ABOUT THE SEMINARY

MISSION AND GOAL STATEMENTS

University Mission Statement
As a Catholic university, Mount St. Mary's graduates ethical leaders who are inspired by a passion for learning and lead lives of significance in service to God and others.

Our University Values
We look to the 212-year heritage of the Mount for principles that serve as waypoints in our quest for excellence. Our history is filled with examples of the Mount holding true to timeless virtues while adapting to a changing society. We will continue to do so, inspired by those who have gone before us.

For this inspiration, look no further than our founder, Father John DuBois, whose example encourages us to overcome our individual struggles, seek greatness, and have faith that the Holy Spirit will help us every step of the way. We are immensely "Mount Proud" of where we have been and are inspired by where we are going together.

As members of the Mount St. Mary’s community, we deeply value:

• A Student-Centric Focus Students, and their future success, are the reason our institution exists and are the focal point of all that we do.
• Our Catholic Identity In a dynamic higher education environment, an enduring commitment to our Catholic mission inspires a fearless engagement with the world and a hospitality to all regardless of religious background.
• Service to God and Others Our enduring purpose and key to our greatness is that we develop ethical leaders who seek to use their God-given talents in service to God and to others.
• Academic Excellence Through the Catholic intellectual tradition we educate students to advance human understanding of our world and the human condition while cultivating in them an excellence in a chosen profession and a zeal for lifelong learning.
• Our People Our hard working, caring people and our innovative intellectual capital are the lifeblood of the Mount.
• A Transformative Learning Environment Together we create the caring and intellectually stimulating environment that inspires our students’ desire to lead lives of meaning and purpose.
• Teamwork We care for and respect all members of the Mount community and are passionate about working together for their development and success.
• Stewardship In a culture of stewardship, we preserve the value and beauty of the facilities and manage resources responsibly to fulfill our mission as effectively and efficiently as possible.
• Inclusion We harness the energy created by diversity of thought and engendered by a richly diverse staff, faculty and student body to ensure that all feel welcome and included at the Mount.
• An Ethical, Competitive and Entrepreneurial Winning Spirit We set bold goals and rally our team every day to achieve them with honor. We challenge our teammates to do the same for their own personal growth. We pursue relentless, pragmatic optimism.
• Honesty and Integrity Our respect for others leads us to respond with honesty and integrity in our daily interactions.

Seminary Mission Statement
Mount St. Mary’s Seminary prepares men for the Catholic ministerial priesthood in the Third Millennium; men who love with the heart of the Church, think with the mind of the Church, and are formed to have an integrated core of human, intellectual, spiritual, and pastoral virtues modeled by Jesus Christ, our High Priest.

Seminary Vision Statement
To invite men to “go up to the mountain” (Haggai 1:8), so that we might send down holy, self-sacrificial shepherds for the people of God, to light a fire on the earth for the salvation of souls.

Seminary Strategic Goals
- Clear Communication To promote habits and procedures of effective communication.
- Culture of Excellence To foster a culture of personal and institutional excellence to further our mission.
- Institutional Growth and Strength To advance the Seminary by the best use of our time, talent, and treasure.
- Spirituality of Sacrifice To cultivate a spirituality of sacrifice within the Seminary community in pursuit of our mission.

Goals of the Four Dimensions of Formation
Mount St. Mary’s Seminary fulfills its mission through the integration of the four inter-related components or dimensions of priestly formation in accordance with the demands of the USCCB’s Program of Priestly Formation (PPF). Participation in all aspects of the four-fold formation program is mandatory for priesthood candidates. These dimensions Human Formation, Spiritual Formation, Intellectual Formation, and Pastoral Formation are detailed on the Seminary website. As the PPF tells us in #73:

> “Clearly human formation is the foundation for the other three pillars. Spiritual formation informs the other three. Intellectual formation appropriates and understands the other three. Pastoral formation expresses the other three pillars in practice.”

The goals for each of the four areas are articulated by the characteristics to be developed in the seminarian throughout the formation program as expressed by specific goals which in turn can be measured by certain criteria or learning outcomes.

Human Formation Goals
In Human Formation of the candidate for the priesthood, the Seminary aims to accompany him in conforming his heart and life to the Lord Jesus Christ, so as to become a sign of the love God has for each person. Human Formation fosters growth in his character as a man who:

1. Practices virtues
   A. Displays prudence by appropriately setting formation goals and choosing the means to accomplish them
   B. Manifests justice in showing respect toward others and completing his house job
   C. Shows fortitude by persevering in accomplishing goals and tasks
   D. Demonstrates temperance in food, drink, and the use of technology

2. Demonstrates affective maturity
   A. Cultivates friendships with others
B. Respects appropriate boundaries in relationships
C. Manifests an ability to work and relate well with others
D. Exhibits balance in judgment and behavior

3. Lives as a public person
A. Takes responsibility for his actions
B. Communicates well with others
C. Shows initiative

4. Cultivates a healthy lifestyle
A. Exhibits good hygiene and professional appearance
B. Makes healthful choices in food and drink
C. Exercises regularly
D. Gets proper rest and uses leisure time well

Spiritual Formation Goals
Spiritual Formation is directed towards promoting communion with God and with our brothers and sisters, in the friendship of Jesus the Good Shepherd, and with an attitude of docility to the Holy Spirit. Spiritual Formation develops the seminarian as a man who:

1. Exhibits a life of prayer
A. Is faithful in the house liturgical schedule, especially daily Mass
B. Practices a daily holy hour
C. Participates in retreats and days of recollection
D. Meditates with the Scriptures (Lectio Divina)
E. Maintains a filial devotion to the Blessed Virgin Mary, especially the Rosary

2. Commits to spiritual growth
A. Makes regular use of spiritual direction
B. Frequent the Sacrament of Penance
F. Does regular spiritual reading

3. Practices chastity
A. Relates maturely and appropriately with others, especially women and children
B. Shows a fraternal love for his fellow seminarians
C. Avoids occasions of unchastity, particularly pornography
D. Shows manly bearing in his conversation, dress, and behavior

4. Shows obedience
A. Manifests humility in dealing with others
B. Demonstrates docility in following direction from those in authority
C. Exhibits an openness to correction, advice, and modifying his opinions and behavior
D. Submits willingly to the Church’s magisterial teaching

5. Lives a spirit of poverty
A. Exercises responsible stewardship over his own and others’ property
B. Demonstrates a simple lifestyle in his possessions, attire, and recreation
C. Shows generosity toward others, especially the poor
Intellectual Formation Goals

Intellectual Formation is directed toward enabling and fostering the seminarian’s competence in philosophy and theology, in order for him to articulate credibly and intelligibly the Church’s faith, and to proclaim and defend it in a way that reveals its inherent goodness, truth, and beauty. (Ratio Fundamentalis, 116). Intellectual Formation aims to form a man who:

1. Demonstrates that he has a firm knowledge of the Person of Jesus Christ and the teaching of the Church by successful completion of the required coursework (as evidenced e.g. in his papers, class participation, homilies and/or exams) for the ordination program
   - A. Possesses a familiarity with the Scriptures and understands biblical theology in accord with the mind of the Church
   - B. Knows and accepts the normative function of the Magisterium
   - C. Gives evidence of the knowledge of the distinction between the truths revealed by God and contained in the deposit of faith and their theological mode of expression
   - D. Grasps the rich history of the Church from the apostolic age to the present day

2. Illustrates that he is an able minister of the sacraments
   - A. Demonstrates knowledge of liturgical and sacramental theology, Canon Law, and pastoral practice
   - B. Exhibits the ability to celebrate faithfully and well the Church’s liturgical rites, especially in the Mass and Penance practica
   - C. Shows that he has integrated the theological and pastoral curricula, especially in his participation in the capstone seminar (P.A.I.S.)

3. Communicates the Church’s moral and spiritual tradition as a spiritual father and moral guide
   - A. Demonstrates the ability to preach, teach, and defend the Catholic faith, particularly in homilies and classroom presentations
   - B. Understands, promotes, and explains faithfully the Church’s moral teaching, especially by successfully completing the moral theology coursework
   - C. Fosters the moral and spiritual life of the faithful and helps form their consciences by preaching, teaching, and evangelizing

4. Shows a love for learning and a commitment to ongoing intellectual formation
   - A. Demonstrates a habit of reading, particularly through the completion of assigned readings and dedication to further theological and non-theological reading
   - B. Practices critical thinking as evidenced in class participation, exams and/or papers
   - C. Shows a habit of reading and study during breaks and vacations

Pastoral Formation Goals

The aim of Pastoral Formation is the formation of a true shepherd who teaches, sanctifies, and governs after the example of Jesus Christ. He gains pastoral experience by his pastoral field education and summer assignments under the care of and evaluation by a supervisor. Pastoral Formation develops the heart of a shepherd in the seminarian as a man who:

1. Demonstrates pastoral competence
   - A. Shows skill in dealing with various pastoral settings such as teaching, health care, evangelization, parish administration, and diaconate parish placements
   - B. Demonstrates an ability to minister to those of various cultures, particularly Hispanic
   - C. Manages his time well by being punctual and following through with assigned tasks
2. Shows pastoral leadership
   A. Demonstrates effective communication skills, including preaching and catechesis
   B. Shows fatherly care and dedication toward others by giving time and attention to them
   C. Takes initiative with groups and projects
   D. Accepts feedback and constructive criticism

3. Collaborates effectively
   A. Respects different ministries and apostolates within the Church
   B. Demonstrates respect for those of other beliefs and cultures
   C. Exhibits docility toward authority
   D. Works well with others in ministry, including women
   E. Shows fatherly kindness and affability toward others

4. Is a Man of Communion
   A. Fosters unity among the clergy and the lay faithful
   B. Conforms to local and universal norms and avoids ideology, especially in liturgical matters
   C. Cultivates friendships with seminarians and priests, particularly in his own diocese

This affiliation was reapproved by the Vatican’s Congregation for Education in 2017.

Provisos of the Seminary Catalog

The provisos of this edition of the Mount St. Mary's Seminary catalog are not to be regarded as an irrevocable contract between the seminary and the student. Mount St. Mary’s reserves the right to change courses, schedules, calendars, and any other provisions or requirements whenever such action will serve the interests of the Seminary, the University, or its students. All students are responsible for acquitting themselves with the regulations pertinent to their status. The Mount reserves the right to modify its regulations in accordance with accepted academic standards and to require observance of the modifications. The general practice is to make no changes retroactive, unless necessitated by changes in the USCCB’s Program of Priestly Formation (PPF) or other compelling cause.

It is the policy of Mount St. Mary's not to discriminate on the basis of race, color, national or ethnic origin, political or religious opinion or affiliation, age, sex or handicapping condition in the recruitment or admissions of students, or in the administration of the college's educational policies, admissions policies, scholarship and athletic programs, and other university-administered activities and programs. The compliance officer at Mount St. Mary’s University for Title IX and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 is the vice president for university affairs, 301-447-5086.

It is the policy of Mount St. Mary’s University to comply with the provisions of the Americans with Disabilities Act in making its programs and facilities accessible. If you need any special accommodations, please contact the Seminary admissions office at 301-447-5295.

Statement of Educational Effectiveness

Mount St. Mary’s Seminary provides education and formation for candidates for the Roman Catholic priesthood. In compliance with ATS Educational Standards, the Seminary has developed a variety of direct and indirect measures to assess the extent to which the students are achieving the outcomes described in our catalog for the various degrees and programs they are pursuing. Faculty and administration regularly review this data in the ongoing assessment of the educational effectiveness of the Seminary and to measure the success and timely completion of its degree and certificate programs. The following is a summary of the recent data:

Pre-Theology Certificate Program

This two-year formation program has as its purpose the preparation of candidates for entry into the theologate. The achievement of the goals of the program are measured by the formation team using direct and indirect measures of achievement in intellectual, spiritual, pastoral and human formation. A demonstration of the effectiveness of the pre-theology formation program by class year is the percentage of those who completed the pre-theology formation program at Mount St. Mary’s Seminary and who subsequently entered a graduate theological formation program the following fall, whether at the Mount or elsewhere:

- 95.2% of those completing pre-theology (5/2020) are expected to subsequently enroll in graduate Theological formation (fall 2020).
88.0% of those completing pre-theology (5/2019) subsequently enrolled in graduate Theological formation (fall 2019).
95.0% of those completing pre-theology (5/2018) subsequently enrolled in graduate Theological formation (fall 2018).
87.5% of those completing pre-theology (5/2017) subsequently enrolled in graduate Theological formation (fall 2017).

Master of Arts in Philosophical Studies (M.A.P.S.)
The two-year M.A.P.S. degree program has as its purpose to offer an opportunity for advanced graduate study of philosophy emphasizing both the history and major topical areas of philosophical inquiry, with attention to how these inform and are informed by the Catholic intellectual tradition. The graduates successfully passed the two-fold concluding exercise of a qualifying paper and oral presentation designed to measure student achievement of the degree program outcomes. The following data of recent M.A.P.S. candidates by entering cohort year shows the percentages of those who 1) graduated from the M.A.P.S. degree program in a timely manner, 2) who withdrew from M.A.P.S (but not from Seminary formation), and 3) retain eligibility to complete the degree.

- Entering cohort 2019/20: none have graduated so far; none have withdrawn from M.A.P.S. (but not from seminary formation); and 100% retain eligibility.
- Entering cohort 2018/19: 9.0% have graduated so far; none have withdrawn from M.A.P.S. (but not from seminary formation); and 90.9% retain eligibility.
- Entering cohort 2017/18: 33.3% have graduated so far; 22.2% have withdrawn from M.A.P.S. (but not from seminary formation); and 44.4% retain eligibility.
- Entering cohort 2016/17: 54.5% have graduated so far; 45.5% have withdrawn from M.A.P.S. (but not from seminary formation); and 0% retain eligibility.
- Entering cohort 2015/16: 50% graduated; 37.5% withdrew from M.A.P.S. (but not from seminary formation); and 0% retain eligibility.

Master of Divinity (M.Div.)
The four-year Master of Divinity (M.Div.) is an accredited graduate professional ministerial degree designed for completion by seminarians while fulfilling the requirements of the larger ordination formation program. All graduates completed the required curriculum and received a grade of “pass” on the direct and indirect assessment tools designed to measure achievement of the degree program outcomes in intellectual, spiritual, pastoral and human formation, and were recommended to their sponsoring diocese for ordination. As a demonstration of the effectiveness of this degree program in preparing men for ordained ministry, the data below shows the percentage of recent M.Div. graduates by class year who were ordained and still actively engaged in pastoral ministry as of May 2020:

- 87.5% of those earning the M.Div. degree in 2018/19 are involved in active pastoral ministry
- 96.0% of those earning the M.Div. degree in 2017/18 are involved in active pastoral ministry.
- 100% of those earning the M.Div. degree in 2016/17 are involved in active pastoral ministry.
- 100% of those earning the M.Div. degree in 2015/16 are involved in active pastoral ministry.
- 94.4% of those earning the M.Div. degree in 2014/15 are involved in active
Master of Arts (Theology)

The degree program goals include both the attainment of survey knowledge of theology, as well as a focus in an area of concentration for study and research writing. Successful candidates, in addition to the required coursework, complete the capstone exercise of a three-part portfolio of directed M.A. (Theology) research projects and an oral comprehensive examination designed to measure student achievement of the degree program outcomes. A demonstration of graduation rate by entering First Theology cohort year is the percentage of the M.A. (theology) candidates who complete the program in a timely manner:

- 31.8% of the 22 candidates in entering cohort 2017/18 completed M.A. (theology) degree requirements within 3 years of matriculation; and 18.2% retain eligibility for the degree.
- 80.0% of the 5 candidates in entering cohort 2016/17 completed M.A. (theology) degree requirements within 3 years of matriculation; 100% within 4 years of matriculation, and 0.0% retain eligibility for the degree.
- 41.2% of the 17 candidates in entering cohort 2015/16 completed M.A. (theology) degree requirements within 3 years of matriculation; 52.9% within 4 years of matriculation, and 0.0% retain eligibility for the degree.
- 72.2% of the 18 candidates in entering cohort 2014/15 completed M.A. (theology) degree requirements within 3 years of matriculation; 83.3% within 4 years of matriculation, and 0.0% retain eligibility for the degree.
- 50.0% of the 18 candidates in entering cohort 2014/15 completed M.A. (theology) degree requirements within 3 years of matriculation; 55.6% within 4 years of matriculation, and 0.0% retain eligibility for the degree.

Bachelor of Sacred Theology (S.T.B.)

This first-level ecclesiastical degree is offered under an affiliation agreement (approved by the Vatican Congregatio de Institutione Catholica and in keeping with the Apostolic Constitution Sapientia Christiana), with The Pontifical Faculty of the Immaculate Conception (at The Dominican House of Studies, Washington, D.C.). The S.T.B. degree program’s educational effectiveness is measurable by means of the concluding exercise, a two-phase (written and oral) comprehensive examination coram professors from both institutions designed to measure student achievement of the degree program outcomes. This is demonstrated by the rate of completion of the STB degree by entering cohort as shown below by the percentage of candidates who graduated having successfully completed the concluding exercise along with the percentage of those who initially opted for the S.T.B. program from the same theology class year:

- 33.3% of S.T.B. candidates from Seminary class of 2020 graduated; 16.7% of the Seminary class of 2020 initially enrolled as S.T.B. entering cohort 2017/18
- 62.5% of S.T.B. candidates from Seminary class of 2019 graduated; 47.1% of the Seminary class of 2019 initially enrolled as S.T.B. entering cohort 2016/17
- 33.3% of S.T.B. candidates from Seminary class of 2018 graduated; 11.5% of the Seminary class of 2018 initially enrolled as S.T.B. entering cohort 2015/16
- 50.0% of S.T.B. candidates from Seminary class of 2017 graduated; 20.0% of the Seminary class of 2017 initially enrolled as S.T.B. entering cohort 2014/15
- 60.0% of S.T.B. candidates from Seminary class of 2016 graduated; 25.0% of the Seminary class of 2016 initially enrolled as S.T.B. entering cohort 2013/14
THE STORY OF THE MOUNT

The location of the Pangborn Campanile (Grotto bell tower), on the side of Mary's Mountain, is no accident. Here, an immigrant French priest named John DuBois constructed a humble church in 1806. Local Catholics were few in number, divided between the descendants of colonial-era English Catholics from southern Maryland and those of more recent Irish immigrants who lived near the village of Emmitsburg.

John DuBois was born in Paris on August 24, 1764, and ordained at the age of 23 to serve his home archdiocese. Unforeseen political events would ruin his plans, however, when the French Revolution of 1789 broke out less than two years after his ordination. Carrying a letter of introduction from the Marquis de Lafayette, Fr. DuBois left his homeland in 1791 to embrace the life of an itinerant missionary in the United States. After ministering in Norfolk and Richmond, Virginia, one of his many stops was Elder Station, east of the Mount. Not too far from there, he decided to buy land and eventually retire.

Fr. DuBois formally requested to associate himself with the Sulpician community, which ran a seminary in Baltimore. As a result of this affiliation, he opened a school on his hillside for the education of young boys, who one day might enter the major seminary in Baltimore. The Sulpicians already had enough to do in educating their own philosophers and theologians. This would become Fr. DuBois' cherished life's work.

Thus Mount St. Mary's was born in 1808. Fr. DuBois supervised the building of a large, multi-story structure in hewn logs. This White House stood on what is now called the Terrace and remained in existence until 1901. A visitor to the Mount in 1810 would have noted the presence of four buildings: the church on the hill; Fr. DuBois' first log cabin, located where a Celtic stone cross now stands east of the Grotto parking lot; the stone wash house (now called Barrett Hall which houses an art studio) at the foot of the hill; and, finally, the White House. As an aside, it should be mentioned that Fr. DuBois vacated his cabin in the summer of 1809, for a short period of time, as Mother Elizabeth Ann Seton arrived in the area and needed a place to stay while her own quarters were being prepared in St. Joseph's Valley, closer to Emmitsburg. In so doing, Fr DuBois was setting the standard for the Mount's reputation for hospitality. Fr. DuBois' cabin disappeared by the outbreak of the Civil War. The Mountain Church, although not used after 1897, stood until July 4, 1913, when an errant Roman candle ignited the shingle roof.

To the left of the Pangborn Campanile, named for a generous family of industrialists and benefactors from Hagerstown, Maryland, is the Mountain Cemetery, now called St. Anthony's Cemetery where almost all local Catholics were buried after Fr. DuBois arrived. College and Seminary notables buried here include many revered priests such as Coad, Bradley, Flynn, Cogan, McCaffrey, McSweeny, Mulcahy and Gallagher, whose names adorn various campus buildings, as well as Kline, Phillips, Fives, Forker, and Delaney. These plots are located in "faculty row," a collection of head stones, similar in design, to the left of the driveway.

Behind the faculty plots are the graves of Mother Seton's son, William II, as well as members of his immediate family. Adjacent to these are the plots of three Civil War casualties, at least two of whom attended the Mount in the days before the war. Maurice Byrne, of Milliken's Bend, Louisiana, was shot in the back at Clearspring, Maryland, on July 26, 1864, while on duty with a Confederate patrol. James Norton, a member of the college class of 1862, left school in 1861, enlisted in a local militia unit in his native Alabama, and eventually was wounded at the Battle of Gettysburg. He languished for many months in a Union camp hospital near York, Pennsylvania, before finally dying.

Following the Sisters of Charity, the Sisters of St. Francis performed nursing tasks for the College and Seminary community for many years, up until 1984. Three small headstones behind faculty row recall the memory of these dedicated women.

Today, a visitor to the Grotto sees three layers of activity or buildings. The first of these dates back to the DuBois period. A huge tree once hung over the mountain stream where the small stone chapel now stands. Much of the soil under the tree had been washed away by the stream, leaving a space large enough under the trunk and inside the roots for a man to stop and shield himself from the elements. Fr. DuBois discovered the spot, and Simon Bruté (also an immigrant French priest referred to as the Angel Guardian of the Mount) blessed the spot by hanging a small cross inside. Thus, the Grotto was born.

When the tree finally fell, a modest lattice-work structure was made to take its place. By the 1850's, a second structure replaced the first and a third in 1898. The current stone building was built in 1906 and dedicated to the memory of Bishop Thomas McGovern of Harrisburg. The stone wall reproduction of the Lourdes Grotto in France was constructed in 1879 by President Fr. John A. Watterson. Fr. Watterson initiated the project to commemorate the apparitions which had taken place 21 years earlier in France and which had been approved in 1862.

Until 1958, the Grotto of Our Lady of Lourdes was only a secluded but very special corner of the campus, known to students and rarely visited by outsiders. The Apostolic Delegate to the United States, Archbishop Amleto Cicognani, urged the Mount to open the Grotto to visitors. In honor of the centennial of the apparitions, he obtained impressive indulgences. After 1958, Grotto Road was widened and paved. Stations of the Cross and mosaic mysteries of the rosary were added, and a statue of the Blessed Mother in Carrara marble was installed above the circular reservoir. Seating for 500 was built in the natural amphitheater above the Grotto (and now seats 1,500). The Pangborn Campanile, which has become a regional landmark, was built in 1965, with St. Mary’s Chapel on the Hill opening in 1976. A new Visitors’ Center was built and dedicated in June 2013.

The Hughes Cabin, located below the Grotto parking lot, is named for John Hughes, an immigrant Irishman who lived in the cabin in 1819 while supervising the gardens and taking classes in the Seminary. Hughes was later ordained to the priesthood and became Bishop John DuBois' coadjutor in New York City. As Ordinary, he distinguished himself as a leading defender of Catholics in the United States. The Hughes cabin was originally built south of what is now the Terrace. It was then moved to a spot just north east of the current Seminary building, McSweeney Hall. The cabin was brought to its current spot on the hillside to heighten its visibility during the celebrations marking the 175th anniversary of the College and Seminary's foundation in 1983. In 1995, extensive restoration work was undertaken to replace decayed timbers and protect the cabin from the future ravages of time.

Descending the steps from the Grotto parking lot, one arrives at the back terrace where two structures stand. Right of the steps is Barrett Hall, formerly the wash house and possibly the oldest structure on campus. Standing east of it, one can distinguish three separate sections of stone wall. The oldest contains the door to the building and corresponds basically to the Elder spring house that antedates the college. A sure source of running water in the early 19th century could not be overestimated. Fr. DuBois may have taken this into account when he chose this particular spot to build his cabin and church. Behind Barrett Hall, on the side of the mountain, Green Briar Spring continues to flow. This was the source of the water in the outdoor fountains once used by students.

Barrett Hall was expanded in 1837, so that the upper portion could be used as a chapel. A further expansion in 1894 meant that the students no longer had to climb the steps up the hillside to attend Mass or other church functions.

Purcell Hall, located at the other end of the back terrace, was built as a music hall and also for plays and student entertainment in the days prior to the Civil War.

The main terrace buildings have remained largely unchanged since 1858. Although the three principal terrace buildings are known as DuBois, Bruté, and McCaffrey Halls, they were not so named until 1908 – long after their namesakes were dead – during the Centennial celebration. In 2008, during the Bicentennial, a $25 million campaign was launched and completed to renovate these historic residence halls.

DuBois Hall was to be the founder's statement of confidence in the future of the Seminary and College. Originally constructed on the back terrace and finished in 1824, it burned on Pentecost Sunday of that year. It was quickly replaced several dozen feet further to the east. Its exterior has been largely unaltered since 1825. DuBois Hall served as the primary Seminary building until construction of McSweeney Hall was finished around 1909.

Bruté Hall occupies the central portion of the terrace buildings and was constructed in 1844. For over a hundred years the campus library was housed in Bruté Hall as was the study hall/commencement hall.

McCaffrey Hall, or at least the first two stories of it, dates from 1858. Construction was halted so that proper attention could be given to building a new college chapel. Parallel to McCaffrey Hall, and occupying a now-clear portion of the terrace, stood Fr. DuBois' original White House, which remained on the Terrace until Easter Week of 1901.

Construction of a chapel of suitable proportions started in 1858. The proposed structure extended from the front door of today's chapel, downhill to Echo Field and to where the Delaplaine Fine Arts Center (formerly Flynn Hall) now stands. It was to be a brownstone and Gothic design. The Civil War intervened and construction was halted. Finances soured, due mainly to financially-ruined Southern families who could no longer pay their bills. The Mount faced bankruptcy by 1881. The grand chapel remained unfinished with only the walls standing. The brown stones were subsequently mined for usable pieces when Flynn Hall, originally designed as a gymnasium, came to be constructed between 1901 and 1903.

On August 26, 1907, college president Fr. Denis Flynn officially broke ground for the new edifice, the Chapel of the Immaculate Conception. The cornerstone was laid in 1908 for the Centennial. On October 12, 1910, the chapel was solemnly opened. Later, renovations were made to bring the chapel into conformity with the norms of the Second Vatican Council. The new interior decor was unveiled on October 22, 1978. A $2.5 million restoration was completed in 2011 and re-dedicated on September 13, 2011. It is the most extensive work done in one hundred years.

