmitsburg. His earlier work with the Daughters of Charity in Paris was instrumental in the Emmitsburg Sisterhood adopting a modified version of the Daughters' Rule. In addition, Mother Seton found in Fr. Bruté her ideal spiritual director. The period of the Mount's infancy came to a close with the departure of Fr. DuBois in 1826, and Fr. Bruté in 1834, to head dioceses in New York and Vincennes, Indiana, respectively.

In 1830, a Maryland state charter was obtained for the Mount, allowing it to grant advanced degrees. The seminary division of the Mount has continued to train priests for the priesthood, drawing the majority of these from the Middle Atlantic States. Graduating classes were generally of modest size until the post-Vatican II period when the seminary enrollment increased dramatically, facilities were expanded, and the student body came to represent significant portions of the North, South, and Midwest. The Mount is a founding member of the National Catholic Education Association.

Early on, the Mount earned for itself the distinction "Cradle of Bishops." By its centennial year, the entire institution could boast of some 28 episcopal alumni, including the Most Rev. John Hughes (seminary class of 1826), who succeeded Bishop DuBois and became the first Archbishop of New York, and His Eminence John Cardinal McCloskey (seminary class of 1831), also Archbishop of New York and first native-born American cardinal. By 2009, just after its bicentennial year, the Mount can boast of 51 episcopal alumni, including most recently the following:

Most Rev. William B. Friend	Bishop Emeritus of Shreveport	Seminary Class of	1959
Harry J. Flynn	Archbishop Emeritus of St. Paul-Minneapolis		1960
William E. Lori	Archbishop of Baltimore		1977
Michael O. Jackels	Archbishop of Dubuque		1981
Edward J. Burns	Bishop of Juneau		1983
Paul S. Coakley	Archbishop of Oklahoma City		1983
James D. Conley	Bishop of Lincoln		1985
Barry C. Knestout	Auxiliary Bishop of Washington		1989

Since its founding in 1808, the Mount seminary has prepared more than 2,600 men for the priesthood, of those 1,100 are living and currently active in ministry.

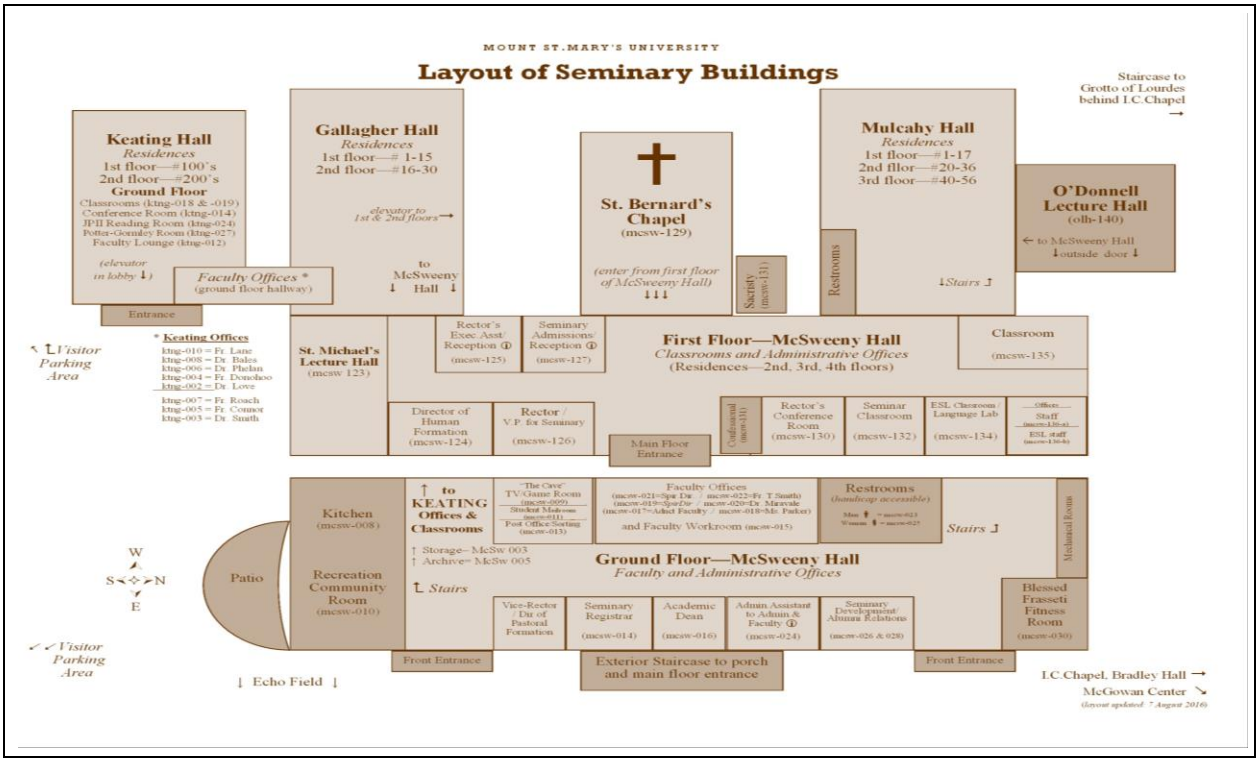
Seminary Complex

During the centennial of the Mount, with the construction of McSweeny Hall, the seminary moved to its present location on campus. The seminary is housed in a complex of six connected buildings:

- McSweeny Hall (1906) contains the offices, classrooms, recreation rooms, and residence for faculty and students. A recent grant helped establish a state-of-the art language lab, primarily for the use by the ESL support program. In 2012 an exercise room was established on the ground floor.
- St. Bernard's Chapel, the center of the Seminary, is always open for prayer and meditation.
- Gallagher Hall (1958) contains private rooms for faculty and students.
- Mulcahy Hall (1975) provides private rooms for faculty and students as well as guests.
- O'Donnell Lecture Hall (1976) accommodates the student body for lectures, seminars, etc.
- Bishop Keating Hall (2000) contains modern classrooms, residences and offices for faculty as well as private rooms for the students. Recent renovations include the establishment of the Potter-Gormley Reading Room for theological research, the Blessed John Paul II Reading Room, and a Practice Lab in one of the classrooms for video-recording capabilities for Homiletics and Liturgical courses.



Main Campus

Many seminary liturgies are held at the Chapel of the Immaculate Conception (1908) in the center of the university campus. A $2.5 million restoration was recently complete, and the Chapel re-dedicated on September 13, 2011. This was the most extensive work done on the facility in one hundred years.

There are a number of other chapels on campus, including the National Shrine Grotto of Lourdes. The Phillips Library (1960) and the Media Center in the Knott Academic Center (AC) house the university holdings. The William J. McGowan Center (2003) houses Patriot Hall, the dining and food services for the entire campus, and Cogan Hall. Further information about Learning Services is available on the University website (www.msmary.edu/learningservices).

English as a Second Language

A full-range of ESL services are available, including classes and tutorials, as well as accent reduction (full description below, see p. 52).

Transfer Credits and Acceptance with Advanced Theology Class Ranking

Mount St. Mary's Seminary will accept transfer credits from graduate-level courses which earned a grade of at least "C" (2.0) at an appropriately accredited institution recognized by the U.S. Department of Education (or by the Congregation for Catholic Education in Rome) to be applied toward degree programs at the seminary. No more than forty-five (45) semester credits may be transferred toward the Master of Divinity degree, no more than thirty (30) credits may be transferred toward the Bachelor of Sacred Theology degree, and no more than six (6) semester credits may be transferred towards the Master of Arts (theology) or the Master of Arts in Philosophical Studies degrees.

Mature candidates with evidence of significant professional, military, academic, continuing education may be admitted to the Seminary at the discretion of the seminary academic dean. Prerequisite coursework may be waived based on the judgment that this evidence provides the well-founded hope of the ability to actively pursue and complete the degree. All applicants must submit official transcripts showing prior work. If necessary, English translations must be provided. Transfer credits will not be given for thesis work. No credit or advanced standing is given for life experience.

The seminary academic dean and seminary registrar review the transcripts of all applicants to determine if they fulfill admission requirements. In consultation with the appropriate faculty members, if it is determined the applicant has taken an equivalent graduate-level required course, with a grade of "C" or better, transfer credit will be noted on the Mount St. Mary's transcript and in such cases the seminarian may be admitted with advanced theology class ranking in the seminary program of formation.

Billing

Tuition and other fees do not constitute the total cost of supporting the students. Mount St. Mary's University makes every effort to keep costs at the lowest possible level and reserves the right to change thee costs annually.

Bills of approximately one-half of the annual charges will be sent prior to the start of each semester and will be due and payable on the date indicated thereon. Payment is to be made by check, money order or credit card payable to Mount St. Mary's Seminary, and sent to: Accounting and Finance Office, Mount St. Mary's University, 16300 Old Emmitsburg Road, Emmitsburg, Maryland 21727.

All bills are due and payable upon receipt. Normally, no student may begin a semester with an unpaid balance on his/her account. Such indebtedness also precludes the possibility of receiving a degree or honorable dismissal. Students who fail to honor their obligations may not be allowed to take final examinations and, in cases of extreme negligence, will be dismissed from the Mount. Seminarians may check their financial account by logging onto Portal (portal.msmary.edu) – a secure site from which students may access their financial and academic records, such as an unofficial copy of their academic transcript.

Upon nonpayment, Mount St. Mary's University may declare any remaining balance due and payable. In the event a student account is referred to an attorney for collection through legal proceedings or otherwise, the student will be responsible to pay reasonable collection costs and fees, attorney fees, court costs and other related costs to Mount St. Mary's. Default interest shall accrue at the rate of one-half percent (0.5%) per month (6% APR) from the date of default until the date of payment, and shall be the rate of interest applicable to any judgment. A transcript hold will be applied to the student record. Transcripts will not be released until the debt is paid in full.

Withdrawal/Refund Policy

Voluntary Withdrawals: A student is accepted on the assumption that he will remain for the entire academic year. If a student voluntarily withdraws before the beginning of classes, all fees are refundable provided that written notice is received by the Seminary Registrar before the beginning of classes. When a student voluntarily withdraws or leaves the seminary for any reason and has no indebtedness to the Mount, a portion of the tuition and room fee is refunded, depending upon the date of formal withdrawal (that date on which written notice of the intention to withdraw is made and approved by the Rector). Unspent board fees will be returned. Insurance fees are non-refundable.

Up to the fifth day of classes	100% refund
2nd week of classes	80%
3rd week of classes	60%
4th week of classes	40%
5th week of classes	20%
After five weeks of classes there will be no refund of tuition or room charges

Involuntary Withdrawals: Involuntary withdrawal resulting from either suspension, expulsion, or as the result of other disciplinary action, regardless of whether the action took place before or after the semester began, will result in total forfeiture of tuition and room fees for the semester in which the action took place. Unspent board fees will be returned.

Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) for Financial Aid

Direct Student Loans: Students receiving federal financial aid must make satisfactory academic progress towards completion of a certificate or degree program if their aid is to be processed or continued. The general rule if that students must complete with passing grades at least 75% of the credits they attempt. All courses ever attempted at the university are considered when calculating satisfactory progress, even though the student may not have received aid for the prior courses. The rate is calculated by dividing total credits earned by total credits attempted.

If, after completion of the second or subsequent semester of enrollment, a student receiving financial aid falls below the minimum rate of 75% satisfactory completion of courses, aid may be discontinued. Aid will be reinstated only after the student's completion rate is 75% or above and the student requests reinstatement in writing.

Students who believe that unusual circumstances have cause their failure to make satisfactory progress may petition in writing to the university's Financial Aid Committee, which will make a decision concerning eligibility for additional aid. The maximum period for which a student may receive any federal aid is 150% of the published length of an academic program. Questions regarding eligibility and applications for federal financial aid should be addressed the Mount's Office of Financial Aid in Bradley Hall.

Withdrawal and Refund of Financial Aid

Financial aid recipients who withdraw from all of their classes during a term will be subject to federal refund policies, which are different from the university's refund policy. The amount of aid earned is determined by a pro-rata calculation, multiplying the percentage of the academic term the student has completed by the total amount of federal aid disbursed to the student. If the academic term is more than 60% complete, the student has earned 100% of the aid.

Prior Financial Aid/Loan Deferments

Students with loans from prior academic programs may be eligible for loan payment deferment while a student at the seminary. It is the students responsibility to contact their lending agency(ies), obtain the appropriate paperwork for loan deferment/enrollment verification, and give such forms to the seminary registrar for processing in a timely manner. As required by the U.S. Department of Education, Mount

St. Mary's University does electronically report the enrollment status of all students on a monthly basis to the National Student Loan Data System (NSLDS).

Readmission Policy

A student who has voluntarily withdrawn or taken a leave of absence from the seminary may apply for readmission with the approval of the sponsoring diocese.