South of the chapel is St. John's Well. The spring could possibly be one of those cleaned and landscaped by Fr. Simon Bruté in the early years of the 19th century. The priest had a penchant for discovering new springs and for carving out paths in the underbrush so that others could go contemplate them.
The stone work in the upper part of St. John's Well (named for John DuBois' patron), was completed in 1879. The Well, along with the Grotto, was part of the President Watterson's campus beautification project. A spring emerges from the hill and empties into a small reservoir from where the water flows into a lower basin.

Until 1982, a concrete basin and multi-level cast iron fountain caught this run-off. However, the fountain was in a ruinous condition and could no longer hold water. The entire lower part of St. John's Well was remodeled. The earthen ramp was extended and a new basin constructed. The work was supervised by one of the more industrious seminarians. It had been his intention to dedicate the fountain to alumni, living and dead. At the Seminary Alumni Reunion in 1982, the renovated St. John's Well was dedicated to honor the recently-martyred Mountaineer priest, the now Blessed Stanley Rother, Seminary Class of 1963. Three other Mountaineers are on the track to beatification: Simon Bruté, James Walsh, M.M., and Francis Flanagan.

During the Mount's first hundred years, the Seminary was housed in what would now be considered the terrace buildings. DuBois Hall functioned for many years as the Seminary. As late as 1899, a $17,000 campaign was launched to renovate the DuBois Seminary. However, in 1905, the College Council voted to erect a separate building for the Seminary. The cornerstone for the future McSweeny Hall was laid on October 8, 1906.

The building remained largely unchanged until 1947. Funds were raised to double the size of the chapel, install new pews, stained glass windows and an altar, as well as partition the fourth floor dormitories into individual rooms. Originally, a 36-room addition had been projected for the south wing, extending back toward the mountainside where the Gallagher wing now stands. This idea was dropped.

Upon entering the ground floor of McSweeny Hall, one can see a portion of the extensive renovation work started in April of 1990. During this time, a sprinkler system and air conditioning were installed throughout the building and the water and heating systems were upgraded. Corridors and doors were painted in the residential quarters, ceilings were lowered and lighting was improved. While the wood paneling and pressed metal ceilings of the main floor were carefully preserved, the ground floor was completely redesigned to better serve the needs of seminarians and faculty. Along the wall of the ground floor corridor are the photographs of the many bishops who send men to Mount St. Mary's Seminary, as well as a set of pictures portraying the Mount during the different seasons of the year.

Pictures of the various Seminary rectors are featured on the main floor. The first of the pictures is Fr. Philip Gallagher, Seminary Class of 1897, who assumed the post of rector in 1930. Prior to this time, and dating back to the DuBois era, the college president had always served as rector. He would usually name another priest to oversee seminary affairs, but the posts of president and rector were held by the same priest.

This situation changed in 1930 with the appointment of Fr. Gallagher. He would hold the position until 1941, when Fr. Edward D. O'Connell was named to the post. Fr. O'Connell died six months later, in February 1942, and Fr. Gallagher resumed his old duties for the remainder of the academic year.

Fr. Francis Xavier Desmond, a Vincentian, replaced Fr. Gallagher in September 1942, and was succeeded in 1948 by Fr. Joseph P. O'Donnell, Seminary Class of 1935. Initiating something of a renaissance, ten years later, another Seminary alumnus, Msgr. George D. Mulcahy, Class of 1934,

The Seminary has expanded to three new wings over the years with the construction of Gallagher Hall (1959-60), Mulcahy Hall (1975), and Keating Hall, dedicated in January 2000.

It had often been claimed that there were slave pens under the Seminary and tunnels under Echo Field used by the Underground Railroad. In pre-Civil War days, as the story goes, the Mount's slaves were kept in these basement pens while, mysteriously enough, the same institution helped to ferry slaves into the north. This story ignores the fact that McSweeny Hall was built forty years after war's end. There are no tunnels that have ever been located under Echo Field.

Mother Seton is supposed to have chastised both Union and Confederate troops and told them to hold their battle somewhere other than Emmitsburg. This story, too, looks attractive until we remember that Mother Seton had been in her grave 42 years before the Battle of Gettysburg was fought.

Students will sometimes relate how the Mount acquired its naval gun, its old Memorial gym, and its beloved Echo Field. Attempts will be made to link all three to the Navy's V-5 and V-12 officer training schools that operated at the Mount during World War II. Supposedly, Echo Field was used as a landing strip, and the gun used to defend the place against possible trouble from above. The old gym, furthermore, was purported to have been built to house the aircraft that landed in Echo Field. In fact, Echo Field was never used as a landing strip. The naval gun, taken from the USS Detroit, was given to the Mount in 1946. The USS Detroit was berthed in Pearl Harbor on December 7, 1941. The gun was intended to be erected in the western Pacific as an aircraft hangar. Since the assault on the Japanese home islands never materialized, the hangar was declared war surplus on the U.S. west coast. During the summer of 1949, it was shipped through the Panama Canal, travelled up the east coast to Baltimore, and trucked to Emmitsburg. It was hoped that the gym would be in place for the 1949/50 basketball season, but the summer sun made the metal plates on the roof too hot to handle. Opening of the gym was delayed until late 1950.

Back in the days of DuBois and Bruté, a road ran through campus, connecting Emmitsburg and Thurmont. Students crossed this road every day when they walked between Bradley Hall and the library. The local population preferred this road to the toll road that ran out of Emmitsburg, and frequent remonstrations by the College failed to stem the practice. Not until the late 1800's did the College succeed in closing the road to public traffic. Even today a barrier remains at the head of St. Anthony Road as a reminder that this is not a public thoroughfare.

Because the road ran through campus, Mount buildings never expanded eastward until a century after the College and Seminary was founded. Memorial Gym was the first substantial College structure to be erected on the other side of the road. It was followed by Pangborn Hall (1955), Cogan Student Union Building (1960-61), and eventually Phillips Library, Sheridan Hall, Coad Hall, Knott Academic Center, apartment towers (Keelty, Rooney, and Horning), and the Knott Athletic Recreation and Convocation Complex (ARCC). The Cogan Student Union Building was expanded and renamed the McGowan Center, which includes Patriot Hall to honor alumni and family members of alumni who died on September 11, 2001.

With the widening of U.S. Route 15 in 1979-80, the campus was once more cut in half. Fortunately, a pedestrian walkway was installed under the highway to link the main campus with the athletic fields beyond the highway. From beyond the ARCC, one can still see the small country road that brought thousands of students to Mount St. Mary's over the years. The remains of College Lane still stretch out toward Old Frederick Road and beyond.

Among U.S. Catholic seminaries, the Mount is second in age only to St. Mary's in Baltimore (founded in 1791). Now a university, the Mount is the second oldest Catholic college in the United States. (Georgetown University was founded in 1789). It is impossible to distinguish the College from the Seminary during the early years of the institution. In the early days, the official title of the institution was "Mount Saint Mary's Seminary." The word college only came into use in 1830 when a charter was obtained from the State of Maryland. The purpose of Fr. DuBois' school was, at least in theory, to train young men to the point where they would be ready to enter the Sulpicians' major seminary in Baltimore. In the terminology of the times, this made the Mount a "Petit Seminaire." In fact, from the Mount's founding, Fr. DuBois admitted some young men who showed little interest in an ecclesiastical career. This mixture would yield doctors and lawyers as well as priests. As students matured, they would be allowed to teach basic subjects to the younger students. So, ultimately, theology students helped to teach college students, who in turn helped teach the high school students, who helped look after those students who were even younger. This system lasted well into the 20th century, when the Seminary, College, and prep school became distinct educational entities.

Throughout the Seminary's first century, what we would now call graduating classes, were not large at all. Three or four men would be the norm. Ten graduates would have been considered a great number indeed. At the start of the third millennium, the Mount Seminary can count more than 2,600 priest alumni, more than half of whom are presently alive and involved in ministerial work. In addition, over 50 priest-alumni have been consecrated to the episcopacy, rightfully earning for the Mount the distinction as the “Cradle of Bishops.”

CAMPUS LOCATION
Mount St. Mary’s Seminary, situated on the primary 1,400 acre campus of Mount St. Mary’s University at the foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains, is located on Route 15, three miles south of the center of Emmitsburg, Maryland, and approximately 12 miles south of the famed battlefield of Gettysburg, Pennsylvania. The Seminary provides a rural setting within commuting distance of Washington, D.C., to the south, Baltimore, MD, to the east, Hagerstown, MD, to the west, and Harrisburg, PA, to the north. These metropolitan areas are easily accessible for the amplification of the resources of the Seminary, pastoral fieldwork, and cultural pursuits.
ACADEMIC PROGRAMS

INTELLECTUAL FORMATION OF FUTURE PRIESTS (in compliance with the USCCB’s PPF)

The Program of Priestly Formation (2006) addresses the intellectual formation of future priests (PPF 136-235). It explains that disciples are learners. The first task of intellectual formation is to acquire a personal knowledge of the Lord Jesus Christ. The deepening and appropriation of this knowledge is not simply for personal possession. Rather, intellectual formation has an apostolic and missionary purpose and finality (PPF 137). Intellectual formation culminates in a deepened understanding of the mysteries of faith that is pastorally oriented toward effective priestly ministry, especially preaching (PPF 138). It demands academic integrity (PPF 138). “The overall goal of every stage of seminary formation is to prepare a candidate who is widely knowledgeable about the human condition, deeply engaged in a process of understanding divine revelation, and adequately skilled in communicating his knowledge to as many people as possible (PPF 138).

The study of philosophy is fundamental and indispensable to the structure of theological studies, and is usually at least two full years in length (PPF 152). It is not just an intellectual formation, but closely connected to human, spiritual, and pastoral formation. “Philosophy serves as a guarantee of that certainty of truth which is the only firm basis for a total giving of oneself to Jesus and to the Church” (Pastores Dabo Vobis 52). Philosophy must include the study of ancient, medieval, modern, and contemporary philosophy as well as logic, epistemology, philosophy of nature, metaphysics, natural theology, anthropology, and ethics. Students should develop critical and analytical abilities and become clearer thinkers who will be better able to rationally present, discuss, and defend the truths of the faith (PPF 156). It must be grounded in the perennially valid philosophical heritage, and the philosophy of Aquinas should be given significant treatment (PPF 181). Other great Christian theologians who were also great philosophers should be treated (PPF 157).

Pre-theology should include 30 hours of philosophy, and students who lack a solid liberal arts education should be provided a curriculum that supplies for lacunae in this area. The Catholic intellectual tradition in literature and the arts should be part of such curriculum as well as Latin, Greek, rhetoric and communication (PPF 161-62, 182).

Theological education begins and ends in faith, is apostolically motivated, and integrates with other elements of human understanding especially philosophy and the human sciences (PPF 163). It must be rigorous, both academically and pastorally, in its orientation (PPF 163). The theological curriculum is described in detail, with attention paid to homiletics, synchronic and diachronic methodology in scripture, the various theological methods, respect for both the traditional and contemporary modes of theological expression and explanation, fidelity to the magisterium, etc. Regarding degrees to be offered (PPF 231), the PPF sees the Master of Divinity degree program as the recognized standard for preparation for ordained ministry, supplemented by the Master of Arts (Theology) and the Bachelor of Sacred Theology (S.T.B.) degree programs. Seminarians are normally expected to obtain the Master of Divinity and/or the S.T.B. degree prior to ordination (PPF 232). The Mount program is in compliance with the requirements of the PPF.
Ordination Formation Program
Rector - Msgr. Andrew Baker
Human Formation - Msgr. Anthony Frontiero
Spiritual Formation - Msgr. A. McLean Cummings
Intellectual Formation - Msgr. Michael Heintz
Pastoral Formation - Rev. John Trigilio

Purpose of the Program
The Ordination Formation Program curriculum integrates the human, pastoral, spiritual, and intellectual formation of future priests according to the demands of the USCCB’s Program of Priestly Formation (PPF). Participation in the four-fold formation program is mandatory for priesthood candidates. These dimensions (Human Formation; Spiritual Formation; Intellectual Formation; Pastoral Formation) and their goals are detailed on the Seminary website. As the PPF tells us in #73:

“Clearly human formation is the foundation for the other three pillars. Spiritual formation informs the other three. Intellectual formation appropriates and understands the other three. Pastoral formation expresses the other three pillars in practice.”

Intellectual Formation Content
In the course of completing the four-year ordination curriculum, all seminarians are expected to earn the Master of Divinity degree (PPF 232). The specific courses required of ordination candidates, not including the prerequisite courses outlined in the pre-theology program, are as follows:

First Theology (1T) – fall semester
- CHUR 501 The First Millennium: Patrology (3 crs)
- LITY 501 Introduction to the Liturgy (3 crs)
- MORL 501 Fundamental Moral Theology I (3 crs)
- SCRP 501 Introduction to Biblical Studies/Wisdom and Psalms (3 crs)
- SYST 501 Revelation, Faith, and Theology (3 crs)
- ORDN 501 1T Formation Seminar: Celibate Witness (0 cr)
- PAMU 501 Pastoral Music I (0.5 cr)
- PFED 501 1T Supervised Field Ed. Placement: Catechetics and Teaching Ministry (1 cr)
- PFED 599 Catechetics and Pedagogy seminar (7 sessions) (0 cr)

First Theology (1T) – spring semester
- CHUR 502 Medieval and Renaissance Church History (3 crs)
- MORL 502 Fundamental Moral Theology II (3 crs)
- SCRP 502 Pentateuch and Historical Books (3 crs)
- SPIR 502 Christian Spirituality (3 crs)
- SYST 502 Theology of Tri-personal God (3 crs)
- ORDN 502 1T Formation Seminar: Introduction to Public Speaking/Lector Workshop (0 cr)
- PAMU 502 Pastoral Music I (continued) (0.5 cr)
- PFED 502 1T Supervised Field Ed. Placement: Catechetics and Teaching Ministry (1 cr)

Second Theology (2T) – fall semester
- CANL 601 Code of Canon Law (3 crs)
- CHUR 601 Modern and Contemporary Church History (3 crs)
- SCRP 601 The Prophets (3 crs)
- SYST 605 Creation and the Human Person (3 crs)

Formation Workshops and Conferences Each fall and spring semester, students in the ordination curriculum, according to their year in the cycle of seminary formation, are required to participate in the following workshops and conferences:

- Seminarians attend a sequence of Formation Seminars each semester to address a variety of human formation issues: ORDN 001, ORDN 002, ORDN 501, ORDN 502, ORDN 601, ORDN 602, ORDN 701, ORDN 702, ORDN 801, and ORDN 802.
- Additionally, the fall Formation Workshops treat issues of transition into seminary, study skills, and pastoral formation, such as teaching, hospital visitations, working with women, multicultural ministry, and personal health.
- As needed, spring semester afternoon Conferences or Workshops treat issues relating to human formation or to broaden the seminarians’ understanding of a current affair of particular interest (e.g. friendship/boundaries; celibacy/sexuality; substance abuse; development of human social skills, manners, leadership skills).

Pastors and Stewards Program - Management Skills Development [Rev. John Trigilio, Project Director] Seminarians are required to participate in a program to foster financial literacy which was developed with a grant from The Lilly Foundation and taken as part of the second and third theology formation seminars.

Module Information In addition to the use of the computer-assisted modules (CAMs) on campus as part of the formation seminars, Mount St. Mary's Seminary makes the interactive Pastors and Stewards modules available to alumni and others for a modest fee (details available on the seminary website). These courses are taken at the student's own pace so there are no deadlines to register or begin. The program has two phases. The first is a 40-hour on-line course in personal finance (undergraduate credit available through the University’s Bolte School of Business). The second phase consists of eight CAMs: two on parish finances, one on parish leadership, one on human resources, two on strategic planning, one on personal finances, and one on the virtuous use of technology.

- PARISH LEADERSHIP Provides a basic orientation of the priest as a leader. It explores a background on the servant-leader model of leadership, styles of communication and competency of decision making. (Required as part of ORDN 702).
- PARISH FINANCIALS I Provides a basic orientation of key financial concepts (such as the creation of a parish budget), fidelity to the mission of the parish, and explains the importance of transparency and accountability. (Required as part of ORDN 602).
- PARISH FINANCIALS II Provides methods to manage a budget and explores some best practices for financial accountability. (Required as part of ORDN 602).
- HUMAN RESOURCES Provides a basic orientation of the priest as the administrator. It provides competency in the cost of hiring, firing, salary and benefits, the value of job descriptions, performance reviews and ethical practices. (Required as part of ORDN 701).

- STRATEGIC PLANNING I Helps plan for assessment, develop a timeline, form and prepare a strategic planning team, collect and analyze data, set goals and draft the plan.

- STRATEGIC PLANNING II Helps to identify stakeholders to solicit feedback, review, approve, monitor and disseminate the plan, as well as make revisions as needed.

- PERSONAL FINANCE Useful information for future clergy to be good stewards of their own personal finances such as checking and savings accounts, personal budget, investment and retirement plans, establishing and maintaining good credit, loans (car), etc.

- VIRTUOUS USE OF TECHNOLOGY There are many uses of technology in the Church, from pastoral to parishioner to administrators, etc. This module focuses on how to inform, support and model virtuous uses of technology in parishes and schools. This CAM will be available in fall 2020.

The Holy Land Experience is a study-pilgrimage opportunity expected of all Fourth Year Theologians which includes their canonical (priesthood preparatory) retreat. The experience is organized by the seminary, under the direction of the rector, and includes the presence of a seminary professor who provides on-site explanations at locations in Jerusalem, Nazareth and Galilee.

Mount2000 is a Eucharistic youth retreat for high school students sponsored by Mount St. Mary's Seminary. The retreat was started by the Mount seminarians over 20 years ago in preparation for the Jubilee Year 2000.

All levels from pre-theology to fourth participate in this annual weekend event in which the seminary hosts approximately 1,300 teenagers.

- Weekly executive meetings throughout the academic year to plan the event
- Training seminars are given to the seminarians who participate in given roles
- Administrative skills are gained as a result of this experience

The New Evangelization Club started visiting college campuses on the east coast as a voluntary activity during the fall and spring semester breaks. Participation in this event at least once during in their ordination formation program is now mandatory for each seminarian and is noted on their transcripts. Seminarians take charge of all aspects of planning and execution of the Evangelization Trips each semester.

The Priesthood Assessment Integration Seminar (P.A.I.S.) is designed as a synthesis seminar, a capstone to the final year of the formation program at Mount St. Mary's Seminary, integrating the intellectual, pastoral, human, and spiritual dimensions of formation in anticipation of ordination to the priesthood.
DEGREE DISTINCTIONS AT MOUNT ST. MARY’S SEMINARY

The Master of Divinity (M.Div.) is a basic graduate professional degree oriented towards ministerial leadership. Designed to foster basic theological understanding and develop pastoral competence on the part of students preparing for ministry, it is the normative degree to prepare seminarians for ordained ministry. It includes a thorough study of the Catholic theological heritage and its faithful contemporary expression, and a supervised practice of ministry. The M.Div. degree is accredited by the Association of Theological Schools (ATS) and conforms to all appropriate standards. All seminarians entering first theology are enrolled in the M.Div. program.

The Master of Arts (M.A.) (Theology) is a graduate academic degree. It provides students with competence in the study of theology as a scientific discipline. It includes both the attainment of survey knowledge of theology as well as a focus in an area of concentration for study and research writing in Sacred Scripture, Systematic Theology, Church History, or Moral Theology. Conforming to the standards of the ATS, it can be of particular value for those interested in teaching positions or who hope to enter Ph.D. programs. The M.A. (Theology) degree is accredited by the Association of Theological Schools (ATS) and conforms to all appropriate standards.

The Bachelor in Sacred Theology (S.T.B.) provides the student with a solid, Thomistic, organic, and complete instruction in theology at the basic graduate level. As a first-cycle ecclesiastical academic degree, it enables graduates to pursue further studies in the sacred sciences. Offered in affiliation with and awarded by The Pontifical Faculty of Theology of the Immaculate Conception at the Dominican House of Studies in Washington, D.C., the degree is authorized by the Vatican’s Congregation for Education. The degree is a prerequisite for further pursuit of an ecclesiastical licentiate degree (S.T.L. or M.Th.), and is also accepted for further study in universities of the European Union where the M.Div. is not recognized.

Dual Degree Candidacy Qualified students at Mount St. Mary’s Seminary may enroll in one of the two dual-degree programs. They are each offered with its own focus, entrance requirements, curriculum, and concluding exercise. Students may choose between an M.Div./M.A. (Theology) combination or an M.Div./S.T.B. combination. In extraordinary cases with the permission of the Seminary academic dean, a well-qualified seminarian may be allowed to enroll in all three degree programs as the S.T.B. degree is not awarded by the Mount.
Purpose, Goals, Learning Outcomes, and Educational Assessment

Purpose of the Degree
The Master of Divinity (M.Div.) is an accredited professional ministerial degree. It aims to instill in its students a thorough understanding of the Catholic theological heritage and of its faithful contemporary expression, an enriched practice of the Catholic spiritual life, growth in human maturity, and the acquisition of the skills for effective pastoral ministry. It is designed to be completed by seminarians while they are fulfilling the requirements of the ordination formation program. It can also be adapted to serve as a professional preparation for those who desire to serve the Church in other areas of ministry, but who are not called to the priesthood.

Goals of the Program
The M.Div. degree program aims to prepare seminarians to share in a special way in the three-fold office of Christ: teaching the Gospel, celebrating the divine mysteries, and shepherding God’s people. The Seminary believes that the intellectual formation goals specified in the Program of Priestly Formation (2006) together with the goals identified in the other dimensions of formation (human, spiritual and pastoral) meet and surpass the ATS Standards, 4.1-4.6 for the M.Div. degree program.

Objectives
The M.Div. degree, as outlined in ATS Standard 4.3, demands:

- a knowledge of the Catholic religious heritage
- an understanding of the contemporary setting for evangelization
- the human and spiritual dimensions of priestly formation
- the pastoral qualities and skills necessary for service as priests

The seminary treats the first and second ATS content categories as specified by our goals of intellectual formation. The third program content category is incorporated into the human and spiritual dimension and its goals. The fourth content category is addressed by those goals identified in the pastoral formation dimension. Of course the PPF and the standards of accreditation are not isolated content “silos” but are integrated into one formation program, and program and student achievement must reflect integration. (PPF 82, 112-115, 164, 241; ATS standards ES 1.2.1 and A.1.3.2)

Degree Requirements / Program Content
Participation in the human, intellectual, pastoral, and spiritual formation programs as described previously is mandatory. Candidates for the M.Div. degree must maintain a GPA of at least 2.0 while completing no fewer than 90 credits, including the following distribution:

Canon Law – minimum 6 credits
- CANL 601 Introduction to Canon Law
- CANL 701 Marriage Law and Sanctifying Office

Church History – minimum 12 credits
- CHUR 501 The First Millennium: Patrology
- CHUR 502 Medieval and Renaissance Church History
- CHUR 601 Modern and Contemporary Church History
- CHUR 801 History of the Church in the USA
Liturgy, Spirituality and Pastoral Theology – minimum 9 credits
- LITY 501 Introduction to the Liturgy
- SPIR 502 Christian Spirituality
- PATH 801 Pastoral Counseling

Moral Theology – minimum 12 credits
- MORL 501 Fundamental Moral Theology I
- MORL 502 Fundamental Moral Theology II
- MORL 801 Medical and Sexual Morality
- MORL 804 Justice and Social Teaching of the Church

Sacred Scripture – minimum 15 credits
- SCRP 501 Introduction to Biblical Studies/Wisdom and Psalms
- SCRP 502 Pentateuch and Historical Books
- SCRP 601 The Prophets
- SCRP 602 Matthew and Mark
- SCRP 702 Gospel and Letters of John, plus Book of Apocalypse

Systematic Theology – minimum 15 credits
- SYST 501 Revelation, Faith, and Theology
- SYST 502 Theology of Tri-personal God
- SYST 604 Sacraments: Baptism and Confirmation
- SYST 606 Grace and the Theological Virtues
- SYST 703 Ecclesiology, Mariology, Ecumenism
- SYST 704 Holy Orders
- SYST 705 Christology
- SYST 801 Sacraments of Healing: Penance and Anointing
- SYST 802 Holy Eucharist
- SYST 804 Soteriology and Eschatology

Pastoral Field Experience – minimum 6 credits
- PFED 501 1T Supervised Field Ed. Placement: Catechetics and Teaching Ministry which includes PFED 599 Pedagogy seminar (7 sessions/fall)
- PFED 502 1T Supervised Field Ed. Placement: Catechetics and Teaching Ministry
- PFED 601 2T Supervised Field Ed. Placement: Health Care or Social Justice Ministry
- PFED 602 2T Supervised Field Ed. Placement: Health Care or Social Justice Ministry
- PFED 701 3T Supervised Field Ed. Placement: Evangelization or Parish Ministry
- PFED 702 3T Supervised Field Ed. Placement: Evangelization or Parish Ministry
- PFED 801 4T Supervised Field Ed. Placement: Parish Ministry
- PFED 802 4T Supervised Field Ed. Placement: Parish Ministry

Academic Requirements
All course credits applied to the M.Div. degree should be earned at the Mount (or another appropriately accredited graduate-level institution recognized by the U.S. Department of Education or by the Congregation for Catholic Education in Rome) within ten years of the awarding of the degree. The provisions of the catalog are not to be regarded as an irrevocable contract between the seminary and the student. The Seminary reserves the right to change any provisions or requirements at any time. Its general practice is to make no provisions retroactive, unless necessitated by changes in the PPF or other compelling causes.
Pastoral Field Education
The M.Div. degree program, as part of the distribution requirements outlined above, requires participation in supervised pastoral ministry experiences. The Pastoral Formation handbook section of the Seminarian Handbook details the specifics of supervised pastoral field education aspects of the M.Div. degree program.

Honors at Graduation
The graduation honors are calculated not from just the 90 credits required for the M.Div. degree but from the cumulative GPA of all courses taken in the four years of the ordination formation program, excluding pre-theology coursework.

Educational Assessment
Assessment of student learning outcomes includes 1) the process of assessing student attainment of the overall formation program goals and criteria, especially in the area of intellectual formation, resulting in the recommendation of the rector that the student be ordained, 2) assessment of student attainment of particular degree program goals/learning outcomes, resulting in endorsement by the faculty that the student be awarded the degree, and 3) assessment of student performance in individual components of the program, resulting in grades and evaluations. Details of the 2014 strategies for the educational assessment of candidates in all areas of formation are found in the “Formation Program: Assessment Plan” located in the Seminary Faculty Resources (available upon request). Priesthood Assessment Integration Seminar (P.A.I.S.) is designed as a synthesis seminar, a capstone to the formation program as well as the M.Div. degree program.

Educational Resources and Learning Strategies
Location/Duration
The program requires a minimum of three academic years of full-time work or its equivalent, including a one-year residency requirement. Degree must be completed within ten years of matriculation.

Distinctive Resources
Priest, lay, and religious faculty members combine scholarly credentials and pastoral experience in their courses, and there are many opportunities for formal and informal community interaction with the candidates. Seminary faculty serve as formation advisors, and spiritual directors are available from a list approved by the director of spiritual formation. Degree candidates have full access to the library and information technology, learning services, writing center, ESL support, supervised pastoral field education placements, and all other aspects of campus life.