When a student is dismissed for academic deficiency, application for readmission may be made upon proof that the deficiency has been rectified. When a student is dismissed for other reasons, he or she may or may not be eligible for readmission depending upon the circumstances of the dismissal.

THE FORMATION PROGRAM

The following is a comprehensive and detailed overview of the Formation Program, its purpose, programs, and goals/learning objectives, organized according to the four components required by the norms of the USCCB Program of Priestly Formation (PPF). The Formation Program's Assessment and Strategic Plans are available in the Seminary Faculty Resources.

The primary mission of Mount St. Mary's Seminary is the formation of men for the Roman Catholic diocesan priesthood in the service of the Kingdom of God. It does this through four inter-related components (or pillars) of priestly formation: human, spiritual, intellectual and pastoral. As the PPF tells us in #73:

> "Clearly human formation is the foundation for the other three pillars. Spiritual formation informs the other three. Intellectual formation appropriates and understands the other three. Pastoral formation expresses the other three pillars in practice."

I. HUMAN FORMATION

A. Purpose

As the foundation for the other three pillars, human formation is the necessary foundation with which to begin. The late Pope John Paul II in his encyclical Pastores Dabo Vobis said, "The human personality of the priest is to be a bridge and not an obstacle to others in their meeting with Jesus Christ, the redeemer of the human race." (PDV #43) The seminary provides solid human (personal and interpersonal) formation so that seminarians become balanced men, affectively mature, capable of relating well to others, of giving pastoral care within different cultural contexts, and of living celibacy in a healthy manner. This happens in a three-fold growth in self-knowledge, self-acceptance, and self-gift, done in the light of faith, with the purpose of more perfect conformity to the perfect humanity of Jesus (PPF #80).

B. Program Components

As the foundation for the other three pillars, human formation is treated first and foremost and it is considered the integrating pillar of priestly formation.

1) The Seminarian Handbook and the Rule of Life provide a detailed description of the formation and evaluation program, with clear expectations for daily life in the seminary and for the behavioral and attitudinal expectations regarding formation in celibacy.

2) A measure of a student's personal maturity is his willingness to be fully engaged in the formation program and his ability to be faithful to the community's rules.

3) Individual Formation Advising: Each student meets regularly with a designated faculty member who guides him in the development of personal goals in light of the recommendations of the Admissions Committee, the expectations of the Church, and the sequence of goals as identified in the Seminarian Handbook. Together they deal with any concerns in human formation that need to be addressed and identify ways to help the student grow further.

4) Faculty formation teams, which meet under the direction of the Vice Rector for Human Formation on a regular basis, discuss the seminarians' personal strengths and weaknesses and recommend to them, through their formation advisors, areas where they need further growth.

5) Formation Seminars: The seminars address the following human formation issues:

Theology Year	Fall (13 sessions)	Spring (13 sessions)
First Pre-Theology	(takes PTHL 003 Pre-Theology Pro-Seminar/1 cr)	ORDN 002 Fides et Ratio
Second Pre-Theology	(takes ORDN 501 Celibate Witness*)	ORDN 004 Pre-Theology Integration Assessment (PreThIA) Preparation
First Theology	ORDN 501 Celibate Witness*	ORDN 502 Introduction to Public Speaking & Lector Workshop

Second Theology	ORDN 601 Personal Conduct & Character of the Priest	ORDN 602 Introduction to Parish Finances
Third Theology	ORDN 701 Parish Administration & Human Resources	ORDN 702 Pastoral Leadership
Fourth Theology	ORDN 801 Transition to Priesthood	ORDN 802 Priesthood Integration Assessment (PIA) Preparation

6) Formation Workshops: in the Fall semester workshops treat issues of transition into seminary: study skills; pastoral formation, such as teaching, hospital visitations, etc.; working with women; multicultural ministry; and personal health. During the Spring semester afternoon conferences or workshops are scheduled as needed to treat issues related to human formation or provide a presentation to broaden their understanding of a current affair that would be of particular interest to the seminarians (e.g. friendship/boundaries; celibacy/sexuality; substance abuse; development of human social skills, manners, leadership skills).

7) Seminary Life: Human formation happens informally in the interaction of seminarians among themselves, with the faculty, the wider university community, and with the people they serve in their field education placements. Their participation in social events, athletics, student government, university sports team chaplains, seminary house jobs, campus ministry and class activities helps them develop friendships and social skills. All seminarians are expected to actively engage in seminary life.

8) Counseling and Spiritual Direction: Human formation issues are treated in the internal forum both in spiritual direction and, if necessary, in counseling. The seminary employs a counselor who sees students in-house several days per week. Formation team minutes (external forum information) are shared with all spiritual directors and the counselor for the purpose of a more integrated human formation. This enables the internal forum faculty to work in cohesion with the external forum faculty.

9) Peer Evaluations: All students in second pre-theology, second theology and fourth theology are asked to confidentially evaluate their classmates in the spring semester. The goal is to give each student a deeper insight into himself and how he is being perceived by others. These peer evaluations are tabulated and the composite is given to the formation advisor. He shares this information with the student and the formation team.

10) Semester Meeting with the Rector: Every seminarian has an opportunity to meet with the Rector to discuss his personal formation and growth areas. Since the Rector attends all formation team meetings, he is kept apprised of each seminarian's strengths and weaknesses in the area of human formation.

11) Community Dinners: The entire seminary community comes together regularly on Thursday evening for a community dinner. At least one faculty member and a deacon sit at every student table for the purpose of fostering non-class faculty-student interaction and growth in human formation skills such as table manners and conversation skills. Beginning in fall 2013 class-based community dinners were interspersed with full seminary community dinners.

C. Goals / Expected Outcomes

The human formation of candidates for the priesthood is directed towards fostering growth in them as described below (PPF #76):

1) A free person: free to be who he is in God's design, capable of solid moral character, with a finely developed moral conscience and who demonstrates the human virtues of prudence, fortitude, temperance, justice, humility, sincerity, patience, good manners, and truthfulness.

2) A prudent and discerning man with a capacity for critical observation so that he can discern true and false values, with good communication and public speaking skills.

3) A man with deep relational capacities, capable of genuine dialogue and friendship, open to others and available to them with a generosity of spirit. A man in whom the various dimensions of being a human person (the physical, the psychological and the spiritual) converge in affective maturity, which includes human sexuality and the capacity for chaste celibacy, capable of living well with authority and able to deal productively with conflict and stress.

4) A man who respects, cares for, and pays appropriate attention to his physical well-being so that he is able to accomplish the ministerial tasks entrusted to him. A man who relates well with others, both men and women, including those of diverse cultural backgrounds.

5) A man who is a good steward of material possessions, is able to live a simple lifestyle and is generous with his earthly goods to the poor.

6) A man who can take on the role of a public person in service of the Gospel and represent the Church.

II. SPIRITUAL FORMATION

Archbishop Lori – opening semester Mass – August 2015

A. Purpose

The spiritual formation program strives to establish a foundation within the seminarians for a lifetime of priestly ministry within the Church. This foundation is an intimate relationship with God the Father and Jesus Christ His Son through the Holy Spirit, a relationship nourished by prayer, Scripture and Tradition, celebrated in the sacraments, especially the Eucharist, and marked by a sincere devotion to Mary, the Mother of God and Mother of the Church. To this end, the spiritual formation program challenges seminarians to live in intimate communion with God through lives of celibacy, obedience, and simplicity of life to seek Christ in faithful meditation on the word of God and in active participation in the sacred mysteries of the Church, especially the Eucharist, Penance, and the Liturgy of the Hours; and to love and reverence the Blessed Virgin Mary (PPF, 107).

B. Program Components

Spiritual formation in the seminary seeks to lay the foundation for a lifetime of priestly ministry. During the years of seminary formation the aim is to establish the attitudes, habits and practices of the spiritual life that will continue after ordination (PPF, 110, 111). With that purpose in mind the spiritual formation program at Mount St. Mary's includes the following elements:

1) The Eucharistic Liturgy is the source and summit of Christian life and therefore the wellspring of priestly formation. Daily participation at Mass is expected of all seminarians. Ordinarily seminarians participate in the seminary community Mass, which gives expression to the richness of the Roman rite as well as the diversity of our ethnic traditions (PPF, 110, 116).

2) The Liturgy of the Hours sets the daily rhythm of prayer for priests. Seminarians pray Morning and Evening Prayer on a regular basis as a community. The men are expected to have acquired the habit of praying the entire daily Office by their second year of theology. They are encouraged to pray the Office (Daytime Prayer and/or Night Prayer) as a class, or in small groups, and with their fellow diocesan seminarians (PPF, 110, 117, 119).

3) Seminarians who one day will be ministers of the Sacrament of Reconciliation must themselves learn to make fruitful and regular use of this Sacrament. The Sacrament is available at regularly scheduled times throughout the week, as well as by personal request. Communal celebrations of the Sacrament are planned and celebrated during Advent and Lent as well as during the annual retreat and weekend of recollection/Forty Hours Devotion (PPF, 110, 120).

4) Spiritual direction is a special opportunity for ongoing discernment, formation in prayer, and integration of personal, moral and spiritual growth. Seminarians are required to meet at least every three weeks with an approved priest spiritual director of their choosing in an atmosphere of trust and confidentiality. Spiritual direction is one of the foundational components of spiritual formation for all seminarians (PPF, 110, 127-135).

5) Retreats and days of recollection provide the time and place for sustained prayer, silence and solitude which are necessary for men to listen intently to the Word of God and grow in personal intimacy with the Lord. The seminary's schedule includes an annual five-day retreat for all seminarians at the beginning of the spring semester, a weekend of recollection with Forty Hours Devotion at the beginning of the fall semester, and a day of renewal at the beginning of Advent and Lent (fall/spring). Seminarians are also encouraged to seek for themselves periodic "desert days" of silence and abstention from electronic communication and entertainment. The Fourth Theology Holy Land Pilgrimage and Retreat is a requirement from which a man is exempted only at the request of his diocese or by the rector for a serious reason. The retreat takes place over Christmas break and counts as their canonical retreat. (PPF, 110, 121, 122).

6) Formation for a priestly way of life in imitation of Jesus Christ will guide seminarians in learning the value, practice and cultivation of celibacy, simplicity of life, obedience, and pastoral service. These and other relevant topics are addressed through regular conferences by the Rector and the Director of Spiritual Formation, as well as through homilies, spiritual direction, retreats, formation advising, and formation workshops (PPF, 110, 122).

7) For seminarians to seek to draw closer to Christ and live in intimate communion with Him, they must draw daily nourishment from the Sacred Scripture. Seminarians are encouraged in conferences and individual spiritual direction to form the habit of daily prayerful meditation on the Word of God (lectio divina). In addition, for several weeks at the beginning of the fall semester, new seminarians meet in small groups with the Director of Spiritual Formation to examine the basics of prayer, lectio divina, and the value of spiritual reading, as well as other topics related to the cultivation of the spiritual life (PPF, 110, 123).

8) In order to foster personal devotion and love for the Eucharist, seminarians are encouraged through conferences and retreat days to spend one hour before the Blessed Sacrament, with the expectation that they will eventually adopt it as a lifetime habit of devotion. The seminary provides the opportunity for such prayerful devotion in the daily hour of Exposition of the Blessed Sacrament with Benediction (extended hours every Thursday evening), as well as during the monthly devotions to the Sacred Heart and at other suggested times throughout the year (PPF, 110, 124).

9) Seminarians are expected to foster a personal devotion to the Blessed Virgin Mary in keeping with her unique role in the economy of salvation as Mother of God and Mother of the Church. In addition to a regular communal recitation of the rosary and weekly Novena to Our Lady of Perpetual Help, men are encouraged to join the seminary's Legion of Mary, the Militia Immaculata (both of which are groups dedicated to prayer and learning more about the Blessed Virgin Mary and the work of evangelization), as well as to consider the annual opportunity to make a personal consecration to the Blessed Virgin Mary through the spiritual counsels contained in St. Louis de Montfort's True Devotion to Mary (PPF, 110, 125).

10) The seminarians must develop a profound appreciation for the richness of our spiritual and liturgical traditions. Instruction in the history and theology of liturgy, the spiritual life, and an introduction to spiritual classics is provided through courses in the core curriculum (PPF, 118, 119).

11) Opportunities for seminarians to gather for fraternal support, faith sharing, prayer and evangelization are available. In addition to the Legion of Mary and Militia Immaculata, these voluntary associations include the fraternities: Jesu Caritas, Friends of St. Joseph, New Evangelization Club, Blessed Frassati group, the Knights of Columbus, charismatic prayer groups, and the youth retreat Mount 2000 (PPF, 110).

12) In the external forum, formation advisors also guide seminarians in the setting of their spiritual goals. In their report to the formation team, formation advisors hold seminarians accountable for their overall participation in the seminary's program of spiritual formation. This Formation Advisor Report addresses what is observable in the external forum such as whether the seminarian has an approved spiritual director with whom he meets regularly, his attendance at house spiritual exercises, his understanding of the Church's expectations with regard to priestly celibacy, his manifesting a personal prayer life in general and especially with regard to setting aside time for private prayer as well as the Liturgy of the Hours, his devotion to the Blessed Virgin Mary and finally his understanding of and readiness to receive the ministries of Lector, Acolyte, admission to Candidacy, and Holy Orders.

Acolyte Installation – 2016

Mass – Lector Installation -2016

Lector Installation – 2016

C. Goals / Expected Outcomes

1) Seminarians are to be men of prayer. They will form a habit of daily personal and liturgical prayer flowing from the celebration of the Mass, and including the Liturgy of the Hours, prayerful meditation with the Scriptures (lectio divina), and a filial devotion to the Blessed Virgin Mary (PPF, 110).

2) They will incorporate into their personal spiritual lives the frequent reception of the Sacrament of Reconciliation and regular spiritual direction (PPF, 110).

3) As men discerning the call to celibacy "for the sake of the kingdom of heaven" (Mt. 19:12) and as a stimulus to pastoral charity, they will manifest an ability to live chastely in mature relationships with others (PPF, 110; PDV, 50).

4) They will be humble and obedient men of the Church (PPF, 110).

5) In imitation of Christ who came to serve and not to be served, seminarians will value a simple way of life (PPF, 110, 269).

III. INTELLECTUAL FORMATION

A. Purpose

The purpose of the intellectual formation program is that seminarians grasp the Catholic intellectual and liturgical tradition, are able to proclaim and teach the Gospel of Christ and to communicate the mystery of God to people today, and are equipped for the continuing pursuit of truth (PPF, 136-139).

B. Programs

The program of intellectual formation embraces both degree and non-degree programs as follows:

B. 1. Degree programs

- The Master of Divinity (M.Div.) degree program offers a fully-accredited graduate degree (Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools, Association of Theological Schools) "to prepare persons for ordained ministry and for general pastoral and religious leadership responsibilities in congregations and other settings The degree complies with all relevant standards: ATS General Institutional Standards, Educational Standards applicable to all Degree Programs, and in particular Standard A "Basic Programs oriented toward Ministerial Leadership."

- The Master of Arts (theology) degree program offers a fully-accredited graduate degree (Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools, Association of Theological Schools) Its purpose is to provide a student with competence in the study of theology as a scientific discipline and to serve as a step toward further graduate study. The degree complies with all relevant standards: ATS General Institutional Standards, Educational Standards applicable to all Degree Programs, and in particular Standard D "Basic Programs oriented toward General Theological Studies."

- The Bachelor in Sacred Theology (STB) is an ecclesial degree offered through affiliation with the Pontifical Faculty of the Immaculate Conception (Dominican House of Studies), Washington, DC. The degree content is taught at Mount St. Mary's Seminary, the degree itself is granted by the Pontifical Faculty. Accrediting of this degree and renewal of the affiliation is by under the authority of the Congregation for Catholic Education (Rome, Italy). Qualified seminarians may earn this degree as part of a dual-degree program with the Master of Divinity by completing specific philosophy courses, Biblical Greek and Latin, and a specified curriculum taken within the M.Div. course offerings as well as a two phase written and oral comprehensive.

- The Master of Arts in Philosophical Studies (MAPS) is available for enrollment for qualified pre-theologians and offered through and administered by the University's Philosophy department. This degree program is not under the direct supervision of the Seminary, but is encouraged, detailed in the Seminary catalog, and collaboratively designed to enhance Seminary enrollment.

B. 2. Non-Degree programs

- The pre-theology formation certificate program curriculum provides the requisite 30 credits of philosophy and 12 of undergraduate theology as described in detail in the PPF, 152-56, 188, and 158. In addition, the pre-theology curriculum includes the study of Latin (PPF, 189), Greek, and liberal arts courses as appropriate (PPF, 162). S.T.B. affiliation components (Political Philosophy, Cosmology) are also included. Undergraduate degree completion is possible during pre-theology. The seminary, through its admission procedures, admits pre-theologians who enroll in this degree completion program and facilitates the requirements to mesh with the other pillars of seminary formation.

- The ordination formation program curriculum provides an eight-semester array of courses, formation seminars and workshops, practica and assessments, and pastoral field education requirements designed to qualify candidates for priestly ordination and ministry according to the expectations of the PPF (191).

- The Hispanic Ministry certificate program requirements add a dimension to the intellectual formation program to meet the needs for special skill (language, cultural sensitivity) and knowledge (Hispanic heritage, theology of Hispanic Ministry). The facilitation of language and cultural immersion (Antigua, Guatemala) and pastoral ministry and liturgical ministry in Spanish is an add-on to the general intellectual formation pillar goals and learning outcomes.

C. Goals / Learning Outcomes

The goals of intellectual formation include both overarching goals/learning outcomes and additional specifications in the various degree and non-degree programs.

The intellectual formation program as a whole equips seminarians to be:

1. Hearers of the Word: to know the scriptural texts and biblical theology in accord with sound exegetical methods faithful to magisterial teachings. "The proper understanding of Sacred Scripture requires the use of the historical-critical method, though this method is not totally sufficient. Other methods that are synchronic in approach are helpful in bringing forth the riches contained in the biblical texts" (PPF, 198-200).
2. Proclaimers of the Word: to preach the Word of God in accordance with sound principles of biblical interpretation and sound catechesis as well as the practical skills of preparing and delivering homilies (PPF, 138-139, 200).
3. Catechists: to understand, proclaim, and expound the faith to others grounded in an in-depth understanding of the Creed, its biblical, historical, and dogmatic richness, and particularly our belief in one God in three Divine Persons: Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. "The doctrinal, educational, catechetical, and apologetical aspects of a candidate's training are to prepare the seminarian to be a faithful, loyal, and authentic teacher of the Gospel" (PPF, 139, 203, 230).
4. Followers of Christ: to have a sure knowledge, understanding, and appreciation of the words and deeds, indeed the person, of the Lord Jesus Christ, who is the revelation of God to all men and women (PPF, 137).
5. Faithful to the Church: to distinguish the normative function of the Magisterium from the ecclesial role of the theologian, the truths revealed by God and contained in the deposit of faith from their theological mode of expression. "The education of a priest is never seen in isolation from the Tradition of the Church" (PPF, 139).
6. Culturally Aware: to grasp and teach others the truth about the Church and its role in the world as well as to understand the world, the signs of the times, in which the message of Christ is preached, especially the increasing diversity of cultures in the US ministerial context and the increasingly global context of the ministry and theology (PPF, 228).
7. Historically Aware: to appreciate and help others to grasp the rich history of the Church through its 2000-year existence, to understand its efforts of evangelization, its sad divisions and controversies, its famous and infamous figures, and how it has come to assume its current position in the world and, in particular, in the USA (PPF, 210).
8. Ministers of the Sacraments: to understand the identity of the priest as a sacramental representation of Christ, Head and Shepherd of the Church (PDV, 15), and, having a thorough knowledge of liturgy and sacramental theology, law and practice, to be prepared to celebrate the liturgy as ministers of Christ through the Holy Spirit on behalf of the Church (PPF, 214).

C. 1. Specific Goals / Learning Outcomes in the Degree Programs

- The M.Div. degree program aims to prepare seminarians to share in a special way in the three-fold office of Christ: teaching the Gospel, celebrating the divine mysteries, and shepherding God's people. The prior section identified the primary processes and practices leading to student attainment of these goals and assessment of that attainment. The Seminary believes that these goals, specified in the Program of Priestly Formation (2006) together with the goals identified in the other pillars of formation: human, spiritual and pastoral) meet and surpass the four identified areas of ATS Degree Program Standard A for the M.Div. degree program. There are listed the following four categories which are further specified in A.2.2, A.2.3, A.2.4, and A.2.5. The nomenclature of the Association of Theological Schools lists four program content categories for the M.Div. degree program as follows:
    i. a knowledge of the Catholic religious heritage
    ii. an understanding of the contemporary setting for evangelization
    iii. the human and spiritual dimensions of priestly formation
    iv. the pastoral qualities and skills necessary for service as priests

  The seminary treats the first and second ATS content categories as specified by our 13 goals of intellectual formation. The third program content category is incorporated into the human and spiritual pillar and its goals. The fourth content category is addressed by those goals identified in the pastoral formation pillar. Of course the PPF and the standards of accreditation are not isolated content "silos" but are integrated into one formation program, and program and student achievement must reflect integration. (PPF 82, 112-115, 164, 241, ATS ES 1.2.1 and A.1.3.2.).

- The Master of Arts (theology) degree program aims to equip students (seminarians must also be M.Div. candidates) with both a survey knowledge of theology as well as a focus in an area of concentration for study and research writing in Sacred Scripture, Systematic Theology, Church History, or Moral Theology. Its goals, therefore include general knowledge, the ability to do theological research and writing at the Master's level.
- The Bachelor of Sacred Theology degree program aims to provide student (seminarians must also be M.Div. candidates) with a solid, Thomistic, organic, and complete instruction in theology at the basic level. As a first-cycle ecclesiastical academic degree, it enables graduates to pursue further studies in the sacred sciences.
- The Master of Arts in Philosophical Studies degree program goals include (1) a master's level grasp of the history of philosophy and major subject areas in philosophy, (2) understanding of the relationship between faith and reason in the Catholic intellectual tradition, and (3) skill in philosophical research and sustained written argument.

C. 2. Specific Goals / Learning Outcomes of the Non-degree Programs

- The Pre-theology Formation Program aims at an adult level of affective maturity and interpersonal skills, a practical spiritual discipline, an exposure to apostolic life, and intellectual readiness for graduate theological studies. The primary intellectual focus is the study of philosophy which is balanced, comprehensive, integrated, and coherent (PPF, 155). It has the following specific goals:
    - an introduction to the main historical periods, the major figures, and the main fields of philosophy
    - an introduction to major positions taken in the philosophical tradition that have significance for theology
    - the development of analytic and critical abilities
    - the development of a reflective awareness of the relation between reason and faith
    - the acquisition of a foundation for future theological study
- The Ordination Formation Program curriculum integrates the human, pastoral, spiritual, and intellectual formation of future priests according to the demands of the Program of Priestly Formation (PPF). Participation in the four-fold formation program is mandatory. In the course of the ordination program, candidates are expected to earn the Master of Divinity degree (learning outcomes included above).
- The Hispanic Ministry certificate program aims to prepare English-speaking seminarians for ministry with Hispanic communities (seminarians must be M.Div. candidates). Its goal is the equip students with the minimum necessary knowledge and skills to speak Spanish, understand the cultural setting for Hispanic ministry, and to have basic skills for pastoral work with to be effective preachers, teachers, celebrants, counselors, and confessors. Beyond Spanish language proficiency, those in this through a love and understanding of the cultures present in their congregations.

IV. PASTORAL FORMATION

A. Purpose

The pastoral formation program prepares seminarians to become shepherds imbued with the charity of Christ, filled with a missionary spirit, possessing pastoral competence and pastoral skills which are developed through formative, supervised educational ministry experiences that include social service ministry, teaching, ministry to the sick and needy, evangelization, promoting vocations, developing administrative skills, and the ordained ministry of the transitional deacon.

B. Program Components

The central component of the pastoral formation program involves active participation and engagement in a cycle of ministry, which includes supervised ministry under a specifically designed syllabus, theological reflection, regular evaluation, and an annual pastoral workshop for supervisors and seminarians. The Vice Rector for Pastoral Formation conducts an on-site visit for an evaluation while also affording an opportunity to evaluate the supervisor's experience of the program itself.

1. The pre-theology pastoral formation provides introductory supervised experiences with the hungry, the homeless, the sick, and the marginalized, and other opportunities for service and evangelization (PPF, 254)
2. Supervised ministry in catechetics and teaching occurs primarily in Catholic schools and parish based religious education programs. A workshop on teaching methods is offered to assist in the ministry of catechesis and conveying the faith to various members of the ecclesial community (PPF, 239)

3. Supervised ministry in health care/social justice allows for ministerial opportunities in hospitals (private and military), nursing homes, geriatric / psychiatric centers, correctional facilities, homeless centers, ministry to persons with AIDS, campus ministry and immigration services. A workshop is provided yearly on health related issues (PPF, 239).
4. Supervised ministry in evangelization involves parish ministry, secondary education and counseling, diocesan tribunals and vocation offices, campus ministry, RCIA, correctional facilities, evangelization ministries, and other support experiences to assist a man to grow in any areas needed prior to ordination to the transitional diaconate. A workshop on pre-nuptial marriage preparation is offered (PPF, 239).
5. Transitional deacons are required to serve at approved parish placements on assigned weekends. The seminary cooperates with local dioceses in the supervision of deacon placement in order to provide each man an opportunity to integrate his ordained ministry with practical learning opportunities, all the while developing a sense of what it means to be a spiritual leader and evangelizer (PPF, 239).