Admission to the M.Div. Degree Program
A bachelor’s degree (or the equivalent) from an appropriately accredited institution recognized by the U.S. Department of Education or by the Congregation for Catholic Education in Rome is a prerequisite.

Completion of a minimum of 30 undergraduate credits in philosophy (see Pre-Theology Formation Program for suggested titles).

All seminarians in theology are enrolled in the Master of Divinity degree program and must fulfill the seminary admission procedures. All other students who meet admission requirements must declare their degree program upon application.
Transfer Credits/Advanced Standing
Candidates with prior transferable credits in courses equivalent to basic core requirements, upon the recommendation of the Admissions Committee, may be accepted in an advanced theology class year. To be considered transferable, credits must be earned with a minimum grade of “C” (2.0), from an appropriately accredited graduate-level institution recognized by the U.S. Department of Education or by the Congregation for Catholic Education in Rome. Transfer credits are not calculated into the final GPA calculations for the M.Div. degree.

No more than two-thirds of required M.Div. credits may be accepted in transfer towards the degree (ATS Standard 3.11-3.13). All applicants must submit official transcripts showing prior work to be reviewed by the Seminary academic dean and Seminary registrar. All course credits applied to the M.Div. degree should be earned at the Mount (or another appropriately accredited graduate-level institution recognized by the U.S. Department of Education or by the Congregation for Catholic Education in Rome) within ten years of the awarding of the degree.

Mature candidates with evidence of significant professional, military, academic, continuing education may be admitted at the discretion of the Seminary academic dean. Prerequisite coursework may be waived based on the judgment that this evidence provides the well-founded hope of the ability to actively pursue and complete the degree.

Master of Arts (Theology) Program
Program Directors/Department Chairs:
- Church History - Dr. Owen Phelan
- Moral Theology - Dr. John Love
- Sacred Scripture - Dr. William Bales
- Systematic Theology - Rev. Lawrence Donohoo

Purpose, Goals, Learning Outcomes, and Educational Assessment

Purpose of the Degree
The purpose of the Master of Arts (Theology) degree program is to provide a student with competence in the study of theology as a scientific discipline and to serve as a step toward further graduate study. This academic graduate degree is accredited by the Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools and the Association of Theological Schools. It follows the standard nomenclature and complies with all relevant ATS standards.

Goals of the Program
The primary goal of the Master of Arts (Theology) degree program is to equip candidates with general knowledge and the ability to do theological research and writing at the Master's level.

Objectives
The M.A. (Theology) degree program candidates will gain both survey knowledge of theology as well as a focus in an area of concentration for study and research writing in Church History, Moral Theology, Sacred Scripture, or Systematic Theology, and demonstrate the ability to do theological research and writing at the Master’s level.

Degree Requirements
- A minimum of forty-eight (48) graduate credit hours in a curriculum determined by the area of concentration selected by the candidate from among Church History, Moral Theology, Sacred Scripture, and Systematic Theology. This coursework includes four foundational theology core courses, four concentration department specific core courses, three other core classes (one from each of the other concentrations), three concentration electives with concomitant research projects (with no grade below 3.0), plus enough credits of other course or thesis work for the required minimum total of 48 credits identified as counting towards the degree.

- Seminarians must attain a minimum GPA of 3.0 in four specified 501-level core/foundational courses for entrance into the program and all candidates are required to attain a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0 in all courses applied toward the M.A. (Theology) degree.

- Foreign language reading proficiency is required only if such competence is demanded by the proposed research projects, such as the use of Biblical Greek or Hebrew for exegesis papers by Sacred Scripture concentrators.

- Satisfactory completion of a comprehensive examination.

_Educational Assessment_

The attainment of a minimum 3.0 GPA on the coursework required for the concentration, completion of the comprehensive examination and the approval of the three completed research projects (or one project and the thesis option) for the research portfolio together comprise the summative evaluation instrument which ensures that candidates of the M.A. (Theology) program have met the degree program goals.

Portfolio of Written Research Projects
M.A. (Theology) candidates must complete a portfolio of independently directed research projects. The portfolio typically comprises of a one-credit writing component taken concomitantly with each of the three electives in the area of concentration. The final approved copies are kept on file with the Seminary registrar.

- Departments may establish policies requiring specific courses or professors for the electives and research projects. When possible each research project should be written under the direction of a different professor.
• Requirements for Written Research Projects Each paper shall present a well-researched point in Church History, Moral Theology, Sacred Scripture, or Systematic Theology in a clear, organized and reasoned way. The requirements for the research project should be included on the elective syllabus, clearly delineating the time table, deadline for different stages of the project, grading criteria, etc. The candidate shall demonstrate the ability to formulate an outline, discern and employ appropriate literature needed to research the topic thoroughly, to state the facts and positions in an intelligible manner, to discern and present the strengths and weaknesses of the arguments which have been investigated, and to draw an appropriate conclusion.

• Length and Style The written text shall be a minimum of 15 standard pages (about 250 words per page), exclusive of notes and bibliography. The director must agree to the candidate's choice of topic. The director will provide guidance through the outline, research, and draft stages of the written research project, and will award a letter grade to the completed work. Mount St. Mary’s Seminary requires the Turabian style sheet with its preference for footnotes rather than endnotes. Projects will not be approved which rely too heavily on internet resources.

• The Final Copy Each approved research project to be added to the M.A. candidate’s portfolio is to be submitted electronically to the Seminary registrar at the end of the semester in which it was written. The cover page is to follow the basic standard format of wording established by the Seminary faculty which includes the approval signature of the professor. A sample of the approved format is available from the Seminary registrar upon request. The completed Research Projects Portfolio is maintained by the Seminary registrar and may be made publically available through the Phillips Library Archives.

  o It is the student’s responsibility to ensure that the final electronic copy with the professor’s approval signature has been submitted properly to the Seminary registrar in a timely manner.

• Grading Each directed written research project is given a letter grade, separate from the grade for the elective, which reflects the quality of the research and writing.

  o Failure to Earn the Requisite Minimal Grade for a Research Project A minimal grade of B (3.0) is required to add a research project to the portfolio. A deficient research project may be repeated one time.

  o Failure of a Research Project Component A student fails the 1-credit research project if the required paper is not submitted on time. Any grade of I (incomplete) for a research project must be resolved according to seminary policy. There are no additional extensions given for research projects. Otherwise, a grade of F is entered on the transcript, and the term and cumulative grade point average is calculated accordingly.

  o Repeating a Research Project Component An MA candidate may repeat a deficient or failed research project one additional time. The candidate is not required to repeat the concomitant elective if this course has already been taken and passed. Transcripts will indicate a retake of the research project. If a higher grade is earned, the cumulative GPA will be recalculated based on the retake grade with the previous deficient or failed attempt forgiven.
Withdrawal from a Research Project

- Before the Deadline for Withdrawal from Seminary Courses No student may withdraw from a course after the fourth week of the semester without penalty. Students who withdraw are given a W on their transcript, and no credit is calculated as attempted in the determination of the GPA. As in all other seminary courses, the student must submit a written explanation to the professor with a copy to the formation advisor and the Seminary academic dean explaining the reasons for the proposed withdrawal.

- After the Deadline for Withdrawal from Seminary Courses A grade of F is given to a student who drops a seminary research course after the fourth week of the semester, but who is not dropping out of the M.A. (Theology) program. The grade of F is entered on the transcript and the one credit is calculated as attempted in the determination of the GPA.

- Withdrawal from Both Research Course and M.A. (Theology) Program A grade of WF is given for withdrawal from a seminary research course after the deadline on the condition that the student is withdrawing not only from the course but also from the M.A. (Theology) program. The grade of WF appears on the transcript and no credit is calculated as attempted in the determination of the GPA.

Thesis Option

With the permission of the concentration department and after the successful completion of one 15-page MA research project, a candidate may opt to write a longer 6-credit thesis, in lieu of two of the 1-credit research projects.

- Distinction between a Thesis and a Research Portfolio Because the thesis requires more extensive research and writing, six credits are awarded in total for two 3-credit elective classes, taken in sequential semesters. At the Master's level one would not expect the thesis to produce some new discovery. It must, however, give evidence of research and knowledge in greater depth than is expected in a research portfolio. It can also treat questions that have a broader scope, since more time is allotted for this project.

  - Beginning the M.A. (Theology) Thesis Project It is the responsibility of the candidate to approach a prospective director for the M.A. (Theology) thesis from those teaching in the area of concentration, as soon as possible after the candidate enters the M.A. (Theology) program. Each department will determine the procedure by which students will get approval for their thesis topics. Therefore, students should ask their prospective director about the departmental policies governing the procedure for beginning an MA Thesis Project.

  Normally, a student must complete successfully one 15-page MA research project to demonstrate their capacity to undertake a thesis project. The thesis director may wave this requirement, if they judge that the student's previously completed research and writing demonstrate sufficient capacity to begin working on a thesis project.

  - Two 3-credit Classes for Thesis Writing Two 3-credit elective classes are taken in sequential semesters to provide time to complete the writing process, and give appropriate credit hours for doing so.
• Recommended Schedule for Completion of Thesis Option The following schedule is the recommended, but not required timeline for completion of a thesis project. The March 31st deadline for the director's final approval in order to qualify for a May commencement remains, however, unless there are extraordinary circumstances, and an extension of the thesis-completion deadline is granted through the agreement of the thesis director and the Seminary academic dean.

  o Stages to be Completed in Second Theology The first step of the Thesis option is successful completion of one 15-page MA research project, preferably in the Fall semester of second theology. If a thesis director waves this requirement because the director has decided that the student has demonstrated through previous work the necessary research and writing skills to begin a thesis project, then the student should begin the procedure for the thesis project during the Fall semester of 2nd Theology (or the first year in the MA program).

  The candidate and director should have a preliminary discussion of possible topics. They should follow the appropriate departmental policies for approving the thesis topic. They should review the thesis topic proposal form (available from the office of the Seminary registrar), and plan a schedule to meet its deadlines.

  After the thesis topic has been approved, the M.A. (Theology) thesis must be registered for as a 3-credit elective class during two semesters, for a total of 6-credit hours devoted to the thesis project, typically in the second semester of 2nd Theology, and the first semester of 3rd Theology (or the second and third semesters in the MA program).

  o Stages to be Completed in Third Theology Following the two elective classes devoted to drafting the thesis project, candidates should submit a full draft, an outline, and a bibliography to the director no later than two weeks after the start of the next semester. Approval of the department is required for any extension of this full draft submission. The thesis director will determine the procedure for reaching a final draft of the project, possibly, but not necessarily including multiple drafts.

  o Stages to be Completed in Fourth Theology Ideally, students will complete their thesis project during 3rd theology (or their second year in the M.A. program). This parallels the usual schedule for MA students who write three 15-page M.A. research projects instead of a thesis project. According to this plan, the 4th Theology year stands as additional time that may be used to complete the thesis project, if necessary. Thesis projects must receive final approval of the director no later than March 31 to qualify toward a May commencement.

• Length and Style A recommended average length for the M.A. (Theology) thesis is approximately 60 to 80 pages. The candidate should outline the thesis in such a way as to present the research adequately within this limit. The thesis must use correct grammar, style, and technical form. Mount St. Mary’s Seminary follows the Turabian style sheet, and accepts its preference for footnotes.
- Grading The thesis director (first reader) grades the final draft of the thesis project. Only a grade "B" or higher will be accepted and entered on the student's transcript and averaged in with the other courses in order to arrive at the final GPA.

The second reader reviews the final draft of the thesis project only after the thesis director has given the thesis project a passing grade (B or higher). The second reader determines whether they judge the thesis project to have “passed” or “failed.”

If the second reader judges the thesis project to have “failed,” the Seminary academic dean will consult with the faculty in the area of concentration of the thesis project, and assign a third reader. The vote of that reader, either “pass” or “fail,” shall decide whether the thesis project has passed with the grade given by the thesis director, or fails.

- Failure to Earn the Requisite Minimal Grade for a Thesis A candidate may have an additional attempt to improve the quality of the thesis. The policies outlined above for repeating research projects apply.

- Final Copy The official final electronic copy of the M.A. (Theology) thesis should be signed by both the director and second reader and submitted electronically to the Office of the Seminary Registrar. The title of the approved thesis will be noted on the candidate's transcript. A basic standard format for the title page, similar to that approved by the seminary faculty for a research project, with a place for both the director and second reader to sign and date the approval is to be followed. A sample of the approved format for the cover page is available from the Seminary registrar, upon request.

  - Courtesy demands that a copy be given to the Ordinary, the director, and the second reader. Copier centers offer various binding services for any additional copies needed. The thesis must be completed within four years of initial matriculation into the M.A. (Theology) degree program.

Comprehensive Examination

- Purpose The exam shall measure the candidate’s mastery of a body of theological knowledge as well as the ability to synthesize.

- Time of the Exam Offered in March of fourth theology, seminarian candidates are automatically registered for the comprehensive examination during registration for the spring semester. Only registered candidates may take the exam. The deadline for withdrawal (which must be made in writing to the Seminary Registrar) is two weeks prior to the examination. A no-show is counted as a failure, emergencies excepted.

- Study Guide After registering for the exam in the fall of fourth theology (or in the fall of the year a non-ordination program candidate plans to take the comprehensive examination), the candidate will receive a study guide prepared by the department of concentration which should incorporate materials from the cores taken in the other disciplines in so far as possible. The study guide may, at the discretion of the department, include some bibliography should the department wish to offer it as a sort of reading list.

- Method of the Examination Each student will be examined by a team composed of the professors in the department of concentration for a 30-minute oral examination. Departments establish the specific procedures for the oral examination. The exam consists of any or all of the study guide questions. The academic dean designates one member of each board of examiners as the “chair of the exam.” It is the responsibility of the chair to keep time, to determine the ordering of the three 10-minute sections of the oral examination, to call for a vote at its conclusion, and to report the result of the examination to the Seminary registrar.

- In exceptional cases, a written comprehensive exam or an oral exam using remote technology may be authorized by the Seminary academic dean.

- Passing the Examination After the candidate is excused, each examiner votes individually either pass or fail. Each judges both the merits of the answers given to questions he or she posed as well as the overall performance of the student in the examination as a whole. Candidates pass the comprehensive exam by obtaining a unanimous vote of pass. Departments may record pass/fail or pass/fail/distinction for the comprehensive examination. The chair of the exam delivers the results to the Seminary registrar, who announces the result to the candidate. The student is told the overall grade of pass or fail, not the individual vote of members of the examining board. The individual votes remain confidential. Nevertheless, any student who has failed is free to meet individually with members of the examining board to seek advice as to how to prepare for an eventual second attempt.

- Policy on Seminarians who Choose Not to Sit for the Scheduled M.A. (Theology) Comprehensive Examination Seminarians are required to complete all M.A. (Theology) requirements before the end of their fourth year theology. Seminarians are automatically scheduled to sit for the M.A. (Theology) comprehensive examination when they register for their final semester of study, usually in their fourth year. Students who are scheduled to take the M.A. (Theology) comprehensive examination are exempt from the requirement of taking an elective in their final semester of seminary study. Subsequent failure to sit for the examination will count as one failed attempt at the comprehensive examination and will be recorded as such. In such a case, the seminarian has only one remaining opportunity to take and pass the comprehensive examination. This may take place no sooner than the semester following his failure to sit for the originally scheduled examination, and no later than one year after the failure. He may still earn the M.A. (Theology) degree (assuming all other requirements are met before he completes his final semester). However, if he fails to complete the other requirements or fails the exam or fails to take it in that timeframe, he is no longer eligible to earn the degree.

- Retaking the Comprehensive Exam Candidates who fail the comprehensive exam are permitted one additional attempt to pass the exam (usually no sooner than fall semester following their first attempt). The second attempt involves preparing the new study guide and sitting for the 30-minute exam as described above. The board of examiners will not necessarily be the same.

  - It is the M.A. (Theology) candidate’s responsibility to contact the department chair and request the rescheduled exam. The chair will set a date and establish a board of examiners and determine the study guide for the exam. It is expected that the exam be given face to face (in person) at the Seminary.

  - In exceptional cases, a written comprehensive exam or an oral exam using remote technology may be authorized by the Seminary academic dean.
The department chair shall inform the Seminary academic dean and Seminary registrar when and if the comprehensive exam date is set. If the exam is passed and all other requirements are met, the degree will be awarded at the graduation ceremony the following May.

Written Comprehensive Examination (for exceptional cases, only)

- Developing Examination Questions for Written Comprehensive Examinations A board of three examiners, one of whom is also named the chair, is selected by the Seminary academic dean. They meet and determine the three synthetic questions for the written examination. These may include any or all of the questions from the oral exam study guide for that year. The chair submits the questions to the Seminary registrar who mails the assembled packet to the M.A. (Theology) candidate in a sealed envelope.

- Proctor Written examinations are to be proctored. This is to be arranged by the candidate. Directions are given to the student on the sealed envelope containing the exam. The proctor is asked to sign a statement on the envelope, as follows: “I have monitored the M.A. (Theology) candidate’s comprehensive exam, which I received in this sealed envelope. The candidate was allowed a total of 90 minutes to complete the questions. The candidate did not use any books, notes, or other materials in preparing the written response other than the one page of prepared outlines which are being included with this exam.”

- Written Comprehensive Examination Process
  - The candidate may not exceed 90 minutes to complete the questions chosen from the alternatives offered.
  - The comprehensive exam consists of questions based on the three synthetic questions of the study guide. The candidate may use word-processing technology or may write out the answers in ink on lined paper or in the blue books provided with the exam. A separate blue book or sheets of paper should be used for each section of the exam. The candidate is to return the original envelope signed by the proctor, the exam questions sheet, and his or her answers to the Seminary registrar in the envelope provided for that purpose as soon as possible. The written exam will be considered void and the attempt a failure if the exam is not returned within one month of its receipt.

- Grading for Written Comprehensive Exams
  - Each examiner votes individually either pass or fail. Each judges both the merits of the answers given to questions he or she posed, as well as the overall performance of the student in the examination as a whole. Departments may record pass/fail or pass/fail/distinction for the examination. Candidates pass the written comprehensive exam by obtaining a unanimous vote of pass.
  - The chair of the exam delivers the results to the Seminary registrar, who announces the result to the candidate. The student is told the overall grade of pass or fail, not the individual vote of members of the examining board. The individual votes remain confidential.
Nevertheless, any student who has failed is free to meet individually with members of the examining board to seek advice as to how to prepare for an eventual second attempt. A minimum of two weeks should be allowed for notification of the results of a written examination.

- Retaking Written Comprehensive Exams Only two attempts are permitted of the comprehensive examination, regardless of the format.

M.A. (Theology) Degree Completion

All degree requirements must be completed by seminarians by the end of their fourth year of theology. Non-ordination program candidates must complete their program no later than four years from initial matriculation. Candidates who opt for a thesis, because of the length of that project, may have extended time but must complete all degree requirements within four years of the date of matriculation.

- Candidates are considered currently enrolled in the program from the date of matriculation until either they complete the degree, officially withdraw, or allow the time limit to expire.
- The Seminary academic dean and the department chair must approve any request for an extension due to extraordinary circumstances.

Honors at Graduation

Graduation honors are calculated from the cumulative grade point average of the minimum 48 credits earned for the M.A. (Theology) degree and are noted on the transcript.

Withdrawal from the M.A. (Theology) Degree Program

Seminarian candidates withdraw from the M.A. (Theology) degree program only with the consultation of their formation advisor and the approval of the diocese, since this same process was required to enter the program.

- The Seminary registrar must be notified in writing by the student of their intention to withdraw from the M.A. (Theology) program (with copies given to the formation advisor and vocation director). The transcript will show an indication of withdrawal from the M.A. (Theology) program. If currently enrolled in any coursework for the degree program, the intention to withdraw from such courses, in particular a Research Project component, must also be clearly communicated to the Seminary registrar (and the proper drop/add or withdrawal form completed).
- Students who withdraw from the M.A. (Theology) program will be readmitted to the degree program only with the consent of the Seminary academic dean and the chair of the department in which the student intends to concentrate. This shall occur only in exceptional circumstances.

Educational Resources and Learning Strategies

Location/Duration

The M.A. (Theology) degree program normally requires a minimum of two years of study. Candidates who are also completing the M.Div. can expect to complete the M.A. (Theology) degree by the end of the ordination formation program. No more than two-thirds of the 48 credits applied to the M.A. (Theology) degree may be applied towards the M.Div. degree. Course work applied towards the degree must be completed within ten years of completion.
Distinctive Resources
Most members of the Seminary faculty are in possession of earned doctorates, the majority from pontifical universities. Most faculty members reside on campus and take part in the community life of the Seminary. The full range of information technology, writing center, library and interlibrary loan services are available to both residents and day students alike. A member of the library staff serves as a theological bibliographer and is available to facilitate research projects.

Admission to the M.A. (Theology) Degree Program

- Bachelor’s degree (or the equivalent) from an appropriately accredited institution recognized by the U.S. Department of Education (or by the Congregation for Catholic Education in Rome)

- A minimum of 18 undergraduate credits in philosophy, preferably the following titles (which are offered regularly as part of the Pre-Theology Formation Program):

  - PHIL 202 Logic and Philosophical Method (fall)
  - PHIL 301/MAP 501 Ethics and the Human Good (spring)
  - PHIL 311/MAP 511 Ancient Philosophy (fall)
  - PHIL 312/MAP 512 Medieval Philosophy (spring)
  - PHIL 313/MAP 511 Modern Philosophy (fall)
  - PHIL 314/MAP 514 Contemporary Philosophy (spring)

- Completion of online application form and submission of required documentation. Seminarian/priesthood candidates must also have the approval of their diocese/religious order and endorsement by the seminarian’s formation advisor (for priesthood candidates only).

Typically seminarians in first theology enroll in the M.A. (Theology) degree program during the fall or spring registration period (declaring the concentration on the online application form and obtaining the endorsement of their diocese and their formation advisor). All other students (non-seminarians and transfer seminarians) who meet admission requirements must declare their degree program and area of concentration upon application (see admissions procedures for non-seminarians). A 3.0 cumulative GPA in the four Foundational (1T cores: LITY501, MORL501, SCR501, SYST501) is required as part of the admission process for seminarian candidates.

Transfer Credits Up to nine (9) transferable semester credits may be accepted towards the M.A. (Theology) degree. To be considered transferable, credits must be earned with a minimum grade of “C” (2.0), from an appropriately accredited graduate-level institution recognized by the U.S. Department of Education or by the Congregation for Catholic Education in Rome. Transfer credits are not calculated into the final GPA calculations for the M.Div. degree. Applicants must submit official transcripts showing prior work to be reviewed by the Seminary academic dean and Seminary registrar. All course credits applied to the M.A. (Theology) degree should be earned at the Mount (or another appropriately accredited graduate-level institution recognized by the U.S. Department of Education or by the Congregation for Catholic Education in Rome) within ten years of the awarding of the degree.

Mature candidates with evidence of significant professional, military, academic, continuing education may be admitted at the discretion of the Seminary academic dean. Some prerequisite coursework in philosophy may be waived based on the judgment that this evidence provides the well-founded hope of the ability to actively pursue and complete the degree.
BACHELOR OF SACRED THEOLOGY PROGRAM

Program Director – Rev. Lawrence Donohoo

Purpose, Goals, Learning Outcomes, and Educational Assessment

Purpose of the Degree
As a first-cycle graduate-level ecclesiastical academic degree, the Bachelor of Sacred Theology (S.T.B.) degree enables graduates to pursue further studies in the sacred sciences. The degree is a prerequisite for further pursuit of an ecclesiastical licentiate degree (S.T.L or M.Th.) and is also accepted for further study in universities of the European Union where the M.Div. is not recognized.

Goals of the Program
The S.T.B. degree program aims to provide seminarians with a solid, Thomistic, organic, and complete instruction in theology at the basic level.

Objectives
S.T.B. candidates will gain a basic but solid, Thomistic, organic understanding of theology; integrated by a capstone comprehensive examination.

Degree Requirements

- Coursework A minimum of 100 semester credit hours of coursework is required with the following distribution: 12 Church History; 21 Foundational; 15 Moral; 10 Sacramental; 21 Scriptural; 23 Systematic; plus 8 units of Pastoral/Formation Seminars.
  - A demonstrated reading knowledge of New Testament Greek and Ecclesiastical Latin.
  - A minimum 3.00 GPA in all coursework being applied toward the S.T.B. degree.
  - Satisfactory completion of the two-part S.T.B. comprehensive examination. The subject matter is material covered in the courses in Systematic and Sacramental Theology, Moral Theology, and Scripture.

- Program Coursework the S.T.B. program requires a minimum of 102 credits in the following discipline areas:
  - 21 credits of Foundational: CANL 601, CANL 702, LITY 501, MORL 501, MORL 502, SPIR 502, SYST 501
  - 22 credits of Systematic: SYST 502, SYST 605, SYST 606, SYST 703, SYST 705, SYST 804, SYST 920
  - 11 credits of Sacramental: SYST 604, SYST 704, SYST 801, SYST 802
  - 15 credits of Moral: MORL 602, MORL 801, MORL802, MORL 907, MORL 908
  - 21 credits of Scripture: SCRP 501, SCRP 502, SCRP 601, SCRP 602, SCRP 701, SCRP 702, SCRP 801
  - 12 credits of Church History: CHUR 501, CHUR 502, CHUR 601, CHUR 801
  - 8 units of Pastoral Theology: ORDN 501, ORDN 502, ORDN 601, ORDN 602, ORDN 701, ORDN 702, ORDN 801, ORDN 802, plus fall and spring (10 hour) workshops

- Instruction Units Seminary courses are offered in fall and spring 15 week semesters, during which:
  - 3 credit courses meet 3 hours per week for 15 weeks (150 hours of instruction)
  - 2 credit courses meet 3 hours per week for 10 weeks (100 hours of instruction)
- 0 credit/1 unit formation seminars meet 75 minutes per week (50 hours of instruction)

- Language Requirements S.T.B. candidates must demonstrate a reading knowledge of New Testament Greek and Ecclesiastical Latin.

- Grade Point Average S.T.B. candidates must maintain a grade point average of 3.00 or above in the S.T.B. requirements.

- Comprehensive Exam The S.T.B. comprehensive exam consists of a written and an oral examination. Normally the candidate takes the comprehensive examination during the seventh or eighth semester of study. The subject matter is material covered in the courses in systematic and sacramental theology, moral theology, and Scripture. A study guide of the themes or theses is given to the candidates. A series of preparatory and synthesis sessions may be provided to those registered for the S.T.B. comprehensive. In order to pass, a student must receive an average grade of 3.0 on the exam. A candidate for the S.T.B. degree may not continue candidacy after two failures in the comprehensive examination.

  - Composition of the Examining Board The board of examiners will consist of four professors, one each from the areas of sacred scripture, systematic theology, and moral theology, and one examiner from the Pontifical Faculty of the Immaculate Conception of the Dominican House of Studies (DHS).