C. Goals / Expected Outcomes

Sequenced settings provide the arena for the acquisition of a pastoral personality and a set of pastoral competencies to be developed: catechetical ministry, ministry to the sick and needy, and evangelization. Placements for the transitional deacon continue this pastoral formation within a parish and rectory context. Special opportunities are offered for experiences in Hispanic Ministry. In each area seminarians are to show they can teach, collaborate, evangelize, administrate, and lead. They are to develop a sense of themselves as authorized ministers performing their service in the name of the Church. They are to develop the skills demanded of this service. They are to be appropriately aware and responsive to different social classes, races and cultures, age groups and genders, with a special loving concern for the poor. They are to share the mind of the Church regarding the ecumenical dimension of pastoral ministry. They are to be men who, in keeping with "Pastores Dabo Vobis," possess a comprehensive pastoral character (PPF, 237; PDV, 44)

Upon full compliance with the pastoral formation program at Mount St. Mary's, all seminarians should demonstrate a competence in the following areas of pastoral ministry obtained through supervised pastoral experiences year by year as follows:

- Pre-Theology - Various placements: Seminarians shall have a sense of self as servants of the People of God and begin to see how pastoral ministry is integral to priestly formation. This year offers an opportunity for seminarians to integrate social teachings of the church into concrete acts of charity and corporal works of mercy while orienting the man to pastoral activity, basic skills development, and the beginning of theological reflection (PPF, 225).
- First Theology – Catechetics/Teaching Ministry: Seminarians shall have a sense of self as part of the tradition of authorized teachers of the faith, a working knowledge of the role of religious education in the pastoral mission of the Church, a competence for catechesis on the elementary school level, and a basic knowledge of faith development and age appropriate lesson planning. These men will also learn the complexities experienced by teachers and therefore develop compassion for their particular mission in the Church. They will learn how, as future priests, to assist the mission of Catholic education through parochial schools and religious education programs.
- Second Theology - Health Care / Social Justice Ministry: Seminarians shall have a sense of self as extending the charity of Christ to the sick, elderly and those with special needs. They will develop personal interactive skills required for effective listening, an effective pastoral personality and ability to manifest genuine pastoral charity. Seminarians should develop pastoral compassion, while learning how they, as future priests, will assist those who minister in hospitals, prisons, nursing homes and institutions that provide special care for the sick and suffering.

- Third Theology - Evangelization Ministry: Seminarians shall have a sense of self as heralds of Christ, the personal skills required to relate to a diverse population, and an increasing capacity for pastoral leadership and collaborative ministry. In this year, seminarians may have an opportunity to learn how to promote vocations, work with professional institutions that serve other pastoral needs, and even have an opportunity to serve in a parish, prior to diaconate ordination, in order to cultivate personal qualities that they and their formation advisor determine would be helpful before they are called to ordination as transitional deacons (PPF, 239).
- Deacon Placement - Parish Ministry: Deacons shall have a sense of self as servant leaders in the Church, developing their competence in the diaconia of the Word, of the liturgy, and of charity. They will have an opportunity to learn parish administration skills, learn what it means to be part of a pastoral team, assist in appropriate liturgical settings, and develop an understanding of what it means to be a pastoral leader.

Pre-theology Completion Certificates – 2016

CERTIFICATE AND DEGREE PROGRAMS

Pre-Theology Formation

PURPOSE, GOALS, LEARNING OUTCOMES, AND EDUCATIONAL ASSESSMENT

- Purpose of the Program

This two-year formation program has as its purpose the preparation of candidates for entry into the theologate. Candidates who complete the program are so certified.

1. For those who have completed college but lack the philosophical and theological background necessary to enter the theologate, this two-year program will equip them with 30 credit hours of philosophy (PPF, 152-160), plus ecclesiastical Latin, Biblical Greek, and undergraduate theology. These courses will focus on material needed to begin the study of theology.
2. Qualified bachelor degree bearing pre-theology candidates, with the permission of the seminary Academic Dean and the sponsoring diocese, may enroll in the optional Master of Arts in Philosophical Studies (M.A.P.S.) degree program administered by the university's philosophy department. Details below.
3. For those who have not yet completed an undergraduate degree, an individualized curriculum can, in most cases, allow students to complete the academic requirements for pre-theology (PPF, 161) at the same time they complete the requirements for their bachelor's degree.

- Primary Goals/Learning Objectives of the Pre-Theology Program

Formation during pre-theology aims at an adult level of affective maturity and interpersonal skills, a practical spiritual discipline, an exposure to apostolic life, and intellectual readiness for graduate theological studies. The primary intellectual focus is the study of philosophy which is balanced, comprehensive, integrated, and coherent (PPF, 155). It has the following specific goals:

1. an introduction to the main historical periods, the major figures, and the main fields of philosophy
2. an introduction to major positions taken in the philosophical tradition that have significance for theology
3. the development of analytic and critical abilities
4. the development of a reflective awareness of the relation between reason and faith
5. the acquisition of a foundation for future theological study

- Educational Assessment

To receive a Certificate of Completion students must successfully complete the program content/curriculum with a minimum grade point average (gpa) of 2.9 in their philosophy, theology, and language coursework. A concluding exercise measuring student readiness for theological studies is administered under the direction of the Rector and Vice-Rector for Pre-Theology (see Academic Norms). This takes place independently of the student's status as an undergraduate-degree-completer or his candidacy in the Master of Arts in Philosophical Studies (MAPS) degree program.

EDUCATIONAL RESOURCES AND LEARNING STRATEGIES

- Location/Duration

Pre-theology is a two-year full-time residential formation program.

- Distinctive Resources Needed

Seminary faculty and the faculty of the College of Liberal Arts collaborate to offer this program. The spiritual, pastoral, and human formation resources are provided exclusively by the seminary faculty. Pre-theologians are seminarians with full access to the library and information technology, learning services, writing center, ESL support, and all other aspects of campus life.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Ordinarily applicants must possess a bachelor's degree from an accredited institution.

In particular cases, students within two years of completing their bachelor's degree may be admitted as a "degree-completing" pre-theologian if they meet the criteria for transfer students into Mount St. Mary's University.

All pre-theology formation program applicants must submit the completed and signed Seminary Application form and all of the documentation outlined in the application packet for all seminary candidates.

Master of Arts in Philosophical Studies

Purpose

The Master of Arts in Philosophical Studies is a fully-accredited graduate academic degree program, administered by the College of Liberal Arts, and open to qualified pre-theology seminarians. Its purposes are to provide students with competence in the study of philosophy and prepare them for further graduate study. For more details see the Mount St. Mary's University Graduate Catalog on the Mount St. Mary's University website.

Goals

The degree program goals include (1) a master's level grasp of the history of philosophy and major subject areas in philosophy, (2) understanding of the relationship between faith and reason in the Catholic intellectual tradition, and (3) skill in philosophical research and sustained written argument.

Requirements

- Thirty (30) credits of MAPS coursework, up to six (6) of which may be transfer credits. See below for a model curriculum.
- Attainment of 3.0 grade point average in MAPS coursework.
- Demonstrated proficiency in philosophical logic, normally by earning a satisfactory grade in a logic course.
- Approved Preliminary Paper of 10-15 pages (typically as part of second-semester MAPS coursework). This paper allows candidates to demonstrate and practice graduate writing skills relevant to the Qualifying Paper (below), and is evaluated by the course instructor and the MAPS faculty.
- Approved Qualifying Paper of 20-30 pages, plus public presentation. This paper is an opportunity to demonstrate research and sustained argument about a specific philosophical topic. It is more substantial than a typical course paper and engages with relevant primary sources and secondary scholarship. It may, but need not, begin as a revision and extension of a paper originally developed for a class assignment and is evaluated by a committee of MAPS faculty. For more details consult the MAPS Procedures and Norms, available from the program director. Typically a candidate submits a qualifying paper proposal during the final semester of coursework, and submits the paper after completing all MAPS coursework.

Duration

The MAPS degree program normally requires a minimum of two years of study. Seminarians can expect to complete the MAPS degree by the end of their first year of theology study. Candidates must complete all degree requirements within five years of admission, or within three years of completing coursework, whichever comes first (see MAPS Procedures and Norms).

In exceptional cases, the M.A.P.S. program director may admit candidates (with a prior undergraduate cumulative GPA of less than 3.0) based on academic performance in pre-theology classes during their first semester at the Mount.

Ordination Formation

The ordination curriculum integrates the human, pastoral, spiritual, and intellectual formation of future priests according to the demands of the USCCB's Program of Priestly Formation (PPF). Participation in the four-fold formation program described above as the Formation Program (pp.18-30) is mandatory. In the course of the ordination formation program, all seminarians are expected to earn the Master of Divinity degree (PPF, 232). Formation Workshops and Conferences: Each fall and spring semester, students in the ordination curriculum are required, according to their year in the cycle of seminary formation, to participate in the following workshops and conferences:

CLASS YEAR	FALL SEMESTER WORKSHOPS	SPRING SEMESTER CONFERENCES
1st Pre-Theology	• Feedback as a Gift/Formation Goals • Time Management	Conferences are scheduled throughout the spring semester on topics such as: • Friendship • Boundaries • Celibacy and sexuality • Substance abuse • Development of human social skills and manners • Hispanic Ministry • Catholic Relief Services • Crisis management • Death and dying Or other presentations aimed at helping seminarians understand current issues to foster intellectual leadership
2nd Pre-Theology	• Apologetics and Evangelization
1st Theology	• Catechetics • Methodology of Teaching
2nd Theology	• Health Care Ministry • Prison Ministry • Youth Ministry
3rd & 4th Theology	Cycles by year • Liturgical Celebration of the Triduum and the Liturgy of the Hours • Church Art and Architecture • Youth Adult Ministry and Courage

Beginning in 2014, seminarians are required to participate in a program to foster financial literacy which was developed with a grant from The Lilly Foundation. The program has five phases. The first is a 40-hour on-line course in personal finance (undergraduate credit available through the University Bolte School of Business). The remaining four phases consist of computer assisted modules (CAMS): two on parish finances, and one each on parish legal issues and on parish human resource skills.

Fourth-year Theologians are expected to participate in a study-pilgrimage Holy Land Experience which includes an opportunity for their canonical (priesthood preparatory) retreat. The experience is organized by the seminary, under the direction of the Rector, and includes the presence of a seminary professor who provides on-site explanations at locations in Jerusalem, Nazareth and Galilee.

Mount2000+ is a Eucharistic youth retreat for high school students sponsored by Mount St. Mary's Seminary. The retreat was started by the Mount seminarians over 20 years ago in preparation for the Jubilee Year 2000.

1. All levels from pre-theology to fourth participate in this weekend event in which the seminary annually hosts approximately 1500 teenagers.
2. Weekly executive meetings throughout the academic year to plan the event
3. Training seminars are given to the seminarians who participate in given roles
4. Administrative skills are gained as a result of this experience

New Evangelization Club started visiting college campuses on the east coast as a voluntary activity during the fall and spring semester breaks. This is now a mandatory event for all seminarians to participate in at least one such event during their time in the ordination formation program.

The Priesthood Integration Assessment (P.I.A.) is an opportunity for Fourth Year Theologians to practice pastoral conversation skills. The purpose is to give the deacon a sense of how it feels to bring all that he has learned in seminary to bear on those inevitable moments in his pastoral ministry when someone comes to him seeking answers on difficult moral or theological questions. An extensive study guide is distributed to the class the prior spring.

The Pre-theology Integration Assessment (also known as the P.I.A.) similarly assesses the pre-theologians' integration of the philosophy courses and pre-theology formation. It is the culminating assessment for the pre-theology formation program and for those preparing to enter the theologate.

Master of Divinity

PURPOSE, GOALS, LEARNING OUTCOMES, AND EDUCATIONAL ASSESSMENT

- Purpose of the Degree

The Master of Divinity (M.Div.) is a fully-accredited professional ministerial degree. It aims to instill in its students a thorough understanding of the Catholic theological heritage and of its faithful contemporary expression, an enriched practice of the Catholic spiritual life, growth in human maturity, and the acquisition of the skills for effective pastoral ministry. It is designed to be completed by seminarians while they are fulfilling the requirements of the ordination program (above). It can also be adapted to serve as a professional preparation for those who desire to serve the Church in other areas of ministry, but who are not called to the priesthood.