  - Part One: Written Component
    - Purpose The principal purpose of the Written Component of the S.T.B. Examination will be to test the candidate’s ability to expose theological materials, with special emphasis (as appropriate) on the pertinent contributions of historical and positive theology.
    - Structure A three-hour long written examination in which the candidate for the S.T.B. will be asked to write on three of the questions from the study guide, one each from the assigned areas of sacred scripture, systematic theology and moral theology. In each area the candidate will be able to choose from three possible questions.

  - Part Two: Oral Component
    - Purpose The principal purpose of the Oral Component of the examination will be to test the candidate’s ability to order these materials towards a reasoned theological judgment or conclusion.
    - Structure A three-quarters of an hour long exam before three faculty members and a representative of DHS who will examine the candidate in all of the assigned areas. Questions may be drawn from any of the themes. The Oral Component of the S.T.B. examination will be scheduled as soon as possible after the Written Component, preferably no later than three days. During the Oral Component of the examination, a complete set of themes will be provided for reference by both the candidate and the examiners. The candidate should bring a Bible to the oral examination.
Grading of the Examination

- The following grades may be assigned for each part of the exam: A (4.0); A- (3.75); B+ (3.5); B (3.0); B- (2.75); C+ (2.5); C (2.0); C- (1.75); F (0).

- The grade for the S.T.B. comprehensive examination is the average of all grades submitted by the examiners (written and oral components), with a minimum average of 3.0 needed for each component. Each examiner will assign a grade evaluating only those sections of the examination which he administered.

- No S.T.B. candidate will be admitted to the oral component without having received the minimum average for the written component. If the candidate has not met the 3.0 benchmark for the oral component, he need repeat only this component.

- The grades for both the oral and written components of the comprehensive examination will be available from the Office of the Seminary Academic Dean. Candidates are not informed of how each examination board member graded their exam components.

S.T.B. Degree GPA and Honors at Graduation

- The final GPA for the S.T.B. program is calculated, in accordance with the norms established by the Pontifical Faculty of the Immaculate Conception, according to the following method: the S.T.B. course work is worth 75% and the comprehensive examination is worth 25%, with a minimum final GPA of 3.00 required for the awarding of the degree.

- Just as the cumulative GPA standards are higher for the S.T.B. than for the M.Div. degree, the graduation honors, in accordance with the norms established by the Pontifical Faculty of the Immaculate Conception, follow a slightly higher standard, as follows: summa cum laude (3.90 to 4.00); magna cum laude (3.70 to 3.89); and cum laude (3.50 to 3.69). Any graduation honors will be noted on the transcript along with other pertinent details about the S.T.B. degree program.

Educational Resources and Learning Strategies

Residency and Fees
- The standard residency requirement for the S.T.B. degree is eight semesters.
- A $200.00 per year S.T.B. fee is charged (billed $100 each semester after matriculation in the S.T.B. degree program).
- A non-refundable $25.00 diploma fee (check payable to the “Pontifical Faculty of the Immaculate Conception”) is due prior to taking the comprehensive examinations in Fourth Theology.

Admission in the S.T.B. Degree Program

The following prerequisites for admission will be evaluated by the Seminary academic dean who may, in individual cases, allow the student to remedy particular deficiencies during the first year of the program:

- A bachelor’s degree (B.A./B.S./or its equivalent) from an accredited college or university
- Superior achievement and the ability to pursue graduate work as indicated by the transcript of previous studies (with a minimum GPA of 3.00)
- An undergraduate foundation in philosophy, including a minimum of 36 credit hours. Courses should include ancient, medieval, modern and contemporary philosophy, logic, ethics, metaphysics, epistemology, natural theology, philosophical anthropology, political philosophy, and cosmology.
- A reading knowledge of Latin

Transfer of Credits into the S.T.B. Program

In accordance with the norms established by the Pontifical Faculty of the Immaculate Conception, candidates may transfer a maximum of thirty (30) credits, taken from an ecclesiastical faculty or other institution granting canonical degrees through affiliation with an ecclesiastical faculty, to satisfy S.T.B. degree requirements.

Withdrawal from the S.T.B. Degree Program

- Seminarian candidates withdraw from the S.T.B. program only with the consultation of their formation advisor and the approval of the diocese, since this same process was required to enter the program.
• The Seminary registrar must be notified by the student in writing, with a copy to the formation advisor and the academic dean, of their intention to withdraw from the S.T.B. degree program. The transcript will show an indication of withdrawal from the program.

• Students who withdraw from the S.T.B. degree program will be readmitted to the degree program only with the consent of the Seminary academic dean. This shall occur only in exceptional circumstances.

PRE-THEOLOGY FORMATION PROGRAM
Program Director - Dr. John-Mark Miravalle

Purpose, Goals, Learning Outcomes, and Educational Assessment

Purpose of the Program
This two-year formation program has as its purpose the preparation of candidates for entry into the theologate. Candidates who complete the program are so certified.

For those who have completed college but lack the philosophical and theological background necessary to enter the theologate, this two-year program will equip them with 30 credit hours of philosophy (PPF, 152-160), plus ecclesiastical Latin, Biblical Greek, and undergraduate theology. These courses will focus on material needed to begin the study of theology.

Qualified bachelor degree bearing pre-theology candidates, with the permission of the Seminary academic dean and the sponsoring diocese, may enroll in the optional Master of Arts in Philosophical Studies (M.A.P.S.) degree program administered by the University's philosophy department.

For those who have not yet completed an undergraduate degree, an individualized curriculum can, in most cases, allow such students to complete the academic requirements for pre-theology (PPF, 161) at the same time as they complete the requirements for the bachelor’s degree with a major in Philosophy, through Mount St. Mary's University.

Goals of the Program
The Pre-theology Formation Program aims at an adult level of affective maturity and interpersonal skills, a practical spiritual discipline, an exposure to apostolic life, and intellectual readiness for graduate theological studies.

Objectives
The primary intellectual focus is the study of philosophy, which is balanced, comprehensive, integrated, and coherent (PPF, 155). Its specific objectives are for the student to:

• Gain an introductory understanding of the main historical periods, the major figures, and the main fields of philosophy
• Gain an introductory understanding of the major positions taken in the philosophical tradition that have significance for theology
• Develop analytic and critical abilities
• Develop a reflective awareness of the relation between reason and faith
• Acquire a foundation for future theological study
Educational Assessment

To receive a Certificate of Completion, pre-theologians must successfully complete the program content/curriculum with a minimum GPA of 2.0 in their philosophy, theology, and language coursework.

Educational Resources and Learning Strategies

Location/Duration

Pre-theology is a two-year full-time residential formation program. At the conclusion of the second year of Pre-theology students are awarded a Pre-Theology Formation Program certificate if they have completed at least one year of residency at Mount St. Mary’s Seminary. The certificate represents the completion of the formation program with its four pillars (Human, Spiritual, Intellectual, and Pastoral formation) and normally includes 62 academic credits of which 30 are philosophical studies. In exceptional cases students may be awarded the certificate if they have six credits or less remaining in required philosophical studies coursework to be taken in First Theology.

Seminarians in the Pre-Theology Formation Program may qualify to enroll in the Master of Arts in Philosophical Studies (M.A.P.S.) degree program through the Philosophy Department in the University’s College of Liberal Arts (see the Mount St. Mary’s Graduate catalog and the M.A.P.S. norms for further details).

Distinctive Resources
Seminary faculty and the faculty of the College of Liberal Arts collaborate to offer this program. The spiritual, pastoral, and human formation resources are provided exclusively by the Seminary faculty. Pre-theologians are seminarians with full access to the library and information technology, learning services, writing center, ESL support, and all other aspects of campus life.

Pre-Theology Admission Requirements
All pre-theology formation program applicants complete an online application form and submit the documentation required of all Seminary candidates.

Ordinarily applicants must possess a bachelor’s degree from an accredited institution. In particular cases, students within two years of completing their bachelor’s degree may be admitted as a “degree-completing” pre-theologian if they meet the criteria for transfer students into Mount St. Mary’s University.

An applicant with prior coursework may be admitted with advanced standing in the two-year pre-theology formation program only at the recommendation of the Admissions committee and approval of the rector and the partnering diocese or religious order.

MASTER OF ARTS IN PHILOSOPHICAL STUDIES
Program Director - Dr. Christopher Anadale, MSMU/College of Liberal Arts
(see the Mount St. Mary’s University Graduate Catalog for further details and academic norms)

Purpose of the Program
The Master of Arts in Philosophical Studies (M.A.P.S.) is a graduate academic degree program, administered by the Mount St. Mary’s University College of Liberal Arts, which provides an opportunity for advanced study of philosophy, emphasizing both the history of philosophy and major topical areas, with attention to how these inform and are informed by the Catholic intellectual tradition. The degree program is open to qualified pre-theology seminarians.

Goals of the Program
The M.A.P.S. degree program goals are to provide students with advanced mastery of philosophy and its history, and to build their research and writing skills.

Objectives
- Grasp at a Master’s level the history of philosophy and major subject areas in philosophy
- Understand the relationship between faith and reason in the Catholic intellectual tradition
- Demonstrate the skill required for philosophical research and sustained written argument

Admission Requirements for the M.A.P.S. Program
- Bachelor’s degree or equivalent from an accredited college.
- An undergraduate grade point average of 3.0, or other evidence of academic ability.
Seminarian candidates must the approval of the formation advisor, the Seminary academic dean, as well as the sponsoring diocese or religious order. Typically seminarian candidates apply for the M.A.P.S. degree program, which is not administered by the Seminary, by completing an online graduate program application form (in addition to the original application to the Seminary) prior to beginning their second semester of First Pre-Theology. As part of the admissions process, the Seminary academic dean will confirm to the M.A.P.S. program director the approval of the formation advisor, as well as the sponsoring diocese or religious order. Transcripts received during the initial application to the Seminary will be used to confirm the M.A.P.S. applicant’s academic ability. In exceptional cases, the M.A.P.S. program director may admit candidates with a prior undergraduate cumulative GPA of less than 3.0 in a non-liberal arts major based on academic performance in pre-theology classes during their first semester at the Mount. For additional information, contact the M.A.P.S. director or see the M.A.P.S. program page on the Mount St. Mary’s University website.

RELATED ACADEMIC PROGRAMS

HISPANIC MINISTRY CERTIFICATE

Purpose of the Program
The Hispanic Ministry Certificate program aims to address the need for English-speaking seminarians (M.Div. candidates at Mount St. Mary’s Seminary) to be prepared for ministry with Hispanic Catholics in their priestly assignments.

Goals of the Program
The Hispanic Ministry Certificate program aims to prepare English-speaking seminarians (M.Div. candidates at Mount St. Mary’s Seminary) for ministry with Hispanic communities. The program provides seminarians with specific formation for priestly ministry in the growing Hispanic community in the United States in a program which integrates language and cultural studies, Pastoral Field Education, and liturgical experiences.

Objectives
Its specific objectives are to:
- Equip seminarians with the minimum necessary knowledge and skills to speak Spanish
- Understand the cultural setting for Hispanic ministry
- Have the basic skills in pastoral work which will prepare them to be effective preachers, teachers, celebrants, counselors, and confessors
- Develop in the seminarians a love and understanding of the cultures present in their congregations

Content /Requirements
- Language  Spanish language proficiency at the level of PATH 980 Advanced Pastoral Spanish II, SPAN 202 Second Year Spanish II, or its equivalent
- Study of Ministry  PATH 906 Hispanic Ministry elective
- Culture/History  Elective course in either advanced Spanish or the history and culture of Latin America
- Field Education Placement  Pastoral Field Education placement in a setting of Hispanic Ministry
- Liturical Practica  Liturgical training for the celebration of the sacraments in Spanish

Meeting these Requirements
Language proficiency is determined by the Seminary instructor in Pastoral Spanish. Some students will have this proficiency already or will need some further study to meet this expectation.

- To gain proficiency, seminarians may take courses from the four-semester sequence of Pastoral Spanish taught to seminarians in small classes. Placement tests determine the level. In addition, the undergraduate foreign language department in the University also offers undergraduate courses in Spanish language.

- Some dioceses send seminarians to immersion programs in the summer. The Mount has had a positive experience with a school called PROBIGUA. It is a language school based in Antigua Guatemala which enrolls a good number of US seminary students and priests each summer. PROBIGUA offers one on one tutorial classes (four to six hours daily) in two settings. One is in the picturesque and historic city of Antigua and includes living with a host family. A second option is conducted with room and board in a Benedictine run seminary. Details available on request.

Study of Ministry Students qualify by taking the elective in Hispanic Ministry (PATH 906). When there is sufficient enrollment (minimum of 4 students) the Seminary organizes this two-credit elective (described below in this Seminary catalog). With fewer students this course is conducted as an independent study which incorporates directed readings in the Hispanic Ministry documents, placement in a setting with Hispanic ministry opportunities, and a directed research project focused on pastoral themes.

Culture and History Courses in the history and culture of Latin America are offered frequently both in the Seminary and in the University. Some of these are offered in our Church History department.

Field Education Placement The director of pastoral field education has a number of placements available in which men can experience different aspects of Hispanic Ministry. Pastoral training and supervision is offered with the Centro Católico Hispano in Washington, D.C., and multi-cultural parish placements in Washington, D.C., Northern Virginia, Maryland and Pennsylvania. Pastoral assignments which require sacramental administration or preaching in Spanish obviously demand language capacity. Other opportunities, such as evangelization trips to other college campuses, ministry with the local poor, the Mount 2000 Eucharistic retreat, etc., provide opportunities for some Spanish language engagement. Those in the Hispanic Ministry Certificate program are encouraged to seek summer assignments and other diocesan involvement within the Hispanic community and these may be used if an independent study in Hispanic Ministry (see above) is required.

Liturgical Practica A 1.5-credits per semester repeatable course, PATH921-PATH922, Celebrando los Sacramentos, is available to all with a minimum of one year of college Spanish. While the specific liturgical focus may change each semester, this course has several basic objectives: to review the liturgical texts for the administration of the sacraments in Spanish, to review advanced grammar points to “keep the Spanish alive,” to practice oral comprehension with videos, films, and audio recordings, and to practice the proper parts of the Mass and the Readings for the community Mass celebrated in Spanish every Thursday.

For all interested, Mass with Morning Prayer is celebrated every Tuesday in Spanish with the opportunity for preaching and lectoring. Mass is also celebrated every Thursday in Spanish for the entire community. This means that a person enrolled in Pastoral Spanish has five days in a row with some dimension of Spanish, and may even sit at the Friday “Spanish Table” at lunch to further practice his language skills.

Admission

The Hispanic Ministry Certificate program is only available to those seminarian students enrolled in Mount St. Mary’s Seminary’s M.Div./Ordination Formation program. The certificate is awarded at the end of fourth theology upon completion of all requirements for the Hispanic Ministry certificate.

Dual Degree and Hispanic Ministry

The Mount’s six year Pre-theology and Ordination Formation program has built in at least 8 open elective slots. Seminarians with some Spanish proficiency may attempt a dual degree (M.Div.+M.A./Theol or M.Div.+S.T.B.) plus the Hispanic Ministry Certificate; however those with no prior Spanish proficiency may find it difficult (if not impossible) depending on which degree track is attempted and their entering class year (pre-theology or theology).

SPANISH LANGUAGE SUMMER IMMERSSION PROGRAM

Purpose

In recognition that seminarians need to be prepared to minister to the largest, youngest, and fastest growing Catholic population in the United States, Mount St. Mary’s Seminary recommends PROBIGUA, a Spanish-language immersion program located in Antigua Guatemala, Guatemala. This program offers seminarians who have already begun to learn Spanish the chance to perfect their language skills and to get to know the people and culture of Guatemala.

Immersion Program

Priests and seminarians from around the United States travel to Guatemala to learn Spanish as well as Hispanic cultural practices. The length of time spent at the program can be tailored to an individual’s needs or preferences and lasts anywhere from 6 to 10 weeks. The seminarians live with families or individuals but they also would have daily opportunities for common Liturgy of the Hours, Holy Hour and Mass. Classes are conducted tutorial-style, one-on-one for 4 to 5 hours each day, 5 days a week.

Mount St. Mary’s Seminary routinely sends priest faculty or Spanish language professors to the program over the summer to assess the program and the students’ progress. An ability to speak Spanish and familiarity with Hispanic culture is of great value to future priests.

Instruction

Academia de Español PROBIGUA (Proyecto Bibliotecas Guatemala) is a not-for-profit organization which provides:

- an assessment of the seminarian’s present language proficiency
- an individualized educational plan tailored to the seminarian’s particular needs and goals
- selection of a professionally-trained teacher based upon best-match criteria between student and teacher (The student generally stays with the same teacher for at least two weeks, but changes can be made at the student’s request.)
- choices of instructional approach, learning materials, and field trips in order to maximize the student's skills
- preparation for the exams, DELE (Diplomas de Español como Lengua Extranjera, Instituto Cervantes, España)
• excursions to archeological sites, Mayan and colonial ruins, museums, and traditional festivities
• movies and documentaries to facilitate discussions about educational topics
• group workshops to learn about Guatemalan history, culture, folklore, politics, economics, literature

Location
Now commonly referred to as just Antigua (or La Antigua), the city located in the central highlands of Guatemala was one of the grand colonial capitals of the Spanish Empire in America from the 16th to the 18th centuries. Under the name Santiago de los Caballeros de Guatemala, it was the original "Guatemala City." A disastrous major earthquake in 1773 destroyed or damaged most of the city, and the Spanish Crown ordered the Capital moved to a new city, what became the modern Guatemala City. In 1776 this old city was ordered abandoned. Not everyone left, but from a bustling capital it became a provincial town, filled with the ruins of former glory. It became known as "Antigua Guatemala," meaning "Old Guatemala." La Antigua was declared a World Heritage site by UNESCO in 1997.

Frequently Asked Questions
Is this program only for seminarians?
• While the program is primarily for seminarians, priests and deacons may also apply.
Who may apply?
• Students who have completed at least one year of Pastoral Spanish at Mount St. Mary’s Seminary or at least one year of college-level Spanish.

ENGLISH AS A SECOND LANGUAGE

Purpose of the Program
The English as a Second Language (ESL) Program provides English language instruction for students preparing for ordination through the Seminary’s Master of Divinity, Master of Arts (Theology), or S.T.B. degree programs and for students in ongoing pastoral formation.

Goals of the Program
The primary goal of the ESL program is for students to develop English language communication skills effective not only in academic settings but also in preparation for pastoral ministry through program instruction in writing, grammar, pronunciation, speaking, listening comprehension, reading comprehension, vocabulary development, and United States culture.

Objectives
Throughout the course of English language instruction, students will:
• improve speech clarity through the study and practice of the sounds and rhythm patterns of North American English
• develop writing skills through instruction centered on assignments from Seminary classes or authentic pastoral needs, depending on the student
• increase command of English grammar both through traditional rule-based methods and in the context of writing
• continue to develop theological and academic vocabulary that focuses on terminology necessary for Seminary studies and/or pastoral ministry
• increase reading and listening comprehension
Program Content
The ESL program at Mount St. Mary’s Seminary offers individualized English instruction that focuses on each seminarian’s particular language needs.

Based on diagnostic placement exams, students may be placed in one of three levels of the following classes: Writing, Grammar, Reading, Vocabulary, Pronunciation, and Listening Comprehension. Depending on individual needs, students may also be placed in a course on U.S. Culture and/or may be assigned a peer conversation partner.

Instructor-led academic support tutorials are offered to assist students with class notes, reading support, vocabulary development, and test preparation skills to help them succeed in their Seminary courses.

Location/Duration
All ESL classes are offered at the Seminary Monday–Friday between 8:30 a.m.–4:00 p.m. A seminarian may be enrolled in a program of fulltime ESL classes or, if enrolled in philosophy/theology courses, may simultaneously enroll in one or more ESL courses per semester.
for support, depending on the results of their diagnostic placement exams. A final schedule is made available prior to the first day of classes.

English classes are offered in conjunction with Seminary classes and follow the Seminary academic calendar.

Distinctive Resources

- Our state-of-the-art language lab helps seminarians master the pronunciation and listening comprehension skills integral for ministerial success.
- Class sizes are very small, with most instruction delivered in one-on-one student/instructor classes.
- All instructors are native English-speakers with professional training and experience teaching ESL/ESOL/EFL.
- The Seminary is authorized to issue I-20’s to international students accepted as full-time seminarians in the M.Div. degree/Ordination Formation Program or the prerequisite Pre-Theology Program. All seminarians are eligible to receive ESL support. However, if needed, international seminarians may be enrolled and registered in SEVIS as full-time students in the ESL program prior to commencing their philosophical or theological coursework. For more information about obtaining a student visa after acceptance into the Seminary, please contact the Seminary registrar/DSO.

Frequently Asked Questions

How many hours a week will be devoted to ESL instruction?
- Placement tests are administered upon a student’s arrival. Test results will determine the exact courses and number of hours of ESL instruction per week.

Can I take regular Seminary classes while I am enrolled in the ESL program?
- Yes. Depending on the number of hours that need to be devoted to ESL, our students take the same courses as other seminarians. In special circumstances the core Ordination program may be extended to allow for sufficient support during the first two years at the Seminary.

Can credits earned in ESL classes be applied toward the Ordination program?
- Yes. The credits earned in ESL classes can, in some cases, satisfy the requirement of elective credits in the ordination formation program, but in most cases students are encouraged to take as many theology courses as possible. ESL classes are not counted towards any of the degree programs.

Does the Seminary have a language lab?
- Yes. A generous grant from Our Sunday Visitor has provided the Seminary with a state of the art language lab to aid ESL students in perfecting oral communication skills.

Will I receive support in obtaining an F-1 student visa?
- Yes. The Seminary registrar is authorized to issue the SEVIS-generated Form I-20 needed to obtain the international student visa for enrollment in either a fulltime ESL program or a fulltime master-level degree program.

Courses of Instruction

Canon Law

CANL 601 Introduction to the Code of Canon Law (3 crs)
An introductory presentation of the historical development of canon law, the foundations and an overview of the 1983 Code of Canon Law, with special consideration given to the pastoral, theological and legal contexts of specific canons from the seven books of the Latin Code. A brief introduction and overview will also be provided of the 1990 Code of Canons of the Eastern Churches. Required for the M.Div. and S.T.B. degree programs.

CANL 702 Marriage Law and Sanctifying Office (3 crs)
This course serves as a specific study of the Church’s current sacramental law of the Latin Church. This course will consider the importance of the Church’s “Sanctifying Office” (Book IV) in the current Code of Canon Law. Each of the specific sacraments will be considered briefly, with an emphasis placed on the Sacrament of Marriage, its nature, properties and ends, and the specific causes of the nullity of marriage (Diriment Impediments, Defect of Consent, and the Lack of Canonical Form). The course will also consider the various Tribunal procedures and the Tribunal personnel involved in investigating marriage nullity or dissolution cases. A strong emphasis is also placed on the pastoral approach necessary to those who have suffered the failure of a marriage. Required for the M.Div. and S.T.B. degree programs.

Church History

CHUR 501 The First Millennium: Patrology (3 crs)
This course provides a full panorama of Patrology and the early History of the Church. Lectures will focus on the origin and development of the Church as the People of God which spreads out in time and space. Special attention will be given to the progress of theological doctrines which have exercised the strongest influence in the history of the Church. Attention will also be given to the practical social, economic and political situation of the Church. Throughout the semester students will be asked to examine scientifically the historical sources. Both by lectures and discussion students will be invited to discover the wonderful encounter of divine and human action in the life of the community of believers, and come to a genuine sense of the Church and of its Tradition. Required for the M.Div. and S.T.B. degree programs, and for Church History concentrators in the M.A. (Theology) degree program.

CHUR 502 Medieval and Renaissance Church History (3 crs)
This course provides a full panorama of Scholasticism and the medieval history of the Church, continuing the story of church development begun in CHUR 501. Lectures will focus on the development of the Church as the People of God, especially after the Gregorian Reform. Special attention will be given to the progress of theological doctrines which have exercised the strongest influence in the history of the Church. Attention will also be given to the practical social, economic and political situation of the Church. Required for the M.Div. and S.T.B. degree programs, and for Church History concentrators in the M.A. (Theology) degree program.

CHUR 601 Modern and Contemporary Church History (3 crs)
The course is a survey of the history of the Church beginning with the events leading up to the Reformation and Counter-Reformation through to the 20th century. The course traces the development of the institutional church through its theological, political, evangelical and pastoral controversies and growth. Required for the M.Div. and S.T.B. degree programs, and for Church History concentrators in the M.A. (Theology) degree program.

CHUR 801 History of the Church in the United States (3 crs)
A survey of the salient points in the history of the Catholic Church in the United States; her physical growth, her social, cultural and political assimilation into the mainstream of American life, and the major personalities, the truly great men and women responsible for her growth. Such a story is related to the American experience and tradition, and the course’s final consideration is the role of the Catholic faith in a culture where, officially, truth is subjective, and the government is removed from such definition. The course attempts to build upon the European historical background the student has already received, to especially see the relationship between American Catholicism and the Western European experience, as well as the uniqueness that is our faith’s contribution to the American experiment. Finally, the course traces the relations between the Holy See and the Church in America, particularly underscoring the deep loyalty of the American hierarchy, priests, religious women and Catholic laity to the Vicar of Christ. Required for the M.Div. and S.T.B. degree programs, and for all concentrations in the M.A. (Theology) degree program.

Electives M.A. (Theology) degree candidates concentrating in Church History, concomitant with each of the three electives needed, take three additional 1-credit directed research courses for inclusion in the Research Projects Portfolio required for the degree.

CHUR 901-904-e Topics in Church History (2 crs)
This course can be taken for credit more than once as long as the topic studied varies. This elective, along with concomitant research project, may fulfill a requirement for M.A. (Theology) concentrators in Church History. Recent topics included:

- History of Spiritual Renewal in France from the 17th – 19th Centuries (fall 2020, fall 2017) The course will trace the historical growth of France’s spiritual life from the time of St. Francis de Sales, Father Jean Jacques Olier, and St. John Eudes, through Vincent de Paul and Louise de Marillac, the theological tensions of the late 17th century, to the emergence of such luminaries as Louis de Monfort. The challenges of the French Revolution will be examined; the private revelations of Paray Le Monial, as well as Rue Du Bac and Lourdes of the 19th century will also be treated in depth. Special emphasis will be placed on the life and spiritual doctrine of St. Therese of Lisieux, and the relevance of her writings for today’s church. The course attempts an historical and spiritual survey of two centuries of Catholic life in “the eldest daughter of the Church.” (May be cross-listed as a SPIR elective)

- Reform in the History of Christianity (spring 2020) Students will examine ideas of reform from early Christianity to the modern period and consider how influential Christian leaders thought about, enacted, and reflected upon reform. The aim of the course is to encourage students to reflect upon the Church’s rich tradition of reform and how that tradition helps the Church better to serve God and neighbor. Classes will be discussion-oriented and students will be expected to read (in English translation) sources about reform from different periods of the Church’s life. Grades will rest on vigorous class participation and a research project.

- Church History and Theology in Poetry: Dante’s The Divine Comedy (spring 2019, spring 2016) In this course students will read and analyze Dante’s epic poem, The Divine Comedy, a widely regarded masterpiece of world literature and an intellectual bridge between the Middle Ages and the Renaissance. Students will explore Dante’s arresting depiction of key players from Church History and concentrate on his careful and learned theological evaluation of each player’s role in salvation history. Moreover, students will reflect upon the artistic and aesthetic merits of Dante’s imaginative world and consider ways in which his work suggests an effective and memorable presentation of Church History and Theology to people in the medieval, modern and contemporary world.

- The Inquisition and the Crusades (spring 2018, spring 2015) The course will examine the history and understanding of Inquisition and Crusade in the Church. We will seek to understand what happened, why it happened, and with what consequences. During the semester students will read studies of the Inquisition and the Crusade in order to understand their historical contexts and modern interpretations. Finally, students will explore critical ideas or moments from the Inquisition and/or the Crusades in order to evaluate some aspect of its liturgical, theological, ethical, and pastoral impact on Western Christianity.

- History of Bible in Patristic and Medieval Worlds (spring 2017, fall 2010) This course will concentrate on the early history of the Bible. We will focus on how the Bible was brought together, how it was studied, and how it was transmitted across the early Christian and medieval worlds. While our central concern will be the Bible itself, both as a collection of texts and as a physical artifact, we will also engage principal Christian thinkers who significantly advanced Christian appreciation for and study of the Bible.

- Theology in the History of the Church: Peter Lombard’s Sentences (fall 2016) Peter Lombard’s Four Books of Sentences, written around 1150, became the principle textbook for the study of theology at medieval universities. The book sits at an inflection point of the Church’s history insofar as it draws upon patristic and early medieval theological traditions for its sources and fashions tradition into a foundation for scholastic theological enterprise. Students in the course will engage Lombard's work and will develop an appreciation for theological traditions that comprise the Sentences, even as they cultivate an appreciation for the new theological traditions emerging from the study of tradition.

- St. Augustine’s Confessions (spring 2014) Augustine of Hippo (354-430) is celebrated as one of four key Western Fathers of the Church. His writings and thought shaped much of the thinking of Western Christianity on theological and moral topics. He composed his Confessions as something of an apologia for his fellow Christians in North Africa upon his election as a bishop. In this course students will carefully read and examine the Confessions, setting the work in its complicated historical context, and tease out of it Augustine’s influential views on God, man, religion, and the Church. Students will be required to read and discuss the writings of this famous Doctor of the Church as well as write papers on Augustine’s thought. Discussions, presentations, and papers will include treatment of the sacramental and pastoral life of the Catholic priest.

- The Modern Papacy (spring 2013) Beginning with the treatment of the Petrine Office, as well as an overview of the Church’s relation to the World, “The Modern Papacy” will be a survey course covering the major/salient points in the papacies of John XXIII, Paul VI, John Paul II, and Benedict XVI, with special emphasis on the convoking and implementation of the Second Vatican Council, the theological confrontation surrounding Humanae Vitae, the global evangelization and Theology of the Body given to the Church by John Paul II, and the theological vision of Joseph Ratzinger/Benedict XVI.

CHUR 906 The Church in the Twentieth Century (2 crs)
A study of the Church in the 20th century. Emphasis is given to the pontificates of Pius XII, John XXIII, Paul VI and John Paul II. This elective, along with concomitant research project, may fulfill a requirement for M.A. (Theology) concentrators in Church History.

CHUR 908 The Black Catholic Experience (2 crs)
A seminar designed to increase the students’ awareness of the past relationship between the churches and black communities, beginning with the failed Christianization of West Africa. Black American bishops, religious orders and pioneer parishes are given particular study. This elective, along with concomitant research project, may fulfill a requirement for M.A. (Theology) concentrators in Church History.

CHUR 909 Medieval Hagiography (2 crs)
An exploration of a genre of literature central to the tradition of the Church. In the early and medieval church, hagiography was crucial for transmitting doctrinal and, especially, moral information from one generation to the next. Through the course of the semester students will read and discuss the crucial “bestsellers” of early church hagiography as well as less popular texts in order to understand both the core content and broad range of the tradition. Particular attention will be paid to which ideas seem to endure over time and across cultures and which ideas change or develop. While Latin Christian material (in translation) will be the bulk of the reading, Jewish, Islamic, and Byzantine works will be read for enrichment and comparison. This elective, along with concomitant research project, may fulfill a requirement for M.A. (Theology) concentrators in Church History.

CHUR 910 Medieval Mystagogy or What did RCIA look like in the Early Church? (2 crs)
In this course we will look at the catechetical programs of important early Christian leaders, west and east, such as St. Augustine and St. Cyril of Jerusalem to see what RCIA looked like in the early Church. Students will read how luminaries of the early church organized their thoughts on Christianity for dissemination to the people. In addition to what was communicated, students will consider how Christian doctrine was communicated to initiates. The general purpose of the course will be to introduce students to the pastoral wisdom and activities of the Fathers of the Church. The particular purpose will be to explore how Church fathers made the mysteries of the faith both accessible and persuasive to new Christians. This elective, along with concomitant research project, may fulfill a requirement for M.A. (Theology) concentrators in Church History.

CHUR 911 Research Seminar: History of the Church in the USA (2 crs)
Training in oral history skills in addition to visits to prominent sites of American ecclesiastical import. This elective, along with concomitant research project, may fulfill a requirement for M.A. (Theology) concentrators in Church History.

CHUR 912 History of the Church in Latin America (2 crs)
A study of Latin American church history from colonial times to the present day. Emphasis is given to contemporary issues such as liberation theology, basic Christian communities, shortages of priests, growth of lay leadership, and the Medellin, Puebla, and Santo Domingo Conferences. This elective, along with concomitant research project, may fulfill a requirement for M.A. (Theology) concentrators in Church History. (May be cross-listed as PATH 912)

CHUR 913 Hispanics and the Church in the USA (2 crs)
A study of the importance of the Hispanic factor in the Church in the United States. Emphasis is given to the richness of the Hispanic cultures, past and new movements of immigration, and the manner in which the Church is attempting to meet Hispanic needs. This elective, along with concomitant research project, may fulfill a requirement for M.A. (Theology) concentrators in Church History. (May be cross-listed as PATH 913)

CHUR 914 American Catholic Culture (2 crs)
The particular context of the Catholic Church in the United States will be studied through the modes of art and architecture, demographics, drama, ethnicity, language and idiom, literature, poetry, and popular religiosity. This elective, along with concomitant research project, may fulfill a requirement for M.A. (Theology) concentrators in Church History.

CHUR 915 Americanism in United States Catholic History (2 crs)
This elective will trace the Americanist impulse present since the beginnings of Catholicism in the Thirteen Colonies, and largely dominating 19th and 20th century thought in U.S. Catholic History. The course will begin by surveying a Catholic view of the world from various Catholic scholars, especially in light of the Second Vatican Council, move to a consideration of the “phantom heresy” of Americanism, carefully study the response of John Courtney Murray, and discuss American Catholic higher education in light of this background. The course’s final objective will be to present various thinkers, pro and con to this “Americanist” strain of thought in our national culture, and to demonstrate how many preconceived notions, put forward in the past, easily flowed from such a background. Readings will be drawn from Gordon Wood, Hans Urs von Balthasar, John Courtney Murray, D.L. Schindler, Leo XIII, John Tracy Ellis, Theodore Hesburgh, and others. A term paper and final examination will be required. This elective, along with concomitant research project, may fulfill a requirement for M.A. (Theology) concentrators in Church History.

CHUR 916 Catholic Faith and the American Experience (2 crs)
This course attempts a theological/ontological interpretation of American culture against a background, most immediately of the Second Vatican Council and the Pontificate of John Paul II. Its purpose is to frame the fundamental terms of a Catholic’s presence in and engagement with modernity as expressed in the history of America. Readings will be drawn from authors influential in the founding and history of American culture and from significant Catholic interpretations of and engagements with culture. This elective, along with concomitant research project, may fulfill a requirement for M.A. (Theology) concentrators in Church History.

CHUR 917 The History of Religion in the USA (2 crs)
This course provides a survey of the religious bodies of the United States. It gives the student some familiarity with the other faiths they will be working with in their ministry. Both mainline Churches and more obscure communities will be studied. In guest lectures, site visits and research reports, the history of churches in the United States will be explored. Special attention will be given to those denominations that find their origins here. This elective, along with concomitant research project, may fulfill a requirement for M.A. (Theology) concentrators in Church History.

CHUR 918 -919 Topics in the Fathers of the Church (2 crs)
The texts and themes of this course will vary from semester to semester. Specifics will be decided upon in consultation with the students, the church history department, and the academic dean. In each case special attention will be given to the living tradition of the Church as exemplified by the lives and writings of the Fathers and as understood through the theological thought of the Fathers. The course will be primary source driven and discussion intensive. This course can be taken for credit more than once as long as the topic studied varies. This elective, along with concomitant research project, may fulfill a requirement for M.A. (Theology) concentrators in Church History. Recent offerings include:

The course will concentrate on the lives, times, and writings of these four key doctors of the church: Ambrose, Augustine, Jerome, and Gregory. During the semester students will learn biographies of each father, as well as their late antique historical context. Finally, students will explore key ideas from each father, including liturgical, theological, ethical, and pastoral doctrines decisive for Western Christianity. The course will be organized around both lecture and discussion.

- Reading the Apostolic Fathers (fall 2020) A close and careful reading of the earliest extra-biblical Christian texts, known collectively since the late 17th century as the "Apostolic Fathers." The course aims, through the window they offer on early Christian life and thought, to enhance an understanding of the kerygma, theology, and Christian culture in the late first and early second centuries. (Cross-listed as SYST 917)

- The Greek Fathers (fall 2019, fall 2013) The course will concentrate on the lives, times, and writings of four key doctors of the church (Athanasius, John Chrysostom, Gregory Nazianzen, Basil the Great). During the semester students will learn biographies of each father, as well as their late antique historical contexts. Finally, students will explore key ideas from each father, including liturgical, theological, ethical, and pastoral doctrines decisive for Christianity.

- Augustine: Bishop and Theologian (fall 2018) An examination of the writing and preaching of St Augustine (354-430 AD). While rightly revered as a theologian and doctor of the Church, Augustine's theology was worked out in the context of a very busy pastoral life and articulated with great attention to the Church's mission. This seminar will examine some of his principal works as well as his preaching, with the aim of understanding his thought, with particular attention to its pastoral nature. (May be cross-listed as SYST 916)

- Marriage and Family in the Early Church (fall 2016) This elective on the Fathers of the Church proposes an overview of the first three centuries of the Church’s life, and the importance of Patristic writings to emerge in those years. Close study will be made of the lives of the Fathers, both East and West, and their specific texts relating to Marriage, Family, and the Moral Life, in an attempt to discover their influence on their contemporaries, and more importantly, what they have to say to our contemporary 21st century.

- The Doctors of the Church (spring 2014) This elective course will examine the criteria making up a Doctor of the Church, and study the thirty-five men and women who have been so designated, beginning in the Pontificate of Boniface VIII in the 13th century, and continuing to the 21st century, with the Pontificate of Benedict XVI. The course will examine the contributions of each of the Church’s Doctors in their own time, for the time period they were named, and for the entire life of the Church. Rather than a chronological survey of the Doctor’s themselves, the course will trace the history of the various papacies which bestowed the Doctoral Hood on them. In the case of Therese of Lisieux in the late 20th century, a more in-depth look will be given to the story of how her designation came about. The course will, therefore, cover numerous periods of Church History, along with the spiritual contributions of each of these sainted men and women.

- Fathers of the Eastern Church (spring 2012) The course will concentrate on the lives, times, and writings of four early thinkers in the “other lung” of the Church. During the semester students will learn biographies of each father, as well as their late antique historical context. Finally, students will explore key ideas from each father, including liturgical, theological, ethical, and pastoral doctrines decisive for Eastern Christianity and influential in the West.

- Patristic Seminar: Preaching in the Work of Augustine and Gregory the Great (fall 2011, fall 2007) Augustine and Gregory the Great are two of the four most celebrated fathers of the Western Church (the others being Ambrose and Jerome). Among their many contributions to the Church, preaching stands out because 1) it was of the utmost importance to Augustine and Gregory and 2) it is among the most deeply influential of their contributions to the Western Tradition. During this course we will consider the approaches to preaching advanced by Augustine and Gregory. Then we will analyze the method and strategy of their preaching. Finally we will evaluate examples of their preaching.

CHUR 920 Jews, Christians, and Muslims in the Middle Ages (2 crs)
An examination of scripture, law, exegesis, polemics and philosophy from the three major Abrahamic religions of the medieval west. An exploration of the similarities and the differences among the three religions, and consideration how those religions influenced each other and how they distanced and refuted each other. The goals are twofold: first, identify how each tradition conceived of itself as a community defined by belief and regulated by law and second, establish how various contexts – political, social, cultural, and intellectual – inform those ideas, especially when the communities come into contact with each other. Study of the important primary texts from the three religions will include analyzing their content and evaluating the relationships between them. This elective, along with concomitant research project, may fulfill a requirement for M.A. (Theology) concentrators in Church History.

CHUR 921 History of Heaven (2 crs)
An examination of how Christians have understood and imagined heaven down through western history. There are three goals: first, to understand the development of Christian teaching on man’s final end; second, to try to plot the range of interests in and devotions concerning heaven found in the Christian tradition; and third, consider how presentations of heaven, either in writing or in art, create opportunities for catechesis. The course will consist of lecture and discussion.
elective, along with concomitant research project, may fulfill a requirement for M.A. (Theology) concentrators in Church History.

CHUR 922 Depicting Mary: A Survey of Marian Imagery (2 crs)
In this course students will see and learn about the history of the Blessed Mother in the mind and the eyes of the Church. The course will focus on famous and popular images of the Virgin from throughout Christian history. It will seek to understand the aesthetic, cultural, and theological ideas driving long-running Christian devotion to Mary. This elective, along with concomitant research project, may fulfill a requirement for M.A. (Theology) concentrators in Church History.

Homiletics

HOML 701 Models of Preaching (3 crs)
The course will include an introduction to the theology of preaching and the place of Scripture in preaching. The course will train the student to employ effective models and principles in the practice of preaching, both with respect to the content (composition) and the delivery of a homily. This course will bring to fruition the student’s study of Scripture, Theology, and Liturgy, showing how he can apply what he has learned in the pastoral context of preaching to the people of God. It will be most frequently in his preaching that a priest will draw upon all the resources of his preparation. This course is intended to help him do so. Through their faithful proclamation of God Word’s, the future priests will enable the people of God to be “followers of Christ” by recognizing the central role of preaching in their duties as “minister of the Sacraments.” Required for the Ordination Formation program. Pass/Fail.

HOML 702 Homiletics Practicum (3 crs)
This course continues to develop the theory and skills introduced in HOML 701 (prerequisite) primarily through practical application. Students will prepare and deliver homilies of various genres, including Sunday, weekday, wedding, funeral and special occasion. The beginning preacher will receive constructive criticism from the instructor and fellow students to help improve both delivery and content. Required for the Ordination Formation program. Pass/Fail.

Elective Courses

HOML 907 Preaching the Lenten/Easter Cycle (2 crs)
This course examines the readings of the three-year Sunday cycle of Lent and Easter as well as the Easter Triduum. While offering exegetical insights into the readings, the course will concentrate on ways to preach the cycle of readings.

Prerequisite or co-requisite HOML 701.

HOML 908 Preaching Advent, Christmastide, Holy Days and Feasts of the Lord (2 crs)
This course examines the readings of Sundays in Advent, Christmastide, and the Holy Days and Feasts of the Lord. While offering exegetical insights into the readings the course will concentrate on ways to preach the cycle of readings.

Prerequisite or co-requisite HOML 701.

HOML 910 Preaching Catholic Apologetics (2 crs)
This course looks at the biblical foundations for important areas of Catholic Apologetics, e.g. the sacraments. While preparing apologetic responses to pertinent areas of Catholic doctrine, the course will examine how to preach apologetically on these subjects from the three-year Sunday and Holy Day cycle.

Prerequisite or co-requisite HOML 701.
Language Electives: English as a Second Language

EASL 010 Beginning Writing (1-3 crs)
Students will develop the skills to write a variety of types of well-organized, coherent, and grammatically correct paragraphs. Emphasizing the process approach to writing, this course lays the foundation for future academic writing in ESL and theology classes. The grammar focus is on writing simple and compound sentences; the mechanics focus is on applying basic rules of capitalization and punctuation.

EASL 011 Beginning Grammar (1-3 crs)
Students will develop English language skills by learning the function and structure of the parts of speech, verb forms, the simple tenses, subject/verb agreement, beginning level noun, pronoun, adjective and adverb forms, coordinating conjunctions, and basic article and preposition use.

EASL 012 Beginning Reading (1-3 crs)
Students will apply reading strategies such as pre-reading, questioning, recalling, relating, and reviewing to increase reading comprehension. Using multiple examples from beginner-level ESL texts, students will develop the skills of determining the main idea, predicting text sequence and word meaning, and inferring basic ideas, as well as be introduced to basic note-taking. Students will also summarize and paraphrase a text both orally and in writing. This is a foundational course for future academic reading in ESL and theology classes, as well as for the catechetical and theological readings one will encounter in pastoral ministry.

EASL 013 Beginning Vocabulary (1-3 crs)
Students will learn 20 beginning-level academic and social words/phrases each week. This includes learning the words’ designated forms (parts of speech), their multiple meanings, and various collocations. Students will demonstrate their understanding of new words/phrases by using them orally and in writing in a variety of academic and social contexts.

EASL 014 Beginning Pronunciation (1-3 crs)
Students will recognize and produce North American English consonant and vowel sounds. They will also recognize and produce the stressed syllable in two and three-syllable words, the stressed word in a phrase, as well as apply basic intonation patterns to short questions and statements. Applying learned rules, students will accurately read aloud sentences and short biblical passages.

EASL 015 Beginning Listening Comprehension (1-3 crs)
While listening to recorded and conversational beginning-level speech, students will recognize various forms of numbers and recognize and respond to yes/no questions, wh- questions, and reduced forms in greetings, short words, and phrases. They will also develop the skills to differentiate main ideas and details as well as begin to develop basic note-taking skills.

EASL 020 Intermediate Writing (1-3 crs)
Students will develop the skills to write a variety of types of well-organized, coherent, and grammatically correct essays. Emphasizing the process approach to writing, students will develop writing skills in preparation for pastoral work, future academic writing in ESL, and/or future theology classes. The grammar focus is on writing complex and compound-complex sentences; the mechanics focus is on applying punctuation rules for commas, semicolons, colons, dashes, ellipses, and quotation marks.

Prerequisite Placement testing or successful completion of Beginning Writing.
Note May require two semesters; 1-3 credits per semester.

EASL 021 Intermediate Grammar (1-3 crs)
Students will develop English language skills by learning the function and structure of irregular and phrasal verbs, perfect tenses, modals, passive voice, question forms, intermediate-level gerund and infinitive forms, intermediate-level noun, adjective and adverb clauses, and intermediate-level article and preposition use. Students will learn to apply the grammar rules covered in class to their writing and speaking.

Prerequisite: Placement testing or successful completion of Beginning Grammar.

Note: May require two semesters; 1-3 credits per semester.

EASL 022 Intermediate Reading (1-3 crs)
Students will continue to use the strategies and develop the skills introduced in Beginning Reading, applying them to intermediate-level ESL texts and native English texts. Further, students will develop the skills necessary to analyze relationships among ideas in written material, draw conclusions, recognize a writer's explicit or implicit purpose, and evaluate information. Students will react to readings orally and in written paragraphs.

Prerequisite: Placement testing or successful completion of Beginning Reading.

Note: May require two semesters; 1-3 credits per semester.

EASL 023 Intermediate Vocabulary (1-3 crs)
Students will learn 30 intermediate-level academic, social, and theological words each week. This includes learning the words' designated forms (parts of speech), their multiple meanings, and various collocations. Students will demonstrate their understanding of new words/phrases by using them orally and in writing in a variety of academic, social, and pastoral contexts.

Prerequisite: Placement testing or successful completion of Beginning Vocabulary.

EASL 024 Intermediate Pronunciation (1-3 crs)
In addition to being able to produce the consonant and vowel sounds introduced in Beginning Pronunciation, students will produce diphthongs, predict pronunciation based on spelling, predict stress of multisyllabic words and focus words, incorporate basic intonation patterns in various contexts, and apply basic pitch patterns to convey meaning. Applying learned rules, students will accurately read aloud a Lectionary reading, Gospel reading, and/or homily.

Prerequisite: Placement testing or successful completion of Beginning Pronunciation.

Note: May require two semesters; 1-3 credits per semester.

EASL 025 Intermediate Listening Comprehension (1-3 crs)
While listening to intermediate-level lectures and conversations, students will identify the topic, main ideas, purpose, supporting ideas, and details, as well as make inferences based on content and a speaker's tone of voice. Students will identify the basic organization of sample lectures and write notes accordingly.

Prerequisite: Placement testing or successful completion of Beginning Listening Comprehension.

Note: May require two semesters; 1-3 credits per semester.

EASL 030 Advanced Writing (1-3 crs)
Students will develop the skills necessary to undertake academic research and to write a well-organized, coherent, and grammatically correct research paper. Emphasis is on the process approach to writing as students develop a thesis, create an annotated bibliography, develop an outline/mind-map, and write multiple drafts.

Prerequisite: Placement testing or successful completion of Intermediate Writing.

EASL 031 Advanced Grammar (1-3 crs)
Students will develop English language skills by learning conditionals, pronoun antecedent forms, preposition combinations, and use of advanced-level modals, passive forms, and adjective and adverb clauses. Students will apply grammar rules covered in class to speak informally, to write essays and homilies, and to write from a single point of focus.

Prerequisite: Placement testing or successful completion of Intermediate Grammar.

EASL 032 Advanced Reading (1-3 crs)
Students will apply reading strategies and continue to develop and practice the skills that will help them to comprehend, interact with, and react to advanced-level ESL texts, seminary theology texts, and the catechetical and theological readings they will encounter in pastoral ministry. Students will continue to use skills introduced in Intermediate Reading and will be required to react to readings orally and in written paragraphs and essays.

Prerequisite Placement testing or successful completion of Intermediate Reading.

EASL 033 Advanced Vocabulary (1-3 crs)

Students will learn 30 advanced-level academic, social, and theological words each week. This includes learning the words’ designated forms (parts of speech), their multiple meanings, and various collocations. Students will demonstrate their understanding of new words/phrases by using them orally and in writing in a variety of academic, social, and pastoral contexts.

Prerequisite Placement testing or successful completion of Intermediate Vocabulary.

EASL 034 Advanced Pronunciation (1-3 crs)

Students will examine word stress patterns not covered at the intermediate level. They will separate ideas into thought groups, use appropriate intonation and the four levels of English pitch, and apply the stress-timed rhythm of North American English to their public and conversational speech. By applying learned rules and developing public speaking skills, students will accurately read aloud from the Lectionary, proclaim the Gospel, and/or deliver a homily.

Prerequisite Placement testing or successful completion of Intermediate Pronunciation.

EASL 035 Advanced Listening Comprehension (1-3 crs)

While listening to advanced-level lectures, students will develop more sophisticated listening skills such as differentiating important information from tangential information, predicting lecture content, and evaluating which information should be recorded in note form. They will write notes using various formats and organize information to show the relationship of ideas. This course will prepare students for listening to lectures and taking notes in philosophy and theology classes.

Prerequisite Placement testing or completion of Intermediate Listening Comprehension.

EASL 040 Writing for Theology (1-3 crs)

Students will develop the skills necessary to undertake academic research and to write various genres of papers required in their philosophy and/or theology classes. Emphasis is on the process approach to writing as students develop theses, create bibliographies, develop outlines, and write multiple drafts of their general research, exegesis, textual analysis, books review, and/or Master's thesis papers. Errors in students’ papers will be used to reinforce grammar and mechanics rules.

Prerequisite Placement testing or successful completion of Advanced Writing.

EASL 043 Vocabulary for Theology (1-3 crs)

Students will generate a list of 10 high-frequency academic/theological words or idiomatic phrases each week. They will learn the words’ designated forms (parts of speech), their multiple meanings, and various collocations. Additionally, students will identify root words and the meaning of prefixes and suffixes. Students will demonstrate their understanding of new words/phrases by incorporating learned vocabulary into written assignments for their theology classes as well as orally into their conversation.

Prerequisite Placement testing or successful completion of Advanced Vocabulary.

EASL 046 Academic Support for Theology (1-3 crs)

Students will be provided content-based instruction focusing on individual theology courses. They will summarize theology course readings and lectures, discussing and answering questions about course content orally and in writing. Through this, they will develop the content knowledge and English proficiency necessary to succeed in their theology courses.
EASL 050 Pastoral English Practicum (1 cr)
This course is designed for students who have exited the ESL Program yet wish to have continued English language support. The goals of Pastoral English Practicum are 1) to continue to develop the ability to write various genres of papers required in theology classes; 2) to develop students’ ability to effectively minister in English; and 3) to build upon students' current knowledge of U.S. popular and U.S. Catholic culture. Pass/Fail.

EASL 090 English for Theology Tutorials (1-6 crs per semester)
Individual or small group instruction. The content and level varies according to the individual’s needs and skill level. Topics range from pronunciation, speaking and listening comprehension to writing, vocabulary development and grammar. The focus is on instruction leading to the development of communication skills effective not only with academic audiences but also in preparation for priestly service. The tutorial is designed to improve speech clarity through the study and practice of sounds and rhythm patterns of North American English. Writing skills are developed through instruction centered on assignments from Seminary classes. Grammar forms are learned both through traditional rule-based methods and in the context of writing. Vocabulary development focuses on mastery of terminology necessary for seminary studies. Repeatable, as needed.

EASL 007 Peer Tutoring I (1 cr)
Students will be assigned a native-English-speaking conversation partner. They will converse informally and write about designated aspects of United States culture, including values, family life, social relationships, the education system, religious institutions, political structure and activities, ethnicity and race, music, art, dress, cuisine, and holidays. They will also share information orally about their own culture, comparing it to United States culture.

EASL 008 Peer Tutoring II (1 cr)
Students will be assigned a native-English-speaking conversation partner. They will converse informally and write about aspects of United States culture.

Note Taken in conjunction with EASL 009 United States Culture.

EASL 009 United States Culture (1 cr)
Students will expand their knowledge of United States culture by learning the cultural historical processes from which United States cultural values have emerged as well as how they are expressed in contemporary times. (Cross-listed as CLTR 001/002)

Note Taken in conjunction with EASL 008 Peer Tutoring II.