- Primary Goals of the Program

The degree program aims to prepare seminarians to share in a special way in the three-fold office of Christ: teaching the Gospel, celebrating the divine mysteries, and shepherding God's people. The degree demands:

  - a knowledge of the Catholic religious heritage
  - an understanding of the contemporary setting for evangelization
  - the human and spiritual dimensions of priestly formation
  - the pastoral qualities and skills necessary for service as priests

- Degree Requirements / Program Content

Participation in the human, intellectual, pastoral, and spiritual formation program described previously is mandatory. Candidates for the M.Div. degree must maintain a GPA of at least 2.0 while completing no fewer than 90 credits, including the following distribution:

min. credits	course distribution area	min. credits	course distribution area
6	Canon Law (CANL)	3	Pastoral Theology (PATH)
12	Church History (CHUR)	15	Sacred Scripture (SCRP)
6	Liturgy & Spirituality (LITY/SPIR)	15	Systematic Theology (SYST)
12	Moral Theology (MORL)	6	Pastoral Field Education (PFED)

- Learning Outcomes

The Learning Outcomes for all areas of the Formation Program are found above, and in particular the learning outcomes for the Master of Divinity degree program are discussed within section III. Intellectual Formation C.1 Specific Goals/Learning Outcomes in the Degree Programs.

- Educational Assessment

Details of the strategies for the educational assessment of candidates in all areas of formation are found in the "Formation Program: Assessment Plan" located in the Seminary Faculty Resources.

Master of Arts (theology)

PURPOSE, GOALS, LEARNING OUTCOMES, AND EDUCATIONAL ASSESSMENT

- Purpose of the Degree

The Master of Arts (theology) degree program offers a fully-accredited graduate degree (Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools, Association of Theological Schools) Its purpose is to provide a student with competence in the study of theology as a scientific discipline and to serve as a step toward further graduate study. The degree complies with all relevant standards: ATS General Institutional Standards, Educational Standards applicable to all Degree Programs, and in particular Standard D "Basic Programs oriented toward General Theological Studies."

- Primary Goals of the Program

The Master of Arts (theology) degree program aims to equip students (seminarians must also be M.Div. candidates) with both a survey knowledge of theology as well as a focus in an area of concentration for study and research writing in Sacred Scripture, Systematic Theology, Church History, or Moral Theology. Its goals, therefore include general knowledge and the ability to do theological research and writing at the Master's level.

- Degree Requirements
  - A minimum of forty-eight (48) graduate credit hours in a curriculum determined by the area of concentration selected by the candidate from among Church History, Moral Theology, Sacred Scripture, and Systematic Theology (see details below).

[8] To be considered transferable, credits must be earned with a minimum grade of "C" (2.0), from an appropriately accredited graduate-level institution recognized by the U.S. Department of Education or by the Congregation for Catholic Education in Rome. Transfer credits are not calculated into the final GPA calculations for the M.Div. degree.

- A minimum GPA of 2.5 in four specified 501-level core/foundational courses and a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0 in all courses applied to the M.A.(theology) degree.
- Foreign language reading proficiency is required only if such competence is demanded by the proposed research projects.
- Satisfactory completion of a comprehensive examination (described in the Academic Norms section of the Seminarian Handbook located on the Seminary website).
- Successful completion of three one-credit directed research writing projects, and their concomitant two-credit electives, with no grade below 3.0 (described in the Academic Norms).
- In lieu of two of the directed research writing projects, a student, with the permission of the department chair, may write a thesis (described in the Academic Norms) for which six (6) credits are granted.

- Learning Outcomes

The Master of Arts (theology) degree program candidates will gain both survey knowledge of theology as well as a focus in an area of concentration for study and research writing in Sacred Scripture, Systematic Theology, Church History, or Moral Theology, and demonstrate the ability to do theological research and writing at the Master's level.

- Educational Assessment

The attainment of a minimum 3.0 gpa on coursework required for the concentration, completion of the comprehensive examination, and the approval of the three completed research projects (or one project and the thesis option) together comprise the summative evaluation instrument which ensures that candidates have met the degree program goals.

Degree Distinctions at Mount St. Mary's Seminary

The Master of Divinity is a fully-accredited basic professional degree oriented towards ministerial leadership. Designed to foster basic theological understanding and develop pastoral competence on the part of students preparing for ministry, it is the normative degree to prepare seminarians for ordained ministry. It includes a thorough study of the Catholic theological heritage and its faithful contemporary expression and a supervised practice of ministry. The degree conforms to the standards of the Association of Theological Schools (ATS). All seminarians entering first theology are enrolled in the M.Div. program.

The Master of Arts (theology) is a fully-accredited graduate academic degree. It provides students with competence in the study of theology as a scientific discipline. It includes both the attainment of survey knowledge of theology as well as a focus in an area of concentration for study and research writing in Sacred Scripture, Systematic Theology, Church History, or Moral Theology. Conforming to the standards of the ATS, it can be of particular value for those interested in teaching positions or who hope to enter Ph.D. programs.

The Bachelor of Sacred Theology provides the student with a solid, Thomistic, organic, and complete instruction in theology at the basic level. As a first-cycle ecclesiastical academic degree, it enables graduates to pursue further studies in the sacred sciences. The degree is a prerequisite for further pursuit of an ecclesiastical licentiate degree, and is also accepted for further study in universities of the European Union where the M.Div. is not recognized.

Dual Degree Candidacy: Qualified students at Mount St. Mary's Seminary may enroll in one of the two dual-degree programs. They are each offered with its own focus, entrance requirements, curriculum, and concluding exercise. Students may choose between an M.Div./M.A. (theology) combination or an M.Div./S.T.B. combination.

Hispanic Ministry certificate

Purpose and Goals

Mount St. Mary's Seminary serves dioceses throughout the United States, including many who find themselves increasingly enriched and challenged by Hispanic population growth rates as high as 80 percent. To prepare men to face this new pastoral need and opportunity, the Mount offers a certificate program in Hispanic Ministry designed to prepare English-speaking seminarians for ministry with Hispanic communities. This integrated program provides seminarians with specific formation for priestly ministry in the growing Hispanic community in the United States. The curriculum integrates language, cultural studies, pastoral field education, and liturgical experiences. Future priests must be able to do more than celebrate Mass by reading a Spanish text. They also must be effective preachers, teachers, celebrants, counselors, and confessors. Beyond language proficiency, they must be true shepherds of the flock, able to exercise genuine leadership within the community through a love and understanding of the cultures present in their congregations. The certificate is awarded only upon completion of the M.Div. degree/Ordination Formation program.

Content

The requirements for a Certificate in Hispanic Ministry are Spanish language proficiency at the level of PATH 980 (or the equivalent) and one advanced Spanish language elective, one pastoral theory elective, at least one other Hispanic culture elective, and pastoral field education and liturgical practica as described below:

Spanish Language Summer Immersion Program

Purpose

In recognition that seminarians need to be prepared minister to the largest, youngest, and fastest growing Catholic population in the United States, Mount St. Mary's Seminary uses Probigua, a Spanish language immersion program located in Antigua Guatemala, Guatemala. This program offers seminarians who have already begun to learn Spanish the chance to perfect their language skills and to get to know the people and culture of Guatemala.

Immersion

Priests and seminarians from around the United States travel to Guatemala to learn Spanish as well as Hispanic cultural practices. The length of time spent at the program can be tailored to an individual's needs or preferences and lasts anywhere from 6 to 10 weeks. The seminarians live with families or individuals but they also would have daily opportunities for common Liturgy of the Hours, Holy Hour and Mass. Classes are conducted tutorial-style, one-on-one for 4 to 5 hours each day, 5 days a week.

Priests and Spanish language professors are sent down to the program over the summer to assess the program and the students' progress. An ability to speak Spanish and familiarity with Hispanic culture is of great value to future priests.

Instruction

Academia de Español PROBIGUA (Proyecto Bibliotecas Guatemala) is a not-for-profit organization which provides:

- An assessment of the seminarian's present language proficiency.
- An individualized educational plan tailored to the seminarian's particular needs and goals.
- Selection of a professionally-trained teacher based upon best-match criteria between student and teacher. The student generally stays with the same teacher for at least two weeks, but changes can be made at the student's request.
- Choices of instructional approach, learning materials, and field trips in order to maximize the student's skills.

- Preparation for the exams "DELE" (Diplomas de Español como Lengua Extranjera, Instituto Cervantes, España)
- Excursions to archeological sites, Mayan and colonial ruins, museums, and traditional festivities.
- Movies and documentaries to facilitate discussions about educational topics.
- Group workshops to learn about Guatemalan history, culture, folklore, politics, economics, literature.

Location

Now commonly referred to as just Antigua (or La Antigua), the city located in the central highlands of Guatemala was one of the grand colonial capitals of the Spanish Empire in America from the 16th to the 18th centuries. Under the name Santiago de los Caballeros de Guatemala, it was the original "Guatemala City." A disastrous major earthquake in 1773 destroyed or damaged most of the city, and the Spanish Crown ordered the Capital moved to a new city, what became the modern Guatemala City. In 1776 this old city was ordered abandoned. Not everyone left, but from bustling capital it became a provincial town, filled with the ruins of former glory. It became known as "Antigua Guatemala," meaning "Old Guatemala." La Antigua was declared a World Heritage site by UNESCO in 1997.

English as a Second Language

Mission

The mission of the Mount St. Mary's Seminary ESL Program is to provide English language instruction for students preparing for ordination through the Seminary's Master of Divinity, Master of Arts (Theology), or S.T.B. degree programs and for students in ongoing pastoral formation. Through the program's instruction in writing, grammar, pronunciation, speaking, listening comprehension, reading comprehension, vocabulary development, and United States culture, students will develop English language communication skills effective not only in academic settings but also in preparation for pastoral ministry.

About Our Program

The ESL Program at Mount St. Mary's Seminary is unique. We offer individualized English instruction that focuses on each student's particular language needs. Class sizes are very small, with most instruction delivered in one-on-one student/instructor classes. Additionally, all instructors are native English-speakers with professional training and experience in teaching ESL/ESOL/EFL.

Our program emphasizes the acquisition of academic and theological English needed to succeed in a U.S. Seminary and in one's field of ministry. We have a state-of-the-art language lab that helps students master the pronunciation and listening comprehension skills integral for ministerial success. We also provide a Peer Tutoring Program and classroom instruction that focus on everyday English and U.S. culture, knowledge essential for future pastoral ministry. (For a listing of all ESL courses offered, see below, p. 59-62).

Frequently Asked Questions about the ESL program:

How many hours a week will be devoted to ESL instruction?

- Placement tests are administered upon a student's arrival. Test results will determine the exact courses and number of hours of ESL instruction per week.

Can I take regular seminary classes while I am enrolled in the ESL program?

- Yes. Depending on the number of hours that need to be devoted to ESL, our students take the same courses as other seminarians. In special circumstances the core Ordination program may be extended to allow for sufficient support during the first two years at the seminary.

Can credits earned in ESL classes be applied toward the Ordination program?

- Yes. The credits earned in ESL classes can, in some cases, satisfy the requirement of elective credits, but in most cases students are encouraged to take as many theology courses as possible.

Does the seminary have a language lab?

- Yes. A generous grant from Our Sunday Visitor has provided the seminary with a state of the art language lab to aid ESL students in perfecting oral communication skills.

Will I receive support in obtaining a student visa?

- Yes. The seminary registrar is authorized to issue the SEVIS-generated Form I-20 needed to obtain the international student visa. Contact: tigner@msmary.edu

ACADEMIC POLICIES

Academic Integrity

Students, in their attitudes and activities, are expected to exhibit due respect for matters of faith and morals, for civil and Church authority, and for the rights and dignity of others. A student's life must manifest personal integrity and discipline.

The seminary reserves the right to take appropriate action regarding students whose conduct is not in accord with expected levels of integrity or is detrimental to the students' or the seminary's best interest. Students are expected to work under an honor system in taking examinations and in preparing papers, reports, or other class assignments. Violation of this honor system is considered a serious offense. Source materials and citations used in the preparation of papers are to be clearly indicated by proper notations and credits. Plagiarism is a serious offense that may result in loss of academic credit and dismissal. Additional details of this policy as well as other Academic Norms are published in the Seminarian Handbook which is located on the seminary website.

Pass/Fail, Audits, Withdrawals, Probation

- Pastoral field education placements, formation seminars, and practicum courses (Homiletics, Mass, Pastoral Music) are graded "pass/fail." All other courses taken for credit are awarded a letter grade.
- No course may be taken for "audit" (AU) without the approval of the seminary Academic Dean. While auditors are not required to write papers or take exams, they are expected to attend class and be prepared to participate fully. Professors will determine if the "audit" has been met and the grade of "AU" noted on the transcript.
- Further details regarding withdrawals, incompletes, failures, and probation are all given in the Seminarian Handbook.

Transcripts/Grade Reports

Upon the expressed request of the student (in compliance with FERPA regulations), official transcripts are sent to a designated school, institution, or agency. Currently is no charge for this service, but no transcripts will be issued on behalf of students with outstanding accounts. Seminarians may now submit their transcript request through our vendor Parchment. Those who attended the Mount since the mid-1980's may request a securely delivered e-transcript (or the traditional paper copy). Those who attended earlier (and therefore do not electronic academic records available) must request a paper copy. Contact the Seminary Registrar (tigner@msmary.edu) if you need your student id number to set up your Parchment account, or if you have any questions about obtaining either official or unofficial copies of your transcript.