Language Electives: Biblical Greek

GREK 950 Biblical Greek I (3 crs)
GREK 950 is the first semester of a first-year Greek course. The course is intended for students beginning the study of New Testament Greek. Upon completion of this course, the student will have acquired all of the basic grammar and vocabulary necessary to proceed to Biblical Greek II, the second half of this first-year Greek course. The material covered in this course will primarily be as follows: a working vocabulary of about 350 Greek words; the indicative moods of the present, imperfect, future, and aorist tenses for verbs in the active, middle, and passive voices; nouns of the first and second declension; personal pronouns, demonstrative pronouns; the definite article; adjectives of the first and second declension; a number of major prepositions; some nouns of the third declension; and the primary function of case endings. The student is working toward acquiring a basic working knowledge of the grammar, syntax, and vocabulary of New Testament Greek in order to begin reading (during Biblical Greek II) selected passages of the Greek New Testament. Biblical Greek is a PPF expectation for all pre-theologians. (Offered alternate years with LATN950)

GREK 960 Biblical Greek II (3 crs)

GREK 960 is the second semester of a first-year Greek course. The course is intended for students who have had approximately one semester of New Testament Greek. Upon completion of this course, the student will have acquired all of the basic grammar and vocabulary necessary to read, with some lexical help, New Testament Greek. The material covered in this course will primarily be as follows: a working vocabulary of about 650 Greek words; participles of all tenses and voices; remaining nouns of the third declension; contract verbs; principle parts of common verbs; subjunctive, infinitive, and imperative moods; common verbs of the “mi” conjugation; further usage of case endings; more adjectives; interrogatives; relative pronouns; liquid verbs. The student is working toward acquiring a basic working knowledge of the grammar, syntax, and vocabulary of New Testament Greek that will enable him to begin reading the Greek New Testament. A reading proficiency in Biblical Greek (usually achieved in two semesters, GREK 950 and 960, or the equivalent) is required for the S.T.B. degree and may fulfill the language requirement for Sacred Scripture concentrators in the M.A. (Theology) degree program. (Offered alternate years with LATN 960.)

Note Additional electives using Biblical Greek are offered through the Sacred Scripture department (see SCRP 970-980).

Language Electives: Biblical Hebrew

HEBR 950-960 Biblical Hebrew I and II (3 crs per semester)

An introduction to Biblical Hebrew designed to enable the student to read narrative Biblical Hebrew. The course entails an intensive introduction to the vocabulary, grammar, and syntax of basic narrative Biblical Hebrew. Text: An Introduction to Biblical Hebrew by Thomas O. Lambdin. This course may fulfill the language requirement for Sacred Scripture concentrators in the M.A. (Theology) degree program.

Language Electives: Ecclesiastical Latin

LATN 950-960 Ecclesiastical Latin I and II (3 crs per semester)

An introduction to the pronunciation, vocabulary and grammar of the Latin language as it has been used in the Christian Church. Ecclesiastical Latin is a PPF expectation for all pre-theologians, and a basic reading proficiency in Ecclesiastical Latin is prerequisite for admission to the S.T.B. degree program. (Offered alternate years with GREK 950-960)

LATN 970-980 Liturgical Latin Refresher (1 cr/pass-fail per semester)

The course builds upon prior knowledge of the language, and assumes that students will have had two college semesters or the equivalent of classical or ecclesiastical Latin. This course will provide an opportunity for students to refresh their knowledge of Latin grammar and vocabulary and to apply their knowledge to the translation of Latin texts taken from the Missal. The course is intended to be useful to (but is not limited to) those preparing to enroll in the Extraordinary Form practicum. (Offered odd academic years)

Language Electives: Pastoral Spanish

PATH 950-960 Beginning Pastoral Spanish I and II (3 crs per semester)

A course designed to equip seminarians with basic language skills necessary for work as a priest serving communities comprised in whole or in part of Spanish-speaking parishioners. The course implements not only daily common vocabulary and grammar used in day to day situations, but emphasizes vocabulary and themes based on the Sacred Scripture and the Liturgy in any church community. The fall semester will cover chapters 1-3; and the spring semester chapters 4-7.

PATH 970-980 Intermediate Pastoral Spanish III and IV (3 crs per semester)
A course designed to equip seminarians with intermediate language skills necessary for work as a priest serving communities comprised in whole or in part of Spanish-speaking parishioners. The course implements not only daily common vocabulary and grammar used in day to day situations, but emphasizes on vocabulary and themes based on the Sacred Scripture and the Liturgy in any church community. It is assumed that a beginner's knowledge of the language has been acquired (present and past tenses). The fall semester will focus on acquiring knowledge of the preterit and the imperfect (chapters 12-15) and the spring semester will cover chapters 12-15 of the book.

PATH 990 Advanced Pastoral Spanish (1 cr per semester)
Practice in the conversation and in the composition and delivery of homilies, or other compositions related to faith or morals in Spanish, emphasizing clarity of style and pronunciation. Repeatable, as needed.

PATH 921/922 Celebrando los Sacramentos: Practical Spanish (1.5 crs)
A practicum treating the rites in Spanish for Baptism, Confession, Anointing, and Marriage. Emphasis on the texts of these liturgies. The focus will change each semester, making it repeatable. This does not take the place of an elective. Class to be scheduled at the convenience of the students. Pass/Fail.

Prerequisite Fundamental or intermediate pastoral Spanish or its equivalent.

PATH 931/932 Español para el Ministerio Parroquial: Spanish for Pastoral Ministry (1 cr)
Following the model of Jesus Christ Teacher, Priest and Pastor, this course (taught in Spanish) seeks to familiarize seminarians with the fundamental principles of our faith so that they can teach it in Spanish, celebrate the sacraments, and guide the people of God. The method to be used will be eminently practical since we seek the seminarian to improve his ability to explain the faith and preach. It will also seek to know and better understand the different manifestations of popular piety in the Hispanic-American tradition and to become familiar with the resources available to serve effectively in Hispanic ministry. This does not take the place of an elective, but is repeatable. Class to be scheduled at the convenience of the students. Pass/Fail.

Prerequisite Intermediate or advanced pastoral Spanish or its equivalent.

Note Language courses are also available in French, German, Italian, Latin, and Spanish through arrangements with Department of World Languages and Culture – see the university's online catalog for course descriptions.

Liturgy

LITY 501 Introduction to the Liturgy (3 crs)
A general study of the sacred liturgy which includes theology, history and the renewal accomplished by Vatican II, with a concentration on the historical development of the Eucharistic Liturgy and the Liturgy of the Hours. Required for the M.Div. and S.T.B. degree programs, and for all concentrations in the M.A. (Theology) program.

LITY 801 Penance Practicum (1 cr)
A pastoral application of norms for presiding at the celebration of Penance and Anointing. Taken in conjunction with SYST 801 Sacraments of Healing. Pass/Fail.

Elective Courses

LITY 901-905 Selected Topics/Directed Readings in Liturgical Studies (2 crs)
This course can be taken for credit more than once as long as the topic studied varies. A recent offering includes:

- The Historical Development of the Mass (fall 2017) This course will explore the nature of the Eucharistic Liturgy throughout history, examining the influences and individuals that have shaped the Mass, beginning with the Apostles until the present day. The student will learn to recognize those elements of the Mass that are timeless and universal as well as those which are culturally and socially conditioned, by a consideration of the liturgical practices of various historical periods.

LITY 908 Extraordinary Form of the Roman Rite (2 crs)
Instruction in serving and celebrating Low Mass in the Extraordinary Form, including practice celebrations. Available each semester, but open only to 4th year students whose bishops have either required or given permission for them to learn the celebration of the Extraordinary Form of the Roman Rite (1962 Missal). Pass/Fail.

Prerequisite Ecclesiastical Latin I and II, or equivalent.

Liturgical Formation

LTFM 001 Liturgical Formation for Pre-Theology I (1 cr)
The history and development of Sacred Music, Part I (Pre-Christian Music to the Renaissance), as well as an introduction to the General Instruction on the Liturgy of the Hours and the use of the Ordo. Pass/Fail.

LTFM 003 Liturgical Formation for Pre-Theology II (1 cr)
The history and development of Sacred Music, Part II (The Baroque to the end of the Nineteenth Century), as well as an introduction to the liturgical year, and the principle of gradual solemnity; formation will also be given on the practice of serving Mass at the Seminary. Pass/Fail.

LTFM 502 Liturgical Formation: Lector (1 cr)
The history and development of Sacred Music, Part III (St. Pius X through Vatican II, with particular emphasis on papal legislation), as well as an introduction to the Lectionary’s structure and formation on the ministry of lector (how to read publicly and liturgically). Pass/Fail.

LTFM 602 Liturgical Formation: Acolyte (1 cr)
The history and development of Sacred Music, Part IV (Vatican II through the present day, with particular emphasis on the GIRM and USCCB legislation with regard to liturgical music), as well as an introduction the Roman Missal’s contents, structure, and theology; this semester formation will be given on the ministry of acolyte (including purification, etc.). Pass/Fail.

LTFM 702 Liturgical Formation: Deacon Practicum (1 cr)
Instruction, formation, and practica on the Rite of Baptism, the Rite of Marriage, and Order of Christian Funerals outside of Mass and the Rite of Solemn Exposition and Benediction, as well as musical formation in the deacon’s chants in the Roman Missal; chants for Exposition and Benediction. Pass/Fail.

LTFM 801 Liturgical Formation: Mass Practicum I (1 cr)
The Mass Practicum for those in the Ordination program, with emphasis on both the Sunday and daily Mass; Musical formation on the priest’s chants in the Roman Missal. Pass/Fail.

LTFM 802 Liturgical Formation: Mass Practicum II (1 cr)
An instruction on the parts of the General Instruction on the Roman Missal relative to the celebration and concelebration of Mass and on the Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults; Administration of parish music programs (personnel matters, resources, techniques for enacting organic and peaceful reform. Taken in conjunction with SYST 802 Holy Eucharist. Pass/Fail.

Moral Theology

MORL 501 Fundamental Moral Theology I (3 crs)
Contextualizing our study within the Church’s universal call to holiness, we will in this class begin with the theistic underpinnings to all moral/ethical discussion and then move on to the Old Testament, Gospel and Pauline understanding of the moral life. We will then continue on through the patristic period of moral theology, with a particular focus on the moral insight of St. Augustine. Finally, we will come to St. Thomas Aquinas’ masterful treatment of morality in the Summa Theologicae I-II and II-II. Our goal, therefore, will be not only to identify and master the key moral concepts used by God’s people from the Old Testament to the golden age of Scholasticism; it will also be to appreciate the development in understanding God, Christ, and the human person, and how these developments shaped the moral language and interests of the great theologians. Required for the M.Div. and S.T.B. degree programs, and for all concentrations in the M.A. (Theology) program.

MORL 502 Fundamental Moral Theology II (3 crs)

Continuing our historically guided survey of Moral Theology, we will finish up our Thomistic discussion with Aquinas’ treatment of the Theological Virtues. We will then proceed through the nominalist, reformed, and manualist/casuist attitudes to Morality, with a particular emphasis on the weaknesses inherent these models. Moving on to the 20th century, we will look at magisterial developments of Moral Theology in such landmark documents as Gaudium et Spes, Humane Vitae, and Veritatis Splendor. Deviations from authentic Catholic Moral Theology, such as teleological ethics (consequentialism and proportionalism), fundamental option theory, liberation theology, dissent, and deontological models divorced from human nature will be examined. Finally, we will conclude with an elucidation of fundamental tools of moral analysis, such as double-effect, kinds and degrees of cooperation, the principle of totality, etc., as well as their proper (and improper) application. Required for the M.Div. and S.T.B. degree programs, and for Moral Theology concentrators in the M.A. (Theology) program.

MORL 604 Sacrament of Marriage and Pastoral Care (3 crs)

This course provides a theology of marriage that emphasizes both its natural goodness and its sacramentality. This theology is anchored in Sacred Scripture and Tradition, and serves as the context for a treatment of conjugal morality. In the first portion of the course, students will review the historical and theological developments pertaining to the sacrament of marriage, beginning with its biblical roots. The development of the sacrament of marriage then is traced from the patristic era, through the Council of Trent, to key magisterial documents of the 20th and 21st centuries. Additionally, this course equips students for marriage preparation and to offer pastoral care to engaged couples, married couples and their families. Required for the M.Div. and S.T.B. degree programs, and for all concentrations in the M.A. (Theology) program (formerly MORL 802).

MORL 801 Catholic Medical and Sexual Morality (3 crs)

This fourth-year core course and S.T.B. requirement examines in detail and applies Catholic moral teaching on issues of medical and sexual morality to the concrete questions of our own day. The major documents of the Holy See will be reviewed and arguments presented to equip students to summarize, explain and defend the Church’s teaching on medical ethics and on the requirements of chastity for unmarried persons and homosexual persons. Particular attention is paid to the norms and arguments supportive of the norms of the most recent edition of the USCCB "Ethical and Religious Directives for Catholic Health Care Services," as well as the norms and arguments supportive of the norms of Catholic magisterial teaching on respect for human life and human sexuality. Required for the M.Div. and S.T.B. degree programs, and for Moral Theology concentrators in the M.A. (Theology) program.

MORL 804 Justice and the Social Teachings of the Church (3 crs)
This second-year core course examines magisterial teaching on social justice, with special attention to the central themes and principles of that doctrine, as applicable globally and to the American scene in particular, so as to enable the future priest to be an advocate for the social teachings of the Church. The course includes the commutative justice and potential parts of justice. Required for the M.Div. and S.T.B. degree programs, and for Moral Theology concentrators in the M.A. (Theology) program (formerly MORL 602).

Electives M.A. (Theology) degree candidates concentrating in Moral Theology, concomitant with each of the three electives needed, take three additional 1-credit directed research courses for inclusion in the Research Projects Portfolio required for the degree, preferably with three different professors.

MORL 901-905 Selected Topics/Directed Readings in Moral Theology (2 crs)
This course can be taken for credit more than once as long as the topic studied varies. This elective and the concomitant research project may fulfill the applied moral theology requirement for M.A. (Theology) concentrators in Moral Theology. Recent offerings have included:

- Pastoral Moral Issues (fall 2020) A team taught treatment of applied moral theology aimed to equip seminarians to link a sound theological method incorporating the moral catechetical framework of both the Catechism of the Catholic Church and the Decalogue with the priestly ministry of hearing confessions, preaching and counseling. Class discussion aims to equip the seminarians for the apostolic and missionary purpose of the transmission of Catholic moral teaching in a U.S. culture dominated by moral relativism and expediency.

- Gender and Genetics (spring 2020, spring 2019) Genetics and Gender present two distinct contemporary moral discussions. Genetic science raises the question of the morality of using genetic tools to modify (cure or enhance human beings) as well as animals and plants. When, if ever, can an employer, an insurer, or anyone else have access to our genetic data? Gender questions abound. What are scientists saying? How has the Church addressed contemporary questions about gender? What are the contemporary debates? What is the morality of using hormones or surgery for gender “change”? What is the Church saying about public policy questions? What pastoral responses are being offered?

- Charity and Clarity: The Catholic Teaching on Homosexuality (spring 2014) The course will consist of an integrative treatment of the moral problem of homosexuality, examining references from ancient history and classical pagan literature; the moral teaching found in the Old and New Testaments; the Tradition of the Church beginning with the Apostolic Age up to the modern magisterial pronouncements; an examination of the theories of its causation; the spectrum of manifestation; voyeurism, transvestism, transsexualism, homosexual behavior; the legal/social/public policy issues raised by “same-sex marriage”; pastoral care and treatment of persons with Same-Sex Attraction (SSA).

- Morality, Law and Policy in the Public Square (An elective course in Catholic Social Ethics) The First Amendment provides that Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof. This course will examine the First Amendment issues raised by both the Free Exercise and the Establishment clauses (history, original intent, and interpretations), as well as problems such as prayer in public schools, nativity scenes in public places, creationism versus evolution in public education, government financial aid and welfare programs, and school vouchers; discrimination against religious beliefs, facially neutral laws with a disproportionate adverse impact on religious practices, exemptions from general rules for particular religions, and conscientious religious objection to military service in war.

MORL 906 Survey of U.S. Catholic Moral Theologians (2 crs)
This seminar will explore post-conciliar Catholic fundamental moral theology in the United States. Much of the contemporary U.S. Catholic moral theological arena is characterized by polarization.
On one side we find revisionists who hold, inter alia, that one cannot reasonably hold exceptionless behavioral moral norms. On the other hand are theorists who, inter alia, defend such moral absolutes. The differences go much deeper, as did Veritatis Splendor which did not restrict its discussion to this one issue. This seminar will explore similarities and differences on such issues as the use of scripture in moral theology, the place of experience in moral reflection, the centrality of the Magisterium in matters moral, conscience, the place of Christ in Christian moral theology, etc. Required for all M.A. (Theology) concentrators in Moral Theology, along with the concomitant research project.

MORL 907 Readings from the Summa I (3 crs)
The course will be a reading of the 1a2ae (First Part of the Second Part) of St. Thomas Aquinas’ Summa Theologiae. It concerns the beginning of the reditus to God, namely, man’s last end, and in detail how man is particularly endowed by nature and grace to journey to his goal. Attention is given to the structure of the human act, the passions in particular, and habits. Required for all S.T.B. candidates and recommended for M.A. (Theology) concentrators in Moral Theology.

MORL 908 Readings from the Summa II (3 crs)
The course is a continuation of readings in the Summa, 2a2ae. Though useful, MORL 907 is not a prerequisite. The course deals with the theological and infused moral virtues, with their integral, subjective and potential parts. Special charisms and the states of life are also included. Required for all S.T.B. candidates and, along with the concomitant research project, for M.A. (Theology) concentrators in Moral Theology.

MORL 909 Morality and Current Public Policy Issues (2 crs)
A course on the application of the principles of Catholic fundamental moral theology to specific issues facing policymakers (specifically, recreational drug use, immigration, ecology, and privacy). This course will serve to both assist students to understand and respond to timely issues facing the Church and society as well as to acquire skill more generally in identifying and applying Catholic moral principles to cases with an eye to prudential strategy in promotion of both the common good and private virtue. This elective and the concomitant research project may fulfill the applied moral theology requirement for M.A. (Theology) concentrators in Moral Theology.

Prerequisite Fundamental Moral Theology (MORL 501 and MORL 502).

MORL 912 Sanctity in the Workplace: Business and Catholic Morality (2 crs)
Working from within the context of the Catholic Church’s Social Teaching, this course will examine the general principles and particular settings in which the life of Christian charity can and should permeate the workplace. The course will begin with basic social principles, including the good of business, the virtue of magnanimity, and the excellence of leadership, followed by a brief review of fundamental social rights and objectives, the principles of subsidiarity and solidarity, and the nature of “human capital.” With this foundation, we will then examine particular issues such as job design, marketing, globalization, financialization, communications technology, investment, family wage, full employment, work and family life, competition, development/fundraising, corporate ownership, women in the workplace, business and the environment, morally problematic goods and services, productivity and poverty, and finally the Sabbath obligation. This elective and the concomitant research project may fulfill the applied moral theology requirement for M.A. (theology) concentrators in Moral Theology.

MORL 915 Truth and Beauty: 8th Commandment Issues (2 crs)
Drawing upon Scripture, the magisterial tradition, the patristic authorities, and especially the work of Augustine and Aquinas, as well as more recent theologians like von Balthasar and Maritain, this course will examine the general principles and the specific ways in which beauty should play a central role in the Christian life. The course will begin by contextualizing our study within the framework of the Church’s teaching on truth as a fundamental value, with implications for news, social networking, and social communications media. We will then turn to an examination the environmental implications underscored by the beauty of the natural world, the first part of the course will reflect on the nature of beauty as such and its moral implications for a life of order, truth, integrity, innovation and passion, as well as a proper appreciation and concern for the human body as a singular instance of physical beauty. In the second section, the moral implications and demands of the fine arts, written, visual, auditory and gustatory will be considered. Finally, the moral obligation to employ beauty in the service of the human person’s supernatural destiny will also be examined. This elective and the concomitant research project may fulfill the applied moral theology requirement for M.A. (theology) concentrators in Moral Theology.

Ordination Formation Program Requirements

ORDN 001 P1 Formation Pro-seminar (0 cr)
Required for First Pre-Theologians. Topics for this pro-seminar are carefully chosen to benefit the Pre-Theologian and assist him to transition to seminary life effectively in order that he might take full advantage of the opportunities afforded him in seminary formation. Class sessions address the four major areas of formation: Human Formation, Spiritual Formation, Intellectual Formation, and Pastoral Formation. The base of the seminar will be the spiritual presentations by the director of spiritual formation, interspersed with presentations by the director of pre-theology, the rector, the Seminary academic dean (on Intellectual Formation), director of pastoral formation and the vice rector/director of human formation – all on the pre-theology program and the different dimensions of seminary formation. Pass/fail.

ORDN 002 P1 Formation Pro-seminar: Fides et Ratio (0 cr)
Required for First Pre-Theologians. The second semester of the Pre-theology pro-seminar is designed as an integration of the various philosophical themes which the men are studying in their regular curriculum, and an application of those themes to the broader cultural context as a whole. To this end the pro-seminar will review basic concepts in metaphysics, epistemology, logic, and ethics and attempt to address these concepts to the contemporary challenges of secularism. Pass/fail.

ORDN 501 1T Formation Seminar: Celibate Witness (1 unit/0 cr)
Required for all Second Pre-theologians and new First Theologians, this weekly fall semester seminar covers “Living Celibacy Well.” In this seminar the seminarians learn the value and beauty of the celibate life and come to appreciate the many ways to live celibacy as a way to love in priestly ministry. Includes required formation workshops (2 days, 10 hours each). Required for Ordination Formation and the S.T.B. degree program. Pass/fail.

ORDN 601 2T Formation Seminars: Personal Conduct/Character of the Priest (1 unit/0 cr)
Required for all Second Theologians, this weekly seminar provides seminarian with multiple opportunities and experiences ordered toward continued growth and personal excellence. Specifically, it addresses remote preparation for the priesthood rather than proximate. In other words, it will focus on continued personal development as a Catholic gentleman as the foundation of further formation. The seminar will provide a unique opportunity for self-discovery, broadening of cultural experiences, leadership development, exposure to various fields of study and disciplines, and a personal accounting of all that is necessary for the individual seminarian to become an effective public person. Includes required formation workshops (2 days, 10 hours each). Required for Ordination Formation and the S.T.B. degree program. Pass/fail.
ORDN 602 2T Formation Seminars: Introduction to Parish Finances (1 unit/0 cr)
Required for all Second Theologians, this weekly seminar will help acquaint the seminarian with fiscal responsibilities of a pastor to administer a parish, providing multiple opportunities to learn about ministerial stewardship and fiduciary responsibility. Specifically, this seminar will address: basic language and tools of parish finances; how to conduct finance meetings; establish and implement a budget; and recognize when there are problems to address. The seminar will focus on continued physical maintenance, the economic life of a parish, and provide a unique opportunity to broaden leadership skills, be fiscally responsible and practice discipline as a steward of the parish. There will also be an overview on personal financial management practices. Students will be required to view the interactive Pastors and Stewards Program computer-assisted modules (CAMs) “Parish Finances I” and “Parish Finances II” as directed by the professor. Includes required formation workshops (2 days, 10 hours each). Required for Ordination Formation and the S.T.B. degree program. Pass/fail.

ORDN 701 3T Formation Seminar: Pastoral Administration/Human Resources (1 unit/0 cr)
Required for Third Theologians, this weekly seminar is designed to help the seminarian appreciate the different styles and techniques of valid and appropriate parish leadership especially in regards to pastoral management and human resources. Responsible stewardship, collaborative ministry, subsidiarity, employee relations, hiring and firing, being a just employer, etc., will be examined. In this seminar students are highly encouraged to ask questions and to engage in discussions on topics, issues, and concerns about running a parish office including conducting parish council and finance committee meetings, staff meetings, etc. The interactive Pastors and Stewards Program CAM “Human Resource Management” will be required, as directed by the professor. Includes required formation workshops (2 days, 10 hours each). Required for Ordination Formation and the S.T.B. degree program. Pass/fail.

ORDN 702 3T Formation Seminar: Pastoral Leadership (1 unit/0 cr)
Required for Third Theologians, this weekly seminar introduces the seminarians to the value and meaning of pastoral leadership based on the approach by Alexandre Havard called “Virtuous Leadership” which is the proprietary system and approach to leadership developed in his books, Virtuous Leadership: An Agenda for Personal Excellence and Created for Greatness: The Power of Magnanimity. The interactive Pastors and Stewards Program CAM “Pastoral Leadership” will be required, as directed by the professor. Includes required formation workshops (2 days, 10 hours each). Required for Ordination Formation and the S.T.B. degree program. Pass/fail.

ORDN 801 4T Formation Seminar: Transition to the Priesthood (1 unit/0 cr)
The transition from seminary to priesthood, while usually a highly anticipated event and a greatly welcomed one, is often accompanied by some unconscious grieving over what was left behind and conscious anxiety over what lies ahead. This transition marks a shift from the predictable routine of student status into an uncertain place in the midst of a new set of established co-workers and daily tasks; from the development and formation of oneself as a seminarian to a focus on service and mission to others as an ordained priest. Today’s priests are expected to be holy and prayerful spiritual guides, great preachers, and compassionate confessors, as well as to make important decisions in key areas such as finance, budgeting, hiring and firing, fundraising, relationship-building, and more. There are two obvious components of the transition process—the seminary and the parish. This weekly seminar intends to engage the practical aspects of both, with the aim of assisting the fourth year seminarian to anticipate with confidence the complexities of parish and diocesan life and ministry in the 21st century. Includes required formation workshops (2 days, 10 hours each). Required for Ordination Formation and the S.T.B. degree program. Pass/fail.

ORDN 802 4T Formation Seminar: Priesthood Assessment Integration (1 unit/0 cr)
This course is the capstone course for priestly formation and is designed to offer an opportunity for the fourth-year students to engage in theological and pastoral reflection in conversation with one another and the course instructor. Various questions, pastoral scenarios and cases, drawn from the PAIS Handbook compiled and designed specifically for this course, will form the basis for shared conversations. These conversations will consist not only of theological, canonical, liturgical, and sacramental principles, but also about their pastoral application and the strategies and practices employed in applying these principles to particular situations. In short, this course is about knowing what the Church teaches, how the Church lives and prays, and about bringing to the life of God’s People these various principles in an effective and fruitful way. Includes required formation workshops (2 days, 10 hours each). Required for Ordination Formation and the S.T.B. degree program. Pass/fail.

ORDN 010 Pastoral Year Internship (12 hours equivalency per semester)
The pastoral year is an appointment by the arch/bishop. This provides the seminarian invaluable internship experience within the parish, as well as opportunities for formation and discernment. Such seminarians may register for this full-time equivalency internship. Further information regarding the “contract” and supervisor’s evaluation can be found in the Pastoral Formation Handbook section of the Seminarian Handbook. Pass/fail.

Pastoral Theology

PATH 801 Pastoral Counseling (3 crs)
The course will establish a perspective of the priest to psychology, consider the limitations of modern psychology, and highlight the advantages of the Church’s vision of reality and its benefit to mental health. It will then consider the nature of rational psychology and put it into practical aspects of pastoral counseling. Required for the M.Div. and S.T.B. degree programs.

Elective Courses

PATH 901-904 Topics in Pastoral Theology (2 crs)
This course can be taken for credit more than once as long as the topic studied varies. Topics to be considered include marriage lectionary, military chaplaincy, catechetics, youth ministry, ministry to the sick, dying, and bereaved, campus ministry, and apologetics. (May be cross-listed with other departments) Recent offerings include:

- Statistics and the New Evangelization (spring 2017) Introduction to the basics of social statistics literacy, including evaluating data, the relationship between arguments and empirical support, and the principles and problems of survey data collection. Moreover, we will discuss how to construct, administer, and evaluate surveys. Students will learn to accurately and effectively present findings to a variety of audiences. Each course unit will include resources, skills, and practical application exercises specific to pastoral ministry.

- Strategies in the Formation of Laity (spring 2011) This course develops a theological framework for the formation of Roman Catholic laity who, by their Baptism, are fully incorporated into the life and mission of the Church. It will review the Church’s teaching regarding laity, and will provide a forum to discuss the struggles and challenges in making distinctions between the two states of laity and clerics.

PATH 905 Directed Readings in Pastoral Theology (2 crs)
Directed readings projects may be suggested by a particular pastoral focus, their pastoral placement, a language/culture immersion program, a particular workshop, or a formation seminar. Proposals for such a course follow the standard procedure for independent study programs.

PATH 906 Hispanic Ministry (3 crs)

A study of Hispanic ministry in the United States today including various issues and perspectives, challenges, and options facing the Church as Hispanic ministry continues to develop in the country. Required for the Hispanic Ministry Certificate, this course may be conducted as an independent study which incorporates directed readings in the Hispanic Ministry documents, placement in a setting with Hispanic ministry opportunities, and a directed research project focused on pastoral themes.

PATH 907 Spiritual Direction (2 crs)

The course is aimed at equipping the future priest to offer spiritual direction in his future parish ministry to various classes of person. The purpose of spiritual direction will be examined, along with the qualities of the director, the different areas of spiritual formation, and possible methods to employ. Enrollment usually limited to third and fourth theologians. (Cross-listed as SPIR 907)

PATH 910 Pastoral Theology (3 crs)

An investigation of official church teaching regarding pastoral theology and pastoral ministry, as well as key theological texts on the pastoral activities of priests and laity. Students will also explore the biblical theology, key historical writings and the example of the saints to come to understand the normative as well as speculative Catholic pastoral theology.

PATH 911 Military Chaplaincy (2 crs)

An exploration of the Roman Catholic military chaplaincy - from its historic roots to current day practice. Recommended for co-sponsored seminarians in all branches of service.

PATH 912 History of the Church in Latin America (2 crs)

A study of Latin American church history from colonial times to the present day. Emphasis is given to contemporary issues such as liberation theology, basic Christian communities, shortages of priests, growth of lay leadership, and the Medellín, Puebla and Santo Domingo Conferences. May fulfill a requirement for the Hispanic Ministry Certificate. (Cross-listed as CHUR 912)

PATH 913 Hispanics and the Church in the USA (2 crs)

A study of the importance of the Hispanic factor in the Church in the United States. Emphasis is given to the richness of the Hispanic cultures, past and new movements of immigration, and the manner in which the Church is attempting to meet Hispanic needs. May fulfill a requirement for the Hispanic Ministry Certificate. (Cross-listed as CHUR 913)

PATH 917 Pastoral Theology of Youth Ministry (2 crs)

Evangelization and pastoral care of the youth and young adults requires specialized training for parish priests. While instincts and natural inclination to serve young people in the Church and in the modern world may come naturally for some ministers, there are techniques based on sound Catholic theology that can provide all future priests an opportunity to grow in knowledge and confidence in this much-needed field of pastoral activity. Church documents, emphasis on authentic spiritual conversion, scriptural references, as well as best pastoral practices will be offered to seminarians as a way encourage and strengthen their resolve in serving a sector of society that seeks guidance, direction and care from a loving shepherd.

Pastoral Field Education – Supervised Placements

PFED 003-004 Pre-Theology Placement: Optional Opportunity (0 cr)

The pre-theology pastoral formation placement provides introductory supervised experiences with the hungry, the homeless, the sick and the marginalized, and other opportunities for service and evangelization. Pass/fail.
PFED 501-502 1T Supervised Placement: Catechetics and Teaching Ministry (1 cr per semester)
Through supervised ministry experience in catechetics and teaching at parish religious education programs or Catholic schools, seminarians gain an awareness and working knowledge of the role of religious education in the pastoral mission of the Church, a basic competence for catechesis, and age-appropriate lesson planning. Required for the M.Div. degree program and expected of all S.T.B. candidates. Pass/fail.

PFED 599 Teaching/ Catechesis Prep (0 cr)
This course provides foundational background on Catholic schools, educational pedagogy, classroom management, and collaborating with faculty. It includes 7 class sessions in the fall semester. Required for the M.Div. degree program and expected of all S.T.B. candidates. Pass/fail.

PFED 601-602 2T Supervised Placement: Health Care or Social Services Ministry (1 cr per semester)
Through supervised ministry experience in health care or social services, seminarians develop effective listening skills, an understanding of collaborative ministry, and the ability to extend pastoral charity to the sick, the needy, and the marginalized. Placement sites include hospitals, nursing homes, hospices, immigration services, youth and young adult ministries, rehabilitation services for the homeless, etc. Required for the M.Div. degree program and expected of all S.T.B. candidates. Pass/fail.

PFED 701-702 3T Supervised Placement: Evangelization Ministry (1 cr per semester)
Through supervised ministry experience in evangelization or social services, seminarians continue to develop relational skills needed to connect with people across the generations, to grow in their capacity for exercising pastoral leadership, to engage in collaborative ministry, and to acquire ecumenical sensitivity. Placement sites provide opportunities to work in parish ministry, ministry to youth and young adults, campus ministry, adult religious education, and the Order of Christian Initiation for Adults. Required for the M.Div. degree program and expected of all S.T.B. candidates. Pass/fail.

PFED 801-802 4T Supervised Placement: Parish Ministry (1 cr per semester)
Through parish assignments, seminarians will develop a sense of self as servant leaders in the Church. Deacons regularly preach during Sunday Masses and participate in other sacramental celebrations as directed by the pastor. Required for the M.Div. degree program and expected of all S.T.B. candidates. Pass/fail.

PFED 900 Supervised Summer Placement (0 cr)
Seminarians assigned by their diocese to a summer placement in a local parish may register for this placement. Further information regarding the “contract” and supervisor’s evaluation can be found in the Seminarian Handbook. Pass/fail.

Pre-Theology Core Classes

PTHL 001 Catechism and Catechetics I (3 crs)
This course seeks to introduce students, who may or may not have a fully-developed comprehension of Catholic doctrine and tradition, to a thorough and systematic study of the Catechism of the Catholic Church, beginning with the creedal foundations of doctrine in Pillar 1, “The Profession of Faith,” and continuing with the sacramental system of the Church in Pillar 2, “The Celebration of the Christian Mystery.” Students will also be introduced to the USCCB Catechism for Adults and the YouCat edition of the Catechism. Prerequisite for the S.T.B. degree program.
PTHL 002 Catechism and Catechetics II (3 crs)
This course treats content of the 3rd and 4th pillar of the Catechism of the Catholic Church and gives attention to how this content may be effectively taught to youth and adults by a study and comparison of the Universal Catechism and the USCCB Catechism for Adults and the YouCat edition of the Catechism. Building on the foundation of Christian faith (Pillar 1) and of the sacramental system of the Church (Pillar 2), pre-theologians will study the moral life worthy of the dignity of a Christian called to live the Gospel of Christ in Pillar 3. The course concludes with Pillar 4 on the teachings on Christian Prayer as the living out of the mystery of our faith in relationship with God. This course prepares candidates for the 2-day workshop on Catechetics and the year-long pastoral field education placement in Catholic education. S.T.B. candidates are expected to complete both the workshop and the placement as a requirement of their program.

PPHL 505 Natural Theology (3 crs)
This course examines the truths about God that can be known through reason. It focuses principally on the natural theology of St. Thomas Aquinas and concludes with a discussion of contemporary approaches to natural theology. (Cross-listed as MAP 505)

PPHL 506 Philosophical Anthropology (3 crs)
This course introduces students to the philosophy of the human person, tracing the development of philosophical anthropology through the writings of major philosophers, and culminating in the personalism of Pope John Paul II. (Cross-listed as MAP 506)

PHIL 202 Logic and Philosophical Methods (3 crs)
An examination of the nature of arguments and the principles of right reasoning and an endeavor to foster in students the habit of critical thinking. Prerequisite for M.A.P.S. degree program.

PHIL 301 Ethics and the Human Good (3 crs)
An inquiry into the nature of the moral good, the structures of moral agency and the proper criteria for making choices that bear on human beings and their well-being. (Cross-listed as MAP 501)

PHIL 311 Ancient Philosophy (3 crs)
An investigation of the development of Western philosophy from the Pre-Socratic period through Plato and Aristotle to Neo-Platonism. (Cross-listed as MAP 511)

PHIL 312 Medieval Philosophy (3 crs)
An investigation of the development of Western philosophy from the early Middle Ages to the Renaissance. (Cross-listed as MAP 512)

PHIL 313 Modern Philosophy (3 crs)
An investigation of the development of Western philosophy in the 17th and 18th centuries. (Cross-listed as MAP 513)

PHIL 314 Contemporary Philosophy (3 crs)
An investigation of the development of contemporary philosophy through selected topics and readings. (Cross-listed as MAP 514)

PHIL 318 Epistemology/Philosophy of Knowledge (3 crs)
An investigation of the nature of knowledge and its properties, namely truth, certitude and probability. Readings representative of different historical periods will be studied. (Cross-listed as MAP 518)

PHIL 321 Metaphysics (3 crs)
An investigation of the nature of beings; topics examined include the one and the many, being and nonbeing, the nature of substance, monism versus dualism and causality. Readings representative of different historical periods will be studied. (Cross-listed as MAP 521)
Electives The following electives, plus additional philosophy/M.A.P.S. electives offered by professors in the University's philosophy department and listed in the M.A.P.S. degree section of the MSMU Graduate Catalog, are open to any seminarian with the permission of the Seminary academic dean. M.A.P.S. candidates are required to take at least one 3-credit upper-level philosophy elective.

PPHL 901 Philosophy of Nature (Cosmology) (3 crs)
As the philosophical study of the origin, constitution, and destiny of the physical universe, the philosophy of nature serves as both bridge from the tangible world to metaphysics and as a natural prelude to the theology of creation. After some introductory lectures that explore the nature of philosophical thinking and distinguish it from theology, the philosophy of nature is situated within the larger philosophical domain. Then a historical inquiry is begun that traces cosmology's path through Western history, beginning with the Greeks, continuing through the medieval and modern periods, and concluding with contemporary thought. Here the question of the relation of cosmology to contemporary science is directly engaged. Selections from primary texts selections supplement an accessible contemporary author who serves as our pathfinder for investigating the mysteries of the universe and its suggestions of a hidden Causer standing behind the world as its origin, support, and end. Required for all potential S.T.B. degree candidates.

PPHL 902 Political Philosophy (3 crs)
An investigation of the nature of political society through an examination of the concepts of political authority, civil obligation, state neutrality, equality and just distribution. Required for all potential S.T.B. degree candidates. (Cross-listed as MAP 523)

PTHL 004 Prayer According to the Scriptures (2 crs)
A study of the selected prayers and instructions for prayer in both the Old and New Testaments with special attention to the Psalms and to the prayers of Jesus. Examples of the Christian use of the Bible for various forms of meditative prayer will also be studied. The course provides the opportunity to consider helping others to use the Bible for prayer.

PTHL 005 Vocation, Discernment, and the Spiritual Exercises (2 crs)
An introduction to the concepts of personal vocation, the dynamics of discernment, and key elements of the spiritual exercises of St. Ignatius Loyola. Aimed at pre-theologians, it can also be taken as an elective in the Ordination Formation program.

PTHL 006 Introduction to Vatican II Documents (2 crs)
Overview of the historical and theological context of the Second Vatican Council; survey of its documents and their continuing implementation in the life of the Church.

Sacred Scripture

SCRP 501 Introduction to Scripture: Wisdom and Psalms (3 crs)
This course provides the student with an introduction to biblical studies. Students are introduced to principles and methods of Catholic biblical interpretation: inspiration and inerrancy; the formation of the canon; the relationship of the Old and New Testament; biblical typology, etc. The development of biblical manuscripts and translations is covered, as is a survey of the history of biblical interpretation over the centuries. Students are introduced to various methods of biblical exegesis, both ancient (e.g., allegory) and modern / contemporary (e.g., form, source, redaction criticism) and informed of their strengths and limitations, as per the Church's Scripture documents. Students will apply their knowledge from the course in the writing of an exegesis paper on a biblical text; specifically, on a passage from either the Psalms or Wisdom literature. Required for the M.Div. and S.T.B. degree programs, and for all concentrations in the M.A. (Theology) program.
SCRP 502 Pentateuch and the Historical Books (3 crs)
This course provides the student with an introduction to the Pentateuch and Historical Books of the Old Testament (Gen-Deut, Joshua, Judges, I and II Sam, I and II Ki, I and II Chron, Ezra, Neh, I and II Macc). This course follows SCRP 501 in the curriculum. Students will read through each of the biblical books with emphasis upon those passages contained in the Sunday Lectionary. The theological, historical and literary features of each book will be discussed, along with their larger contributions in the canon of Scripture. Through careful study, students will gain a clearer understanding of these biblical books in order to preach and teach them effectively. Students will apply their knowledge from the course in the writing of an exegesis paper on a discrete passage from one of these biblical books. Required for the M.Div. and S.T.B. degree programs, and Sacred Scripture concentrators in the M.A. (Theology) program.

SCRP 601 The Prophets (3 crs)
An introduction to the Hebrew prophets of the Old Testament. After briefly dealing with the general nature of prophecy and the non-writing prophets, the course will treat the prophets in chronological order: pre-exilic prophets, exilic prophets and post-exilic prophets. Each prophet will be studied in his historical and political context before examining his main teaching and theology and reading select passages from his book. Preference will be giving to passages in the Sunday and weekday Lectionaries. Each passage will be read firstly at the literal level, and then, only if appropriate, will be read Christologically. Thus Christ and the Church will be seen anticipated in the Prophets. The apocalyptic material will also be studied, giving attention to the Lectionary passages, which can be found principally in Isaiah 24-27; Zechariah, parts of Joel, Daniel and also elsewhere in the Prophets. Required for the M.Div. and S.T.B. degree programs, and for Sacred Scripture concentrators in the M.A. (Theology) program.

SCRP 602 Matthew and Mark (3 crs)
This course is an introduction to the synoptic Gospels of Matthew and Mark. Both Gospels will be read in their entirety by the student. Both Gospels will be treated in their entirety via an overview survey. Selected passages will be given a detailed exegesis. The course will enable the student to gain some familiarity with and competence in the methodology of Catholic biblical interpretation. The student will be given a general introduction to each book under consideration: a discussion of authorship, dating, provenance, overall purpose, distinctive themes and theological emphases, and literary structure. Within the overall discussion of the synoptic problem, source criticism, tradition criticism, and redaction criticism will be discussed. The student will become familiar with a number of commentaries on the Gospels of Matthew and Mark (notably some commentaries by prominent English-speaking Catholic scholars) in the process of writing exegesis papers. Another emphasis in the course is to give the student some appreciation of the importance of Old Testament traditions and background in understanding and interpreting the New. Required for the M.Div. and S.T.B. degree programs, and recommended for Sacred Scripture concentrators in the M.A. (Theology) degree program.

This course is an introduction to the Gospel of Luke and Acts of the Apostles which are treated as Luke-Acts, i.e., a double work authored by Luke. Following questions of authorship, dating, and Lukan theology, the course examines select passages of the Gospel, especially the Lectionary passages, examining what distinguishes this Gospel from the other Synoptics, both theologically and from a literary point of view. Items receiving particular attention include the Infancy Narratives, the Passion and Resurrection Narratives, Parables, Miracles, the Sermon on the Plain and the Travel Narrative. Acts is studied as “Volume Two” of Luke’s double work and the flowering of the distinctive theology of the Gospel. In Acts the gospel spreads out from Jerusalem, then to Judea and Samaria, and finally to the end of the earth. A major component in the theology of Acts is justification of the baptism of Gentiles without prior circumcision. Required for the M.Div. and S.T.B. degree programs, and all concentrations of the M.A. (Theology) program.

SCRP 702 Gospel and Letters of John, plus the Book of Apocalypse (3 crs)

The course is an introduction to the Gospel and Letters of John, as well as to the Book of Apocalypse. After discussing historical questions of authorship, redaction, dating, and the situation of the Johannine community, the course will proceed by way of exegesis of the Gospel, pericope by pericope. In the Book of Signs attention will be given to Jesus as the fulfillment of the Sabbath and the Jewish Feasts of Passover, Tabernacles and Dedication. Sacramental theology throughout the Gospel will receive attention (e.g. baptismal theology in many chapters; Eucharistic theology in John 6; and sacerdotal theology in John 17). Following the Gospel the Letters of John will be exegeted and there will be an overview of Johannine theology. The course will conclude with an introduction to apocalypticism and the Book of Apocalypse which will be followed by exegesis of the Book of Apocalypse pericope by pericope. Required for the M.Div. and S.T.B. degree programs, and recommended for Sacred Scripture concentrators in the M.A. (Theology) program.

SCRP 801 The Pauline Literature and Pastoral Letters (3 crs)

This course is an introduction to the Letters traditionally attributed to St. Paul as well as a brief introduction to the Letter to the Hebrews. An introduction to the life and theology of St. Paul, drawn from both the Book of Acts and Paul’s letters, will begin the course. This will give the student some historical perspective on Paul’s conversion and missionary activity as well as an overview of the main contours of his theology. A general introduction will be given for each letter: a discussion of authorship, dating, provenance, overall purpose, distinctive themes and theological emphases, and literary structure. At the heart of the course is the endeavor to equip students with a methodology for interpreting and understanding the Pauline Literature, giving the student a facility in using Paul’s writings in preaching, teaching, and personal spirituality. These interpretive skills will be honed via the five exegesis papers and through detailed classroom analysis of select portions from each letter that will give the student training in Catholic exegetical methodology. Required for the M.Div. and S.T.B. degree programs, and for Sacred Scripture concentrators in the M.A. (Theology) program.

Electives M.A. (Theology) degree candidates concentrating in Sacred Scripture, concomitant with each of the three electives needed, take three additional 1-credit directed research courses for inclusion in the Research Projects Portfolio required for the degree, preferably with three different professors.

SCRP 901-904 Topics in Sacred Scripture (2 crs)

This elective, along with concomitant research project, may fulfill a requirement for M.A. (Theology) concentrators in Sacred Scripture. This course can be taken for credit more than once as long as the topic studied varies. Recent offerings include:

- Thomas Aquinas on the Old and New Law (spring 2021) This elective provides an in-depth study of the questions devoted to the Old and New Law in the Prima Secundae of Thomas Aquinas' Summa Theologiae (ST I-II.98-108), which constitute Aquinas' most extensive consideration of the content and interrelationship of the Old and New Testament, and of their shared witness to Christ and the mystery of salvation. In keeping with Aquinas' own emphases in these questions, special attention is paid to his teaching on the Old Law, including his threefold division of its moral, judicial, ceremonial precepts; his efforts to connect these precepts both to natural law and to the New Law; and his complex account of the Old Law's anticipation of, and fulfillment by, Christ. In order to foster greater understanding of Aquinas' approach to the unity and distinction of Old and New, pertinent historical, textual, and theological issues in these questions will be addressed via supplemental reading selections from other of Aquinas' writings, certain of his sources (biblical, patristic, and Jewish), and the contributions of more recent scholarship. (Cross-listed as SYST 920)

- Thomas Aquinas' Commentary on John (fall 2019) This elective introduces seminarians to medieval scholastic biblical interpretation and to its rich and sophisticated engagement with the patristic exegetical heritage of the Greek East and Latin West, taking as its primary focus Thomas Aquinas’ Commentary on the Gospel of John. Serving as an engine and exemplar of an integrated and immersive reading of sacred scripture from within the Church’s tradition, Aquinas’ commentary on the fourth gospel is examined with an eye to its methods of textual division and interpretation, its various doctrinal considerations occasioned by the gospel text (e.g., Trinitarian theology, incarnational Christology, sacramental theology, etc.), and its attentive use of previous patristic commentator, such as Origen, John Chrysostom, and Augustine. Beyond the text of Aquinas’ commentary itself, additional readings are drawn from other of Aquinas’ writings, including his Catena of patristic excerpts on John, as well as his source material from key patristic commentaries and homilies on the fourth gospel.

SCRP 914 -915 Themes in Biblical Theology (2 crs)
This course will afford the opportunity for students to study one specialized topic, or several interrelated topics, which are treated more generally in the core courses in Sacred Scripture (e.g., the priesthood, the apostles) in much greater depth. This elective, along with concomitant research project, may fulfill a requirement for M.A. (Theology) concentrators in Sacred Scripture. This course can be taken for credit more than once as long as the topic studied varies. Recent offerings include:

- Scriptural Foundations for Sacramental Formation (spring 2020) This course considers biblical and theological principles which guide sacramental formation. The aim of the course is to understand the scriptural foundations for the baptismal catechumenate and systematically discuss its application to the formation for infant baptism, confirmation, Eucharist, marriage, and reconciliation. The course offers the students the opportunity to apply scriptural and theological principles of sacramental theology in the critical evaluation of available resources, thereby fostering implementation of sacramental processes that form intentional disciples.

- The Psalms (fall 2019) The psalter is an integral component of the prayer life of the Church, in particular in the celebration of Mass and in the Liturgy of the Hours. This course will present the historical setting, literary context and theological message of the Psalms, with particular attention to the Psalms prayed in Sunday Liturgy, Morning Prayer and Evening Prayer. In learning the structure, categories, and important theological themes of the psalms, the students will have the opportunity to enrich their prayer life and to be better prepared to preach and teach the message of the Psalms.

- Vocation and Sacred Scripture (spring 2018, spring 2016) This course is a study of the vocation/call narratives of individuals in the Old and New Testaments, examining their initial call, their response and living out of that call, difficulties encountered, and fidelity to the call. This will enable us to build up a theology of vocation. Just some of those whose calls and responses will be studied are Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, Joseph, Moses, Joshua, Gideon, Samson, Samuel, Saul, David, Solomon, Elijah, Elisha, Amos, Isaiah, Jeremiah, Zechariah, Mary, the apostles, and Paul. Many individuals in the Bible experienced similar reactions when called (e.g., fear and doubt) and they needed divine reassurance to enable them to respond. All were called at different stages in their lives but their life before their call equipped them with gifts to respond better to their call. This course will contain much that will be useful if you are ever asked to give a vocation talk or become the vocation director of your diocese.
SCRP 917-918 Exegetical Studies of Selected Texts (2 crs)
This course is an in-depth study of selected books of the Bible (e.g., Hebrews, Psalms) or a selected genre from the Scriptures (e.g., the Parables, Sermons on the Mount/Plain) with special emphasis on interpretation valuable for the ministry of the priest. This elective, along with concomitant research project, may fulfill a requirement for M.A. (Theology) concentrators in Sacred Scripture. This course can be taken for credit more than once as long as the topic studied varies. Recent offerings include:

- Letter to the Hebrews (spring 2019, spring 2017, spring 2015) This course is an in-depth study of the Letter to the Hebrews offering interpretation valuable for a seminarian preparing for priesthood. To put the letter in context, the course commences by examining the Levitical priesthood of the Old Covenant which will make the uniqueness of Jesus’ high priesthood of the New Covenant all the more obvious. The course will examine the way this letter describes Jesus as priest, the only document of the New Testament to do so, and the appropriateness of describing Jesus as high priest. The course concludes by looking at Jesus’ sharing his priesthood with the apostles.

SCRP 970 Readings in Biblical Greek: Exegetical Readings (2 crs)
Both an intermediate Greek and an exegesis course, it builds on the knowledge acquired in first-year Greek. By means of a careful reading of the Greek text of selected portions of John or other texts, the students’ skills in the basic grammar, syntax, and vocabulary of New Testament Greek will be strengthened. Exegetical analysis will also strengthen the students’ skills in the methodology of Catholic Biblical interpretation. (May be cross-listed as GREK 970) This elective, along with concomitant research project, may fulfill a requirement for M.A. (Theology) concentrators in Sacred Scripture. This course can be taken for credit more than once as long as the topic studied varies. Recent offerings include:

- Readings in the Gospel of John (fall 2018, fall 2016, fall 2014) This course will consist of selected readings and exegetical analysis in the Greek New Testament from the Gospel of John. The course will strengthen the students’ knowledge of Greek grammar, syntax, and vocabulary. The course will also enhance the students’ exegetical and interpretive skills.

- Luke’s Passion Narrative (spring 2019, spring 2007) This course is both an intermediate Greek-reading course and an exegesis course. The course builds on the knowledge acquired in first-year Greek. By means of a careful reading of the Greek text of selected portions of Luke’s Passion Narrative (Luke 19-24), the students’ skills in the basic grammar, syntax, and vocabulary of New Testament Greek will be strengthened. Exegetical analysis will also strengthen the students’ skills in the methodology of Catholic biblical interpretation. Prerequisite GREK 960.

Spiritual Theology

SPIR 502 Christian Spirituality (3 crs)
This course covers the origins and development of Christian spirituality, with attention to its sources, principles and practices through the centuries. The direct and integral relationship between sound theology and spirituality and the acceptance of genuine human nature as created and redeemed by God are kept in focus. The first half of the course focuses on the historical emergence of Christian spirituality, distinguishing causes and effects in various cultural expressions. The second half of the course highlights dimensions of the Christian spiritual tradition appropriate for priestly spirituality and ministry. Offered from a Catholic perspective, the entire course encourages the integration of spiritual reading, personal prayer, private devotion, liturgical prayer and the pastoral application of spirituality for future priestly ministry. Required for the M.Div. and S.T.B. degree programs.
Elective Courses

SPIR 901-906 Special Topics or Themes in Spirituality (2 crs)
This course can be taken for credit more than once as long as the topic studied varies. Recent offerings include:

- French Catholic Spirituality from the 17th – 19th Centuries (fall 2020, fall 2017) The course will trace the historical growth of France’s spiritual life from the time of St. Francis de Sales, Father Jean-Jacques Olier, and St. John Eudes, through St. Vincent de Paul and St. Louise de Marillac, the theological tensions of the late 17th century, to the emergence of such luminaries as St. Louis de Montfort. The challenges of the French Revolution will be examined; the private revelations of Paray-Le-Monial, as well as Rue du Bac and Lourdes of the 19th century will also be treated in depth. Special emphasis will be placed on the life and spiritual doctrine of St. Therese of Lisieux, and the relevance of her writings for today’s church. The course attempts an historical and spiritual survey of two centuries of Catholic life in “the eldest daughter of the Church.” (May be cross-listed as a CHUR elective)

- The Spiritual Doctrine of St. Therese of Lisieux (fall 2019, fall 2013, fall 2011) A study of the life, times, spiritual doctrine, and contributions of Therese of Lisieux to the church’s spiritual patrimony, as well as a concentration on the background of her 1997 Doctoral designation by St. John Paul II. The course seeks to provide an introduction to the study of Therese, described by St. Pius X as the “greatest saint of modern times,” to facilitate an appreciation for the numerous in-depth studies done on her “Little Way,” as well as other aspects of her spiritual doctrine, and hopefully to encourage a lifetime appreciation of, devotion to, and ongoing growth in knowledge of her. This elective course is designed to be both formational and integrating: formational in its exposure to Theresian spirituality as a unique path to personal holiness, and integral in comparing and contrasting the Little Way with other spiritual approaches and schools of thought which have emerged through the centuries. (May be cross-listed as CHUR 901)

- Fulton Sheen (spring 2011) The course focuses on the major themes one finds emerging in the sixty years Sheen wrote The Life of All Living (the Heavenly Father); The Incarnate Son of God; Temptation and Sin; Conversion, Confession, The Mystery of Suffering; Prayer; The Blessed Virgin Mary; Marriage; and Eucharist and Priesthood (extended emphasis). Interspersed with this would be ongoing concentration on Sheen’s biography and the place the themes of his books find in the course of his life.