At the end of each semester, grade reports or unofficial transcripts are issued to the student, the formation advisor and (in the case of seminarians) the sponsoring diocese or religious community.

Such a story is related to the American experience and tradition, and the course's final consideration is the role of the Catholic faith in a culture where, officially, truth is subjective, and the government is removed from such definition. The course attempts to build upon the European historical background the student has already received, to especially see the relationship between American Catholicism and the Western European experience, as well as the uniqueness that is our faith's contribution to the American experiment. This course can be taken for credit more than once as long as the topic studied varies. Recent topics included:

- Theology in the History of the Church: Peter Lombard's *Sentences (fall 2016)
  Peter Lombard's Four Books of Sentences, written around 1150, became the principle textbook for the study of theology at medieval universities. The book sits at an inflection point of the church's history insofar as it draws upon patristic and early medieval theological traditions for its sources and fashions tradition into a foundation for scholastic theological enterprise. Students in the course will engage Lombard's work and will develop an appreciation for theological traditions that comprise the Sentences, even as they cultivate an appreciation for the new theological traditions emerging from the study of tradition.
- Church History & Theology in Poetry: Dante's Divine Comedy (spring 2016)
  In this course students will read and analyze Dante's epic poem The Divine Comedy, a widely regarded masterpiece of world literature and an intellectual bridge between the Middle Ages and the Renaissance. Students will explore Dante's arresting depiction of key players from Church History and concentrate on his careful and learned theological evaluation of each player's role in salvation history. Moreover, students will reflect upon the artistic and aesthetic merits of Dante's imaginative world and consider ways in which his work suggests an effective and memorable presentation of Church History and Theology to people in the medieval, modern and contemporary world.
- The Inquisition and Crusade (spring 2015)
  The course will examine the history and understanding of Inquisition and Crusade in the Church. We will seek to understand what happened, why it happened, and with what consequences. During the semester students will read studies of the Inquisition and the Crusade in order to understand their historical contexts and modern interpretations. Finally, students will explore critical ideas or moments from the Inquisition and/or the Crusades in order to evaluate some aspect of its liturgical, theological, ethical, and pastoral impact on Western Christianity.
- St. Augustine's *Confessions (spring 2014)
  Augustine of Hippo (354-430) is celebrated as one of four key Western Fathers of the Church. His writings and thought shaped much of the thinking of Western Christianity on theological and moral topics. He composed his Confessions as something of an apologia for his fellow Christians in North Africa upon his election as a bishop. In this course students will carefully read and examine the Confessions, setting the work in its complicated historical context, and tease out of it Augustine's influential views on God, man, religion, and the church. Students will be required to read and discuss the writings of his famous Doctor of the Church as well as write papers on Augustine's thought. Discussions, presentations, and papers will include treatment of the sacramental and pastoral life of the Catholic priest.
- The Modern Papacy (spring 2013)
  Beginning with the treatment of the Petrine Office, as well as an overview of the Church's relation to the World, "The Modern Papacy" will be a survey course covering the major/salient points in the papacies of John XXIII, Paul VI, John Paul II, and Benedict XVI, with special emphasis on the convoking and implementation of the Second Vatican Council, the theological confrontation surrounding Humanae Vitae, the global evangelization and Theology of the Body given the Church by John Paul II, and the theological vision of Joseph Ratzinger /Benedict XVI.

We will focus on how the Bible was brought together, how it was studied, and how it was transmitted across the early Christian and medieval worlds. In the early and medieval church, hagiography was crucial for transmitting doctrinal and, especially, moral information from one generation to the next. Through the course of the semester students will read and discuss the crucial "bestsellers" of early church hagiography as well as less popular texts in order to understand both the core content and broad range of the tradition. Particular attention will be paid to which ideas seem to endure over time and across cultures and which ideas change or develop. The course will be primary source driven and discussion intensive.

This course can be taken for credit more than once as long as the topic studied varies. Offerings include:

- Marriage and Family in the Early Church (fall 2016)
  This elective on the Fathers of the Church proposes an overview of the first three centuries of the Church's life, and the importance of Patristic writings to emerge in those years. The course will examine the contributions of each of the Church's Doctors in their own time, for the time period they were named, and for the entire life of the Church. Rather than a chronological survey of the Doctor's themselves, the course will trace the history of the various papacies which bestowed the Doctoral Hood on them. In the case of Therese of Lisieux in the late twentieth century, a more in-depth look will be given to the story of how her designation came about. The course will, therefore, cover numerous periods of Church History, along with the spiritual contributions of each of these sainted men and women.

During this course we will consider the approaches to preaching advanced by Augustine and Gregory. Then we will analyze the method and strategy of their preaching. Finally we will evaluate examples of their preaching.

Study of the important primary texts from the three religions, analyze their content, and evaluation the relationships between them.

Moral Theology

MORL 501 Fundamental Moral Theology I (3)

Contextualizing our study within the Church's universal call to holiness, we will in this class begin with the theistic underpinnings to all moral/ethical discussion and then move on to the Old Testament, Gospel and Pauline understanding of the moral life. We will then continue on through the patristic period of moral theology, with a particular focus on the moral insight of St. Augustine. Finally, we will come to St. Thomas' masterful treatment of morality in the I-II and the II-II. Our goal, therefore, will be not only to identify and master the key moral concepts used by God's people from the Old Testament to the golden age of Scholasticism; it will also be to appreciate the development in understanding God, Christ, and the human person and how these developments shaped the moral language and interests of the great theologians. Required for the S.T.B., M.Div., and M.A. (theology) degree programs.

MORL 502 Fundamental Moral Theology II (3)

Continuing our historically guided survey of Moral Theology, we will finish up our thomistic discussion with Aquinas' treatment of the Theological Virtues. We will then proceed through the nominalist, reformed, and manualist/casuist attitudes to Morality, with a particular emphasis on the weaknesses inherent these models. Moving on to the twentieth century, we will look at Magisterial developments of Moral Theology in such landmark documents as Gaudium et Spes, Humane Vitae, and Veritatis Splendor. Deviations from authentic Catholic Moral Theology, such as teleological ethics (consequentialism and proportionalism), fundamental option theory, liberation theology, dissent, and deontological models divorced from human nature will be examined. Finally, we will conclude with an elucidation of fundamental tools of moral analysis, such as double-effect, kinds and degrees of cooperation, the principle of totality, etc., as well as their proper (and improper) application. Required for the S.T.B. and M.Div. degree programs, and for Moral Theology concentrators in the M.A. (theology) program.

MORL 602 Justice and the Social Teachings of the Church (3)

This second year core course examines magisterial teaching on social justice, with special attention to the central themes and principles of that doctrine, as applicable globally and to the American scene in particular, so as to enable the future priest to be an advocate for the social teachings of the Church. The course includes the commutative justice and potential parts of justice. Required for the S.T.B. and M.Div. degree programs, and for Moral Theology concentrators in the M.A. (theology) program.

MORL 801 Catholic Medical and Sexual Morality (3)

This fourth year core course and STB requirement examines in detail and applies Catholic moral teaching on issues of medical and sexual morality to the concrete questions of our own day. The major documents of the Holy See will be reviewed and arguments presented to equip students to summarize, explain and defend the Church's teaching on medical ethics and on the requirements of chastity for unmarried persons and homosexual persons. Particular attention is paid to the norms and arguments supportive of the norms of the most recent edition of the USCCB "Ethical and Religious Directives for Catholic Health Care Services," as well as the norms and arguments supportive of the norms of Catholic magisterial teaching on respect for human life and human sexuality. Required for the S.T.B. and M.Div. degree programs, and for Moral Theology concentrators in the M.A. (theology) program.

MORL 802 Sacrament of Marriage and Pastoral Care (3)

This course provides a theology of marriage that emphasizes both its natural goodness and its sacramentality. This theology is anchored in Sacred Scripture and Tradition, and serves as the context for a treatment of conjugal morality. In the first portion of the course, students will review the historical and theological developments pertaining to the sacrament of marriage, beginning with its biblical roots. The development of the sacrament of marriage then is traced: from the patristic era, through the Council of Trent, to key magisterial documents of the twentieth and twentieth-first centuries. Additionally, this course equips students for marriage preparation and to offer pastoral care to engaged couples, married couples and their families. Required for the S.T.B., M.Div., and M.A. (theology) degree programs.

Elective Courses: M.A. (theology) degree candidates concentrating in Moral Theology, concomitant with elective requirement, take an additional one-credit directed research course for inclusion in the Research Projects Portfolio required for the degree.

MORL 906 Survey of U.S. Catholic Moral Theologians (2)

This seminar will explore post-conciliar Catholic fundamental moral theology in the United States. Much contemporary US Catholic moral theological arena is characterized by polarization. This seminar will explore similarities and differences on such issues as the use of scripture in moral theology, the place of experience in moral reflection, the centrality of the magisterium in matters moral, conscience, the place of Christ in Christian moral theology, etc. Required for all M.A. (theology) concentrators in moral theology.

Attention is given to the structure of the human act, the passions in particular, and habits. Required for all S.T.B. candidates.

MORL 908 Readings from the Summa II (3)

The course is a continuation of readings in the Summa, 2a2ae. Though useful, MORL 907 is not a prerequisite. In the spring semester the study continues with the period just prior to Vatican II and continues to the present. Sacred Scripture

SCRP 501 Introduction to Scripture: Wisdom and Psalms (3)

Students are introduced to principles and methods of Catholic biblical interpretation: inspiration and inerrancy; the formation of the canon; the relationship of the Old and New Testament, biblical typology, etc. The development of biblical manuscripts and translations is covered, as is a survey of the history of biblical interpretation over the centuries is included. Students are introduced to various methods of biblical exegesis, both ancient (e.g., allegory) and modern / contemporary (e.g., form, source, redaction criticism) and informed of their strengths and limitations, as per the Church's Scripture documents. Students will apply their knowledge from the course in the writing of an exegesis paper on a biblical text; specifically, on a passage from either the Psalms or Wisdom literature. Required for the S.T.B., M.Div., and M.A. (theology) degree programs.

SCRP 502 Pentateuch and the Historical Books (3)

This course provides the student with an introduction to the Pentateuch and Historical Books of the Old Testament (Gen-Deut; Joshua, Judges, I, II Sam, I, II Ki, I, II Chron, Ezra, Neh., I, II Macc.). This course follows SCRP 501 in the curriculum. Students will read through each of the biblical book with emphasis upon those passages contained in the Sunday Lectionary. The theological, historical and literary features of each book will be discussed, along with their larger contributions in the canon of Scripture. Through careful study, students will gain a clearer understanding of these biblical books in order to preach and teach them effectively. Students will apply their knowledge from the course in the writing of an exegesis paper on a discrete passage from one of these biblical books. Required for the S.T.B. and M.Div. degree programs, and Sacred Scripture concentrators in M.A. (theology) degree program.

SCRP 601 The Prophets (3)

An introduction to the Hebrew prophets of the Old Testament. After briefly dealing with the general nature of prophecy and the non-writing prophets, the course will treat the prophets in chronological order: pre-exilic prophets, exilic prophets and post-exilic prophets. Each prophet will be studied in his historical and political context before examining his main teaching and theology and reading select passages from his book. Preference will be giving to passages in the Sunday and weekday lectionaries. Each passage will be read firstly at the literal level, and then, only if appropriate, will be read Christologically. Thus Christ and the Church will be seen anticipated in the Prophets. The apocalyptic material will also be studied, giving attention to the lectionary passages, which can be found principally in Isaiah 24-27; Zechariah, parts of Joel, Daniel and also elsewhere in the Prophets. Required for the S.T.B. and M.Div. degree programs, and Sacred Scripture concentrators in M.A. (theology) degree program.

SCRP 602 Matthew and Mark (3)

This course is an introduction to the synoptic Gospels of Matthew and Mark. Both Gospels will be read in their entirety by the student. Both Gospels will be treated in their entirety via an overview survey. Selected passages will be given a detailed exegesis. The course will enable the student to gain some familiarity with and competence in the methodology of Catholic Biblical interpretation. The student will be given a general introduction to each book under consideration: a discussion of authorship, dating, provenance, overall purpose, distinctive themes and theological emphases, and literary structure. Within the overall discussion of the synoptic problem, source criticism, tradition criticism, and redaction criticism will be discussed. The student will become familiar with a number of commentaries on the Gospels of Matthew and Mark–notably some commentaries by prominent English-speaking Catholic scholars–in the process of writing exegesis papers. Another emphasis in the course is to give the student some appreciation of the importance of Old Testament traditions and background in understanding and interpreting the New. Required for the S.T.B. and M.Div. degree programs.

SCRP 701 Gospel of Luke and Acts of the Apostles (3)

This course is an introduction to the Gospel of Luke and Acts of the Apostles which are treated as Luke-Acts, i.e. a double work authored by Luke. Following questions of authorship, dating, and Lukan theology, the course examines select passages of the Gospel, especially the lectionary passages, examining what distinguishes this Gospel from the other Synoptics, both theologically and from a literary point of view. Items receiving particular attention include the Infancy Narratives, the Passion and Resurrection Narratives, Parables, Miracles, the Sermon on the Plain and the Travel Narrative. Acts is studied as "Volume Two" of Luke's double work and the flowering of the distinctive theology of the Gospel. In Acts the gospel spreads out from Jerusalem, then to Judea and Samaria, and finally to the end of the earth. A major component in the theology of Acts is justification of the baptism of Gentiles without prior circumcision. Required for the S.T.B., M.Div., and M.A. (theology) degree programs.

SCRP 702 Gospel of John, Letters of John, Book of Apocalypse (3)

The course is an introduction to the Gospel and Letters of John and to the Book of Apocalypse. In the Book of Signs attention will be given to Jesus as the fulfillment of the Sabbath and the Jewish Feasts of Passover, Tabernacles and Dedication. Sacramental theology throughout the Gospel will receive attention, e.g. baptismal theology in many chapters; Eucharistic theology in John 6; sacerdotal theology in John 17. Following the Gospel the Letters of John will be exegeted and there will be an overview of Johannine theology. The course will conclude with an introduction to apocalypticism and the Book of Apocalypse which will be followed by exegesis of the Book of Apocalypse pericope by pericope. Required for the S.T.B. and M.Div. degree programs.

SCRP 801 The Pauline Literature and Pastoral Letters (3)

This course is an introduction to the Letters traditionally attributed to St. Paul as well as a brief introduction to the Letter to the Hebrews. An introduction to the life and theology of St. Paul, drawn from both the Book of Acts and Paul's letters, will begin the course. This will give the student some historical perspective on Paul's conversion and missionary activity as well as an overview of the main contours of his theology. A general introduction will be given for each letter: a discussion of authorship, dating, provenance, overall purpose, distinctive themes and theological emphases, and literary structure. At the heart of the course is the endeavor to equip students with a methodology for interpreting and understanding the Pauline Literature, giving the student a facility in using Paul's writings in preaching, teaching, and personal spirituality. These interpretive skills will be honed via the five exegesis papers and through detailed classroom analysis of select portions from each letter that will give the student training in Catholic exegetical methodology. Required for the S.T.B. and M.Div. degree programs, and Sacred Scripture concentrators in M.A. (theology) degree program.

Elective Courses: M.A. (theology) degree candidates concentrating in Sacred Scripture, concomitant with the elective requirement, take an additional one-credit directed research course for inclusion in the Research Projects Portfolio required for the degree.

SCRP 914 -915 Themes in Biblical Theology (2)

This course will afford the opportunity for students to study one specialized topic, or several interrelated topics, which are treated more generally in the core courses in Sacred Scripture (e.g., the priesthood, the apostles) in much greater depth. This course can be taken for credit more than once as long as the topic studied varies. Recent offerings have included:

- Vocation and Sacred Scripture (spring 2016)
  This course is a study of the vocation/call narratives of individuals in the Old and New Testaments, examining their initial call, their response and living out of that call, difficulties encountered and fidelity to the call. This will enable us to build up a theology of vocation. Just some of those whose calls and responses will be studied are Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, Joseph, Moses, Joshua, Gideon, Samson, Samuel, Saul, David, Solomon, Elijah, Elisha, Amos, Isaiah, Jeremiah, Zechariah, Mary, the apostles, and Paul. Many individuals in the Bible experienced similar reactions when called e.g. fear and doubt, and they needed divine reassurance to enable them to respond. All were called at different stages in their lives but their life before their call equipped them with gifts to respond better to their call. This course will contain much that will be useful if you are ever asked to give a vocation talk or become the Vocation Director of your diocese.
- Biblical Mysteries of the Rosary (fall 2015, fall 2012)
  This course will focus on the twenty mysteries of the Rosary – as profound truths of the Word of God. As individual mysteries are studied in their biblical context, their meaning will deepen and intensify: "If received in this way, the word of God can become part of…something already well known. It is not a matter of recalling information but allowing God to speak" (John Paul II, RVM, 30). Comprehension and contemplation of the Rosary's mysteries, rooted in God's holy Word, are at the heart of this Scripture elective.
- The House of God: A Biblical Theology of the Temple (fall 2014)
  This course explores the mystery and significance of "the Temple" in the OT and NT. Beginning with the "temple of Creation" in Genesis, the history and theology of Israel's tabernacle and early shrines are explored, and their central place in the life of God's people. The centralization of worship in the Jerusalem Temple is central to the course, with an emphasis on the role of the Temple in the Davidic covenant. The "theology of the Temple" is studied (Holy of Holies, sacrifices, liturgy, etc.) From the destruction of Solomon's Temple to its destruction, rebuilding, Herod's Temple, the history and theology of Israel related to the Temple is covered, leading ultimately to Jesus' encounters and teachings in the Temple (e.g. "Destroy this temple …")

- Call and Vocation in Scripture (spring 2014)
  The course examines the vocation/call narratives of the Old and New Testaments to build up a theology of vocation. The Old Testament section examines the vocations of Abraham, Moses, Samuel, David, Solomon, Elijah, Elisha, Isaiah, Jeremiah, and Ezekiel and how they lived out their calling. The New Testament section begins by examining the annunciations to Zechariah and Mary, and the annunciation to Mary will be seen as her vocation. The apostles received two calls, their first call to be disciples, and a second call later forming them into the college of the Twelve preparing them for priesthood. Peter receives a special calling to strengthen the twelve. The vocation of Paul is recounted in Acts and his own writings and the course will conclude by looking at the vocation of some early Christians. Significant interaction will be expected during the course since reflecting on the vocations of these biblical individuals and their living out of their vocations is of assistance to young men discerning a vocation today.
- Death and Resurrection in the OT and NT (fall 2013)
  The aim of this course is to provide the seminarian with a graduate-level introduction to the concepts of "death" and "resurrection" in both the Old and New Testaments. What, in Jesus' day, did people believe happened at death? What was beyond the grave? This elective in Sacred Scripture explores these fundamental mysteries in biblical theology.
- Biblical Christology of Pope Benedict XVI (fall 2011)
  This Scripture elective explores the biblical theology of Joseph Ratzinger, Pope Emeritus Benedict XVI. Drawing upon recurrent themes such as "covenant," "creation," "typology," "kingdom" and "community," this course provides the seminarian with an introduction to the Holy Father's rich biblical thought. The major emphasis will focus upon two of the Holy Father's publications while pope, namely: (1) Jesus of Nazareth (Vol. I and II); and (2) Post-Synodal Apostolic Exhortation Verbum Domini ("Word of the Lord").
- The Holy Land and the Seminarian (spring 2011)
  The aim of this elective course is to assist the future priest in deepening his understanding and gratitude for "the fifth gospel," i.e. Holy Land, in order to better proclaim Jesus of Nazareth, the Lord and Redeemer of the world.
- Vocation and Priesthood in the Scriptures (spring 2013/spring 2012-online/fall 2010-online/fall 2008/fall 2007)
  An exegetical reading of passages in the Scriptures on vocation, and the Letter to the Hebrews. The first section examines the vocation narratives of the Old and New Testaments to build up a theology of vocation; the second section examines the idea and office of the priesthood in the Old and New Testaments. This will involve tracing the history of the Jewish priesthood and seeing how the priesthood of Jesus and his New Testament ministers has replaced the Jewish priesthood of the Old Covenant. This section involves a study of the Letter to the Hebrews offering interpretation valuable for a seminarian preparing for priesthood, examining why this letter appropriately describes Jesus as priest, the only document of the New Testament to do so.
- Scriptural Apologetics (spring 2010)
  This course is an introductory study of apologetics, the reasoned defense of the Catholic faith, covering both the history of apologetics and the contemporary new apologetics movement today, concentrating on contemporary Scriptural defense of the Catholic faith. The course will be respectful towards other faiths. Where appropriate, when discussing tenets of the faith misunderstood by non-Catholics, the course will examine the Sitz-im-Leben that led other faiths to their theological position and respectfully reply with Catholic theology to clarify.

SCRP 916-918 Exegetical Studies of Selected Texts (2)

This course is an in-depth study of selected books of the Bible (e.g., Hebrews, Psalms) or a selected genre from the Scriptures (e.g., the Parables, Sermons on the Mount/Plain), with special emphasis on interpretation valuable for the ministry of the priest. This course can be taken for credit more than once as long as the topic studied varies. Recent offerings have included:

- Letter to the Hebrews (spring 2015)
  This course is an in depth study of the Letter to the Hebrews offering interpretation valuable for a seminarian preparing for priesthood. To put the letter in context, the course commences by examining the Levitical priesthood of the Old Covenant which will make the uniqueness of Jesus' high priesthood of the New Covenant all the more obvious. The course will examine the why this letter describes Jesus as priest, the only document of the New Testament to do so and the appropriateness of describing Jesus as high priest. The course concludes by looking at Jesus' sharing his priesthood with the apostles.
- Interpreting the Psalms (spring 2013)
  The course will first give a general introduction to the Psalter, giving some consideration to issues such as authorship, dating, and the Psalter's compilation. The course will then turn to focus primarily on introducing the student to a sound, Catholic interpretive methodology for interpreting the Psalms. A number of individual psalms will be closely examined, treating matters such as historical context; literary, rhetorical, poetic, and theological features; as well as the applicability of each psalm to one's own spiritual life and to the pastoral ministry. All of the different types of psalms will be considered, for example: lament, wisdom, acrostic, praise and thanksgiving, penitential, royal, and processional.
- Studies in the Parables of Jesus (spring 2009/spring 2008/fall 2005)
  The course will consist of a careful reading and interpretation of a number of Parables from Matthew, Mark, and Luke. A close examination of these parables will greatly improve the student's familiarity with and understanding of these important sections of the Gospels as well as provide him with a deeper awareness of the exegetical and hermeneutical methodology of the Biblical Sciences.
- Acts of the Apostles (spring 2009/spring 2008/spring 2005)
  This course is an in depth study in the Acts of the Apostles offering interpretation valuable for future preaching. While dealing with literary analysis of the text, the course will concentrate on the theology of the book proceeding in an orderly fashion from beginning to end of the book. This course will also make good use of narrative criticism showing the many links each passage has with the remainder of the book.
- Studies in the Sermon on the Mount (spring 2007)
  This course will consist of a careful reading and interpretation of the Sermon on the Mount (Matt. 5-7). Portions of Luke's Sermon on the Plain (Luke 6:17-49) will be treated in conjunction with our analysis of Matthew 5-7. A close examination of these passages will greatly improve the student's familiarity with and understanding of these important sections of the Gospels as well as provide him with a deeper awareness of the exegetical and hermeneutical methodology of the Biblical Sciences. The Beatitudes will be treated at some length, keyed to the CCC (#'s 1716-29). Pope Benedict's treatment of the Sermon on the Mount and the Lord's Prayer will be integrated into our study.

Spiritual Theology

SPIR 501 Christian Spirituality (3)

This course covers the origins and development of Christian spirituality, with attention to its sources, principles and practices through the centuries. The direct and integral relationship between sound theology and spirituality and the acceptance of genuine human nature as created and redeemed by God are kept in focus. The first half of the course focuses on the historical emergence of Christian spirituality, distinguishing causes and effects in various cultural expressions. The second half of the course highlights dimensions of the Christian spiritual tradition appropriate for priestly spirituality and ministry. Offered from a Catholic perspective, the entire course encourages the integration of spiritual reading, personal prayer, private devotion, liturgical prayer and the pastoral application of spirituality for future priestly ministry. - St. Therese of Lisieux (fall 2013 and fall 2011)
  An examination into the life and times of Therese of Lisieux, called by Pope Pius XI "the greatest Saint of modern times." In addition, the course will concentrate on the major contributions of Therese to the Spiritual Life, including her "Little Way" of sanctification, as well as her view of this life and Eternity, her conception of faith, prayer and suffering. Therese as a "saint for the pessimist" will be studied, along with her writings on the Priesthood, the Holy Eucharist and the Blessed Virgin Mary. Final topics discussed will be the path leading the declaration of her Doctorate by Pope John Paul II in 1997, and the significant bibliography of Theresian literature to have appeared in the twentieth century.

  The course focuses on the major themes one finds emerging in the sixty years Sheen wrote: The Life of All Living (the Heavenly Father); The Incarnate Son of God; Temptation and Sin; Conversion, Confession, The Mystery of Suffering; Prayer; The Blessed Virgin Mary; Marriage; and Eucharist & Priesthood (extended emphasis). Interspersed with this, would be ongoing concentration on Sheen's biography, and the place the themes of his books find in the course of his life.

Systematic Theology

SYST 501 Revelation, Faith, and Theology (3)

The introductory course in systematic theology, Revelation, Faith, Theology also doubles as an introduction to theology in general and systematic theology in particular. It studies what our faith begins with: God's first revealing himself to us. Theology, which is rooted in the Church's Magisterium, is the formal study of Revelation and our primary response to it in faith, which are also mediated through the Church. Our pathfinder is St. Thomas Aquinas, who provides us with grounding principles for understanding the subject matter. We begin with his integration of Revelation, faith, and theology before examining in greater detail these themes in the opposite order for the rest of the course. First, the nature, content, methods, and history of Catholic theology as a particularly critical response to faith is presented. Second, faith itself is examined as the primary human response to God's personal revelation as it is present in the individual and within the Church. Finally, the meaning, sources, interpretation, transmission, and development of Revelation are elucidated. Required for the S.T.B., M.Div., and M.A. (theology) degree programs.

SYST 502 Theology of the Tri-personal God (3)

This course familiarizes students with Magisterial teaching about the Holy Trinity, and the historical doctrinal errors this teaching seeks to correct. Using texts from Joseph Ratzinger (as was at publication of course materials), St. Augustine, St. Thomas Aquinas, and Bl. John Henry Newman the course will explore various Scriptural and theological explanations of the Church' doctrine on the Trinity. Next, this course examines speculations in Trinitarian theology from Karl Rahner, Hans Urs von Balthasar, and other contemporary trends in the light of previous course material. Finally, we will briefly survey some catechetical tools and methods for teaching the doctrine of the Trinity. Required for the S.T.B. and M.Div. degree programs.

SYST 604 Sacraments: Baptism and Confirmation (3)

A study of the nature of sacramentality, and of the sacraments in general, and their relationship to Christ and the church. Baptism and Confirmation as initiation into the church: their biblical sources, historical and liturgical development, and contemporary questions, including catechetical considerations. Required for the S.T.B. and M.Div. degree programs, and for Systematic Theology concentrators in the M.A. (theology) program.

SYST 605 Grace I: Protology and Anthropology (3)

This is the first course of a two-part study of divine gratuity in the orders of nature and grace. Protology and Anthropology, or the Theology of Creation and the Human Person, employs historical, textual, and above all systematic approaches to investigate the overarching mysteries of creation and the human person as well as the ancillary teachings these mysteries imply: the created order, providence, the original state, the human person as image of God, the sexual distinction, the relation of nature to grace, the Fall and its consequences, the mystery of evil, and the natural desire for God. Some of these last issues will be treated at the beginning of next semester as an introduction to grace. St. Thomas Aquinas, whose presentation of these issues are amenable to embracing later insights of the Catholic tradition, human reason, and common experience, serves as master guide for organizing the various dimensions of these mysteries into a coherent whole. Required for the S.T.B., M.Div., and M.A. (theology) degree programs.

SYST 606 Grace II: Grace and the Theological Virtues (3)

Grace and the Theological Virtues, the second course of a two-part study of divine gratuity in the orders of nature and grace, is comprised of three tracts: select questions in theological anthropology, grace, and the theological virtues. (1) The anthropological issues treated provide the background for the mystery of grace: the powers of the human soul, the original state, the human person as image of God, the sexual distinction, the problem of evil, and original sin. (2) St. Thomas Aquinas, whose teachings are coordinated with earlier and later insights of the Catholic tradition and human reason, serves as master guide for organizing the various mysteries of grace into a coherent whole. These include the Old and New Laws, necessity, nature, kinds, causes and effects of grace, the new life of grace offered by Jesus Christ, the relation of uncreated to created grace, the relation of grace to the sacraments, and the divine indwelling. (3) St. Thomas's teachings are also consulted for a detailed treatment of hope and love (faith having been treated in SYST 501) as supernatural dispositions that enable one to live the graced life. Required for the S.T.B. and M.Div. degree programs.

SYST 704 Holy Orders (3)

A systematic study on the Sacrament of Holy Orders: the Scriptural foundations, patristic sources, and the history of the development of the ecclesial understanding of the deacon, presbyter and bishop. Attention will be given to the minister's configuration to Christ, priest, prophet and pastor. The course will include a study of documents of the Magisterium that pertain to Holy Orders, as well as a consideration of various contemporary theological, ecumenical and pastoral issues. Required for the S.T.B. and M.Div. degree programs.

SYST 705 Christology and Soteriology (3)

The central mystery of the Christian faith is Christ: who he is and what he has done for us. Although each of these topics implies the other, the first aspect of the mystery is emphasized in Christology (in the specific sense) and the second aspect is emphasized in Soteriology. Due to time limitations, this course will devote most time to Christology. While the method is primarily systematic, historical and textual considerations are included in order to present key historical moments and documents in the Church's theological elucidation of the mystery of Christ and his salvific work. After the nature and method of the discipline is introduced and various principles are enunciated, classical Christology is examined from the perspectives of a Catholic reading of the Christology of the New Testament; its development in the controversies, councils, and Fathers of the early Church; St. Thomas Aquinas's synthesis in the Summa Theologiae's first tract on Christ; the problems that arose in the modern period; and a brief look at contemporary approaches to Christology. With a similar methodology, Soteriology begins with introductory lectures that situate the discipline and provide a general overview of the questions to be addressed. Its career is photographed at key historical moments: emergence from the pages of Sacred Scripture, major developments in the Patristic period, the sharpened articulations of the medieval period, particularly those of St. Anselm and St. Thomas Aquinas, and the Reformation teachings. The course concludes by attempting an adequate Soteriology that does justice to redemption as forgiveness, ontology, liberation, reconciliation, satisfaction, and redemptive love. Required for the S.T.B. and M.Div. degree programs, and for Systematic Theology concentrators in the M.A. (theology) degree program.

SYST 707 Ecclesiology I (3)

This course provides a systematic overview of the origin, nature and mission of the Church. The Church's historically emerging self-understanding is presented in relationship to the mysteries of the Trinity, Incarnation and redemptive Grace. The ecclesiology of the Second Vatican Council will be studied with particular attention. After a general introduction, the course will investigate the Church in its Marian, Petrine and Pauline dimensions. The course will also look carefully at the "Universal Call to Holiness" and the paths of holiness in the Christian states of life. A summary overview of the Mariological Doctrines is included in this treatment. Required for the S.T.B. and M.Div. degree programs, and for Systematic Theology concentrators in the M.A. (theology) degree program.

SYST 801 Sacraments of Healing: Penance and Anointing (2)

The course will include a theological investigation of the mystery of sin and sickness in light of Christ's paschal mystery, the foundation of the Sacraments of Penance and Anointing in the New Testament, an historical and theological study of the development of the sacraments of Penance and the Anointing of the Sick, a thorough investigation of the rites for the celebration of these sacraments, a plan for the pastoral renewal of the Sacrament of Penance, a study of the Sacred Canons on Penance, Indulgences, and the Anointing of the sick, and pastoral issues such as First Penance, the Pastoral Care of the Sick and the Dying, Spiritual Direction, and the Doctrine of Indulgences. Required for the S.T.B. and M.Div. degree programs. For Ordination Formation program candidates the semester will conclude with penance and anointing practicum sessions with the seminary priest faculty.

SYST 802 Holy Eucharist (2)

A historical and systematic study of the Eucharist: the Scripture texts, patristic sources, theological development, and contemporary conciliar and papal teaching, as well as a presentation of the appropriate Canons on the Eucharist from the Code of Canon Law. Emphasis on the Eucharist under four aspects: memorial sacrifice, sacramental presence, sign of unity, and eschatological banquet. Required for the S.T.B. and M.Div. degree programs. Ordination candidates also take LITY 802 Holy Eucharist Practicum.

SYST 804 Ecclesiology II (3)

A theological and pastoral course on the foundation, principles, goals and practice of ecumenism and missionary activity in the church today. The course studies the major magisterial documents related to ecumenism and missiology, the major interreligious dialogues, ecumenical dialogues, the various forms of ecumenical cooperation, and missionary work. In addition, the department of Systematic theology aims to provide a firm grounding in the Church's traditional understanding of eschatology, based on Chapter VII of Lumen Gentium. Studying these elements of the Church will serve as a necessary foundation for graduating seminarians to participate and minister effectively in these areas, including: ecumenical activities, such as common prayer, worship and dialogue at the parish and diocesan levels with other Christians, inter-religious prayer and dialogue at the parish and diocesan levels, which is included in the mission of the Church to preach the Gospel everywhere, to all, at all times. Required for the S.T.B. and M.Div. degree programs.

Elective Courses: M.A. (theology) degree candidates concentrating in Systematic Theology, concomitant with elective requirement, take an additional one-credit directed research course for inclusion in the Research Projects Portfolio required for the degree.

SYST 906 Themes in Systematic Theology (2)

This course will afford the opportunity for concentrators in Systematic Theology to study one specialized topic, or several interrelated topics, which are treated more generally in one of the core courses of Systematic Theology – Trinity, Christology, Ecclesiology, Grace, Creation and Man, Sacraments – in much greater depth, using primary resources (the writings of great theologians past and present). In this course, we will also examine the implications of the Mystical Doctor's Eucharistic theology and practice for authentic Catholic spirituality.
- Gifts and Charisms of the Holy Spirit (spring 2015/fall 2010/fall 2008/fall 2006)
  Utilizing the insights of the Fathers of the Church, St. Thomas Aquinas, John of St. Thomas, and various contemporary theologians and spiritual writers, this elective course will investigate the rich spiritual tradition of the Seven Gifts of the Holy Spirit. The students will consider the nature of the Gifts as well as the relationship of each Gift to the theological and moral virtues and the Gospel beatitudes. Special attention will be given to the nature of Christian mysticism, ecclesial charisms, and the role of the Holy Spirit in the various Christian states of life.

SYST 907 Readings in Soteriology (2)

A study of Patristic texts and Medieval and Modern theologies of the redemption, of the various ways in which the Fathers, Doctors and other great theologians have understood the redemptive significance of the Mission of Jesus Christ and the salvific power of His life, death, resurrection and exaltation, in short, of what it means when the Church confesses Jesus Christ to be the Savior of the world.

SYST 920 Thomistic Seminar (3)

An in-depth study of the thought of St. Thomas Aquinas, including such topics as "The Nature of Theology," "Questions in Trinitarian Theology," etc. Prerequisite: Basic Latin. Required for S.T.B. candidates and may be taken by M.A.(theology) candidates concentrating in Systematic Theology along with the concomitant research project. This course can be taken for credit more than once as long as the topic studied varies. Required for the S.T.B. degree program. Recent offerings have included:

- Knowing and Loving (spring 2015)
  The specific focus of this semester's Thomistic Seminar is St. Thomas's teachings on knowing and loving: the spiritual activities of God, angels, and human beings. These are also the highest activities of the human person in the arenas of nature in itself and nature as graced. The inquiry into divine and angelic knowing and loving situates and interprets human knowing and loving considered separately and interactively. While this seminar's thrust is speculative, practical concerns are also addressed in order to show connections between the contemplative and active lives, the dogmatic and moral spheres, and the theoretical and practical postures. Occasionally, sources ranging from the ancient Greek philosophers to contemporary authors will be consulted on questions that St. Thomas addresses and the answers he proposes. By appropriating the Thomistic theological vision from the fresh perspective of knowing and loving, and then expanding it with the contributions of contemporary distinctions, this seminar strives to present a deeper theological clarity and attractiveness of our noblest activities and how they enable our ultimate destiny.
- Christology and Soteriology (spring 2016, spring 2014)
  A close textual reading of St. Thomas's Christology and Soteriology as found in his masterwork, the Summa theologiae. The first 59 questions of the Third Part are read in their entirety with a view to grasping St. Thomas's thought as a synthesis and advancement of earlier theological work, an integrated systematic treatment with many perennial contributions, and a building block for subsequent theological development. Special attention is given to showing the integration in his thought of Christ's identity and work.

- Knowing and Loving (spring 2013)
  Knowing, loving, and their derivative acts represent the sole activities of God and angelic beings and the highest activities of the human person. This seminar-style course primarily investigates these activities in us human beings in the arenas of nature simply and nature graced against the backgrounds of divine and angelic knowing and loving. Knowing and loving are treated both separately and in terms of their interrelationship. While the thrust of the inquiry is speculative, practical concerns are also addressed in order to show the relationship between the contemplative and active lives, the metaphysical and moral spheres, and the theoretical and practical postures. In order to develop a contemporary Thomism that responds to recent interests, St. Thomas's thought is secondarily enriched by sources ranging from the ancient Greek philosophers to contemporary authors.
- The Nature of Theology (spring 2012)
  St. Thomas's conception of theology, or his theological method, is inextricably intertwined with the content of his theology. This seminar examines the development of his concept from his very early De Trinitate through his Summa Contra Gentiles to his mature teaching in the Summa Theologiae. Once this conception is in place, the seminar applies it to St. Thomas's overarching theological vision. With a view to contemporary systematic and pastoral concerns, the seminar concludes with some suggestions for present-day application.