SPIR 907 Spiritual Direction (2 crs)
The course is aimed at equipping the future priest to offer spiritual direction in his future parish ministry to various classes of person. The purpose of spiritual direction will be examined, along with the qualities of the director, the different areas of spiritual formation, and possible methods to employ. Enrollment usually limited to third and fourth theologians. (May be cross-listed as PATH 907)

Systematic Theology

SYST 501 Revelation, Faith, and Theology (3 crs)
This introductory course in systematic theology also doubles as an introduction to theology in general and systematic theology in particular. It studies what our faith begins with: God’s first revealing Himself to us. Rooted in the Church’s Magisterium, theology is presented as the formal study of Revelation and the primary intellectual primary response to it in faith. First, the nature, content, methods, and history of Catholic theology as a particularly critical response to faith are presented. Second, faith itself is examined as the primary human response to God’s personal revelation as it is present in the Church and individual. Finally, the meaning, sources, interpretation, transmission, and development of Revelation are elucidated. Our pathfinder is St.
Thomas Aquinas, who provides us with grounding principles for understanding the subject matter and helps to integrate the three themes reflected in the course title. Required for the M.Div. and S.T.B. degree programs, and for all concentrations in the M.A. (Theology) program.

SYST 502 Theology of the Tri-personal God (3 crs)

This course familiarizes students with Magisterial teaching about the Holy Trinity, and the historical doctrinal errors this teaching seeks to correct. Using texts from Joseph Ratzinger (as was at publication of course materials), St. Augustine, St. Thomas Aquinas, and St. John Henry Newman, the course will explore various Scriptural and theological explanations of the Church’s doctrine on the Trinity. Next, this course examines speculations in Trinitarian theology from Karl Rahner, Hans Urs von Balthasar, and other contemporary trends in the light of previous course material. Finally, we will briefly survey some catechetical tools and methods for teaching the doctrine of the Trinity. Required for the M.Div. and S.T.B. degree programs.

SYST 604 Sacraments: Baptism and Confirmation (3 crs)

This course will study the nature of sacramentality, and of the sacraments in general, and their relationship to Christ and the Church. Baptism and Confirmation as initiation into the Church are explored in terms of their biblical sources, historical and liturgical development, and contemporary questions, including catechetical considerations. Required for the M.Div. and S.T.B. degree programs, and for Systematic Theology concentrators in the M.A. (Theology) program.

SYST 605 Theology of Creation and the Human Person (3 crs)

This is the first course of a two-part study of divine gratuity in the orders of nature and grace. This course, formerly called Protology and Anthropology, employs Scriptural, historical, and above all systematic approaches to investigate the overarching mysteries of creation and the human person as well as the ancillary teachings these mysteries imply: the created order, Divine Providence, the mystery of evil, science and belief, and the nature and powers of the human person. St. Thomas Aquinas, whose presentation of these issues are amenable to embracing later and corrective insights of the Catholic tradition, human reason, and common experience, serves as master guide for organizing the various dimensions of these mysteries into a coherent whole. Required for the M.Div. and S.T.B. degree programs, and for all concentrations of the M.A. (Theology) program.

SYST 606 Grace and the Theological Virtues (3 crs)

As the second course of a two-part study of divine gratuity in the orders of nature and grace, this course is comprised of three tracts: select questions in theological anthropology, grace, and the theological virtues. 1) The anthropological issues treated provide the background for the mystery of grace: the human person as image of God, the original state, and the Fall with its consequences. 2) St. Thomas Aquinas, whose teachings are coordinated with earlier and later insights of the Catholic tradition and human reason, serves as master guide for organizing the various mysteries of grace into a coherent whole. These include the Old and New Laws, necessity, nature, kinds, causes and effects of grace, the new life of grace offered by Jesus Christ, the relation of uncreated to created grace, the relation of grace to the sacraments, and the divine indwelling. 3) St. Thomas’ teachings are also consulted for a detailed treatment of hope and love (faith having been treated in SYST 501) as supernatural dispositions that enable one to live the graced life now and prepare for its undying expression later. Required for the M.Div. and S.T.B. degree programs, and for Systematic Theology concentrators in the M.A. (Theology) program.

SYST 703 Ecclesiology, Mariology, and Ecumenism (4 crs)

This course provides an historically nuanced and systematic overview of the origin, nature and mission of the Church, with particular attention to the ecclesiology articulated at the Second Vatican Council and by subsequent popes. This course will investigate the Church in its Marian, Petrine and Pauline dimensions. The Church’s relationship to non-Christians (inter-religious affairs) and to other ecclesial communities (ecumenism) will be studied as an extension of her fundamental mission of evangelization. Mariology will also feature prominently, as Mary is the type and pattern of the Church both in receptivity to God’s call and in eschatological perfection. Emphasis will be placed on practical ecclesiology or the application of ecclesial principles to the life of the Church, both universally and locally. Current issues in ecclesiology will serve as test cases for analysis. Required for the M.Div. and S.T.B. degree programs, and recommended for Systematic Theology concentrators in the M.A. (Theology) program.

SYST 704 Holy Orders (3 crs)
A systematic study on the Sacrament of Holy Orders: the Scriptural foundations, patristic sources, and the history of the development of the ecclesial understanding of the deacon, presbyter and bishop. Attention will be given to the minister’s configuration to Christ, priest, prophet and pastor. The course will include a study of documents of the Magisterium that pertain to Holy Orders, as well as a consideration of various contemporary theological, ecumenical and pastoral issues. Required for the M.Div. and S.T.B. degree programs.

SYST 705 Christology (3 crs)
The central mystery of the Christian faith is Christ: who he is and what he has done for us. Although each of these topics implies the other, the first aspect of the mystery is emphasized in Christology and the second aspect is emphasized in Soteriology (SYST 804). While the method here is primarily systematic, historical and textual approaches are included in order to present key historical moments and documents in the Church's theological elucidation of the mystery of Christ and his salvific work. After the nature and method of the discipline is introduced and various principles are enunciated, classical Christology is examined from the perspectives of a Catholic reading of the Christology of the New Testament and its development in the controversies, councils, and Fathers of the early Church. This is followed by a presentation of Thomistic teachings located in the Summa Theologiae's first tract on Christ. Finally, some contemporary authors, including Benedict XVI, are examined for their responses to questions that first arose in the modern period. Required for the M.Div. and S.T.B. degree programs, and for Systematic Theology concentrators in the M.A. (Theology) degree program.

SYST 801 Sacraments of Healing: Penance and Anointing (3 crs)
The course will include a theological investigation of the mystery of sin and sickness in light of Christ’s paschal mystery, the foundation of the Sacraments of Penance and Anointing in the New Testament, an historical and theological study of the development of the sacraments of Penance and the Anointing of the Sick, a thorough investigation of the rites for the celebration of these sacraments, a plan for the pastoral renewal of the Sacrament of Penance, a study of the Sacred Canons on Penance, Indulgences, and the Anointing of the Sick. Pastoral issues such as First Penance, the Pastoral Care of the Sick and the Dying, Spiritual Direction, and the Doctrine of Indulgences will also be addressed. Required for the M.Div. and S.T.B. degree programs. Ordination candidates also take the concomitant LITY 801 Penance and Anointing Practicum (1 cr).

SYST 802 Holy Eucharist (2 crs)
A systematic and historical study of the Eucharist: the Scripture texts, patristic sources, theological development, and contemporary conciliar and papal teaching, as well as a presentation of the appropriate Canons on the Eucharist from the Code of Canon Law. Emphasis on the Eucharist under four aspects: memorial sacrifice, sacramental presence, sign of unity, and eschatological banquet. Required for the M.Div. and S.T.B. degree programs. Ordination candidates also take the concomitant LITY 802 Holy Eucharist Practicum (1 cr).

SYST 804 Soteriology and Eschatology (3 crs) – New core, effective spring 2021

Soteriology begins with introductory lectures that situate the discipline and provide a general overview of the questions to be addressed in both Christological and anthropological domains. Its development is then examined at key historical moments: emergence from the pages of Sacred Scripture, deepened reflection during the Patristic period, the sharpened articulations of the medieval period, particularly those of St. Anselm and St. Thomas Aquinas, and the Reformation teachings. The course continues by attempting an adequate Soteriology that does justice to salvation as redemption, forgiveness, ontology, liberation, reconciliation, satisfaction, and redemptive love. It ends by examining the “four last things” – death, judgment, heaven and hell – and offers an orientation to the Catholic Tradition’s reflection on the end, both personal and communal. Required for the M.Div. and S.T.B. degree programs, and recommended for Systematic Theology concentrators in the M.A. (Theology) program.

Electives M.A. (Theology) degree candidates concentrating in Systematic Theology, concomitant with each of the three electives needed, take three additional 1-credit directed research courses for inclusion in the Research Projects Portfolio required for the degree, preferably with three different professors.

SYST 905/906 Themes in Systematic Theology (2 crs)

This course will afford the opportunity for concentrators in Systematic Theology to study one specialized topic, or several interrelated topics, which are treated more generally in one of the core courses of Systematic Theology – Trinity, Christology, Ecclesiology, Grace, Creation and Man, Sacraments – in much greater depth, using primary resources (the writings of great theologians past and present). This elective, along with concomitant research project, may fulfill a requirement for M.A. (Theology) concentrators in Systematic Theology. This course can be taken for credit more than once as long as the topic studied varies. Recent offerings include:

- St. John of the Cross and the Eucharist (fall 2019, fall 2015, spring 2012, spring 2008) This course will begin with an introduction to the life and the spiritual theology of St. John of the Cross. The course will proceed with a study of the Eucharist in the life and the writings of St. John. The testimonial evidence available from the 17th century and textual and theological analyses of Eucharistic passages in St. John's poetry, treatises, and minor works will be explored in depth. In this course, we will also examine the implications of the Mystical Doctor’s Eucharistic theology and practice for authentic Catholic spirituality.

- Demonic Afflictions: Theology and Pastoral Response (spring 2019) This course will examine the most recent reform of the Roman Catholic rites of exorcism from 2004. Primarily a pastoral presentation, the readings, films and topics will be geared to assist a parish priest to respond to the many forms of witchcraft, the occult and the demonic in multi-cultural American settings. Background angelology and demonology relevant to the study of the rites and their pastoral performance will also be included. Consideration also given to the phenomenon of ghosts, hauntings, and forms of magic encountered in American settings. Mid-term and final papers.

- The Holy Spirit and the Christian Life (fall 2018) Utilizing the insights and work of the Fathers of the Church, St. Thomas Aquinas, John of St. Thomas, Fr. Raniero Cantalamessa, and various contemporary theologians and spiritual writers, this elective course will investigate the rich spiritual tradition regarding “the Holy Spirit and the Christian Life.” This will include investigation of the identity of the Holy Spirit, the gifts that he gives to Christians, and the activities that these gifts empower us to perform. Focused attention will be given to the Veni, Creator Spiritus (“Come, Creator Spirit”) hymn, which has been used to open every ecumenical council since its publication in the 10th century.

- Evangelization and Conversion (fall 2016, spring 2014, spring 2011) This course will examine the realities of evangelization and conversion through the recent conciliar and papal teaching from Vatican II through the writings of St. Paul VI, St. John Paul II, Pope Emeritus Benedict and Pope Francis. We will mine the broader tradition of the Church through the study of two classic works: St. Augustine’s Confessions and St. Teresa of Avila’s Interior Castle. In addition, the course will identify contemporary tools, methods, and initiatives in evangelization.

- Gifts and Charisms of the Holy Spirit (spring 2015, fall 2010, fall 2008, fall 2006) Utilizing the insights of the Fathers of the Church, St. Thomas Aquinas, John of St. Thomas, and various contemporary theologians and spiritual writers, this elective course will investigate the rich spiritual tradition of the Seven Gifts of the Holy Spirit. The students will consider the nature of the Gifts as well as the relationship of each Gift to the theological and moral virtues and the Gospel beatitudes. Special attention will be given to the nature of Christian mysticism, ecclesial charisms, and the role of the Holy Spirit in the various Christian states of life.

SYST 907/908 Readings in Soteriology (2 crs)
A study of Patristic texts and Medieval and Modern theologies of the redemption, of the various ways in which the Fathers, Doctors and other great theologians have understood the redemptive significance of the Mission of Jesus Christ and the salvific power of His life, death, resurrection and exaltation, in short, of what it means when the Church confesses Jesus Christ to be the Savior of the world. This elective, along with concomitant research project, may fulfill a requirement for M.A. (Theology) concentrators in Systematic Theology.

SYST 911 Mariology (2 crs)
This course goes beyond the treatment of Mariology in SYST 703 to examine the person of Mary biblically, patristically, scholastically, dogmatically and doctrinally, and will explore the relationship of Mariology to Christology, Soteriology, Ecclesiology, and Pneumatology. We will begin with the biblical and patristic foundations of Mariology, examine the historical context, theological basis, and doctrinal content of the four major dogmas, and examine post-conciliar development of Mary’s relationship to the Holy Spirit and to the Church. We will moreover consider recent magisterial statements on Mary’s role at Calvary, Marian mediation, and Our Lady’s intercessory prayer. The course will cover the development of Marian devotion, the category of hyperdulia, and the distinctive expressions of Marian devotion in the Eastern and Western traditions. Mary’s status in non-Catholic systems – Orthodox, Protestant, and Muslim – will be discussed, as well as a consideration of the delicate topic of Mary and Ecumenism. Finally we will look at the Vatican’s Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith’s norms of evaluating private revelation, as well as the four major approved Marian apparitions of Guadalupe, the Miraculous Medal, Lourdes and Fatima. This elective, along with concomitant research project, may fulfill a requirement for M.A. (Theology) concentrators in Systematic Theology.

SYST 915/916 Great Theologians (2 crs)
An in-depth study of the thought of a single great theologian or a theological theme as it is developed in a series of theologians over time, including such figures as St. Augustine, St. Anselm, St. John Henry Newman, de Lubac, Congar, Rahner and von Balthasar. This elective, along with concomitant research project, may fulfill a requirement for M.A. (Theology) concentrators in Systematic Theology. This course can be taken for credit more than once as long as the topic studied varies. Recent topics offered have included:

- Augustine: Bishop and Theologian (fall 2018) An examination of the writing and preaching of St Augustine (354-430 AD). While rightly revered as a theologian and doctor of the Church, Augustine’s theology was worked out in the context of a very busy pastoral life and articulated with great attention to the Church’s mission. This seminar will examine some of his principal works as well as his preaching, with the aim of understanding his thought, with particular attention to its pastoral nature. (Cross-listed as CHUR 918)

- Teachings of Benedict XVI (spring 2017) The aim of this course is to become familiar with the teachings of Benedict XVI. Particular emphasis will be given to Benedict’s encyclicals as they give us a profound look into the magisterial teaching of the Pope Emeritus. We will also study and read other texts such as his addresses, speeches, and apostolic exhortations so as to have a synthetic grasp of the importance and relevance of Benedict XVI’s teaching for people of today.

- Human Person in the Teachings of Saint John Paul II (spring 2015) The aim of this course is to familiarize students with the thought and the teaching of Karol Wojtyła/St. John Paul II regarding the nature and destiny of the human person. In the course of the semester we will study the philosophical and theological vision of Wojtyła/St. John Paul II, and we will do a close reading of excerpts of several of the Encyclical Letters from Redemptor Hominis (1979) through Ecclesia de Eucharistia (2003).

- Joseph Ratzinger/Pope Benedict XVI (spring 2013) An introduction to the life and theology of Joseph Ratzinger/Pope Emeritus Benedict XVI, exploring fundamental themes in his work, including ecclesiology, revelation, liturgy, and the relationships between biblical, dogmatic, and moral theology. The course will explore some primary texts written by Ratzinger/Pope Emeritus Benedict XVI, and also some secondary literature on his work.

SYST 917/918 Readings in Patristic Theology (2 crs)

This course provides an introduction to the theological thought of the Fathers of the Church, the historical context of their teaching, and the contribution of their teaching as privileged witnessed to the handing on of God’s revelation through Sacred Scripture and Sacred Tradition. This elective, along with concomitant research project, may fulfill a requirement for M.A. (Theology) concentrators in Systematic Theology. This course can be taken for credit more than once as long as the topic studied varies. Recent topics offered include:

- Reading the Apostolic Fathers (fall 2020) A close and careful reading of the earliest extra-biblical Christian texts, known collectively since the late 17th century as the "Apostolic Fathers." The course aims, through the window they offer on early Christian life and thought, to enhance an understanding of the kerygma, theology, and Christian culture in the late first and early second centuries (Cross-listed as CHUR 919)

- Origen (fall 2017) In the first half of the 3rd century AD, the priest Origen composed what is arguably the first “systematic” or comprehensive account of Christian faith, his On First Principles. This course will involve a close and careful reading of this intriguing work which ranges from discussion of God, creation, the Fall and the final consummation to an examination of the soul, human freedom and the interpretation of Scripture. Further, we will examine how Origen’s theological vision is expressed pastorally by reading two briefer works, On Prayer and the Exhortation to Martyrdom.

- Augustine’s City of God (spring 2017) A careful and thoughtful reading of Augustine’s magnum opus, a theological tour-de-force thirteen years in the making, an apologetic work that touches upon almost every major theological topic: God, creation, the Fall, theological anthropology, Christology and Soteriology, Ecclesiology, Sacraments and Eschatology.

SYST 920/921 Thomistic Seminar (3 crs)

An in-depth study of the thought of St. Thomas Aquinas as concentrated in either the First Part or Third Part of his Summa Theologicae. Required for S.T.B. candidates and may be taken by M.A. (Theology) concentrators in Systematic Theology, along with the concomitant research project. This course can be taken for credit more than once as long as the topic studied varies. Recent offerings include:
- Thomas Aquinas on the Old and New Law (spring 2021) This elective provides an in-depth study of the questions devoted to the Old and New Law in the Prima Secundae of Thomas Aquinas' Summa Theologiae (ST I-II.98-108), which constitute Aquinas' most extensive consideration of the content and interrelationship of the Old and New Testament, and of their shared witness to Christ and the mystery of salvation. In keeping with Aquinas' own emphases in these questions, special attention is paid to his teaching on the Old Law, including his threefold division of its moral, judicial, and ceremonial precepts; his efforts to connect these precepts both to natural law and to the New Law; and his complex account of the Old Law's anticipation of, and fulfillment by, Christ. In order to foster greater understanding of Aquinas' approach to the unity and distinction of Old and New, pertinent historical, textual, and theological issues in these questions will be addressed via supplemental reading selections from other of Aquinas' writings, certain of his sources (biblical, patristic, and Jewish), and the contributions of more recent scholarship. (Cross-listed as SCRP 902)

- The Nature of Theology (spring 2020, spring 2012) St. Thomas' conception of theology, or his theological method, is inextricably intertwined with the content of his theology. This seminar examines the development of his concept from his very early De Trinitate through his Summa Contra Gentiles to his mature teaching in the Summa Theologiae. Once this conception is in place, the seminar applies it to St. Thomas' overarching theological vision. With a view to contemporary systematic and pastoral concerns, the seminar concludes with some suggestions for present-day application. (Cross-listed as SCRP 902)

- Christology and Soteriology (spring 2018, spring 2016, spring 2014) A close textual reading of St. Thomas' Christology and Soteriology as found in his masterwork, the Summa Theologiae. The first 59 questions of the Third Part are read in their entirety with a view to grasping St. Thomas' thought as a synthesis and advancement of earlier theological work, an integrated systematic treatment with many permanent contributions, and a building block for subsequent theological development. Special attention is given to showing the integration in his thought of Christ's identity and work.

- Knowing and Loving (spring 2017) The specific focus of this semester's Thomistic seminar is St. Thomas' teachings on knowing and loving: the spiritual activities of God, angels, and human beings. As an inquiry into the highest activities of the human person in the arenas of nature simply and nature as graced, this course situates and interprets human knowing and loving within the larger perspective of their divine and angelic analogues. Both activities are considered separately and interactively, which requires an essentially multi-disciplinary approach. Thus the theoretical and practical, contemplative and active, and dogmatic and moral character of these activities includes forays into Trinitarian theology, creation, anthropology, moral theology, and spirituality. Occasional references to sources ranging from the ancient Greek philosophers to contemporary authors help situate St. Thomas' questions and answers in the history of ideas. By appropriating the Thomistic theological vision from the fresh perspective of knowing and loving, this seminar strives to present a deeper theological clarity and attractiveness of our noblest activities and how they enable our ultimate destiny.
ADMISSIONS

Seminarians (Theology and Pre-Theology)
Applicants for the ordination formation program must have sponsorship from a bishop or religious community, a bachelor’s degree in Arts or Sciences from an accredited college, and at least 30 semester credit hours of undergraduate philosophy, or its equivalent. The philosophy titles, recommended by the PPF, are outlined in the Pre-Theology formation and degree program descriptions.

Applicants must complete the online application and submit official transcripts from all previous undergraduate- and graduate-level study, two essays (an autobiography and “why I want to be a priest”) following the very specific instructions, and all other documents outlined in the application checklist.

In order to process the application it is important to receive all of the required materials in a timely fashion (i.e., no later than July 1). For questions about the Seminary application process, contact nielsd@msmary.edu.

Additional Information for Pre-Theologians
Applicants for the pre-theology formation program, as candidates for the ordination formation program, must have sponsorship from a bishop or religious community, a bachelor’s degree in Arts or Sciences from an accredited college or evidence of enough credits to earn a bachelor's degree within the two-year pre-theology program. Pre-Theology applicants go through the same online process and must submit the same materials as required for theology applicants. Those pre-theology applicants needing to complete a B.A. degree through Mount St. Mary’s University should submit high school transcripts, in addition to the other requested materials.

Degree Candidates (Non-Seminarians)
Applicants complete an online application and must have credentials showing eligibility for the Master of Arts (Theology) degree and the permission of the Seminary academic dean. Non-seminarian applicants for the Master of Arts in Philosophical Studies degree should contact the M.A.P.S. program director at the undergraduate Philosophy department and submit the online application available as part of the Graduate Applications on the Mount St. Mary’s University website.

Non-Degree Students
Applicants who wish to take courses at the Seminary for enrichment (not as part of a degree program) must have the permission of the Seminary academic dean and should also complete the online application form.

Dual-Degree and M.A.P.S. Applications (current seminarians)
All seminarians in the ordination formation program are matriculated into the Master of Divinity (M.Div.) degree program. Current seminarians, with the permission of their diocese/religious order and approval of their formation advisor, may apply for one of the dual-program options: either the M.A. (Theology) degree with one of 4 concentrations or the S.T.B. degree in addition to the M.Div. degree; or the university's M.A.P.S. degree in addition to the Pre-Theology Formation program. The Seminary academic dean will review the applications for approval.

- Applicants must complete the online application (in addition to the original application for admission to the Seminary), indicating the dual-program option being selected, by the deadline posted by the Seminary registrar’s office. The online application (new effective fall 2020) is available through the Seminary website or the StudentOne portal. Contact the Seminary registrar for further information.

- Mount transcripts and external transcripts received during the initial application to the Seminary will be used to assess eligibility. Additional copies do not need to be submitted.

Non-Discrimination Statement

It is the policy of Mount St. Mary’s not to discriminate on the basis of race, color, national or ethnic origin, sex or handicapping condition in recruitment or admission of students, or in the administration of the Mount’s educational policies, admissions policies, scholarship, and other Mount administered activities and programs. It is the policy of Mount St. Mary’s to comply with the provisions of the Americans with Disabilities Act in making its programs and facilities accessible.

Acceptance with Advanced Theology Class Ranking

All applicants must submit official transcripts showing all degrees earned and course work completed at each prior post-secondary academic institution attended. It is recommended that transcripts from institutions in other countries be submitted by the applicant for evaluation from a service such as SpanTran or WES (which may require the applicant to have the transcript officially translated). The Seminary academic dean and Seminary registrar review the transcripts of all applicants to determine if they fulfill admission requirements. In consultation with the appropriate faculty members, if it is determined that the applicant passed an equivalent graduate-level required course, transfer credit will be noted on the Mount St. Mary’s Seminary transcript and in such cases the seminarian may be admitted with advanced theology class ranking in the Seminary program of formation.

Mount St. Mary’s Seminary will accept transfer credits from graduate-level courses which earned a grade of at least “C” (2.0) at an appropriately accredited institution recognized by the U.S. Department of Education (or by the Congregation for Catholic Education in Rome) to be applied toward degree programs at the Seminary. The limits on the number of transfer credits which can be applied towards specific degrees are outlined in the degree description. Transfer credits will not be given for thesis work.

Mature candidates with evidence of significant professional, military, academic, or continuing education may be admitted to the Seminary at the discretion of the Seminary academic dean. Prerequisite coursework may be waived based on the judgment that this evidence provides the well-founded hope of the ability to actively pursue and complete the degree. No credit or advanced standing is given for life experience.

Student Health Requirements

All Mount students are required to have health insurance coverage. Prior to starting classes at the Mount, all accepted students are required to submit the following documentation:

- Proof of health insurance (photocopy of insurance card)
- Physical Examination Form (1-page form to be completed, signed, and dated by applicant’s health care provider). The physical must have been completed within the last year
- Meningococcal Meningitis Form (to be completed by applicant)
  - Maryland state law requires all students who reside in campus housing to have a meningococcal immunization. Students may waive the immunization after receiving and reading information about the meningitis illness, the effectiveness of the immunization and side effects. This information must be provided prior to moving into any campus residence.
- Immunization Form (to be completed by applicant)
• Health History Form (to be completed by applicant)
• Emergency Contact/Health Insurance Form (to be completed by applicant)

These forms will be made available to accepted students on their Slate/Admissions portal page. The Office of Health and Wellness requires all students to use the Mount’s forms, even if the student has completed other similar medical forms for their sponsoring diocese or religious community.

Readmission Policy

A student who has voluntarily withdrawn or taken a leave of absence from the Seminary may apply for readmission; seminarians need the approval of the sponsoring diocese/religious order. A seminarian on an official pastoral year, as required by their diocese, is considered to be enrolled in a full-time equivalent internship for the year and therefore does not need to apply for readmission, but should contact the Seminary registrar prior to returning to register for classes.

When a student is dismissed for academic deficiency, application for readmission may be made upon proof that the deficiency has been rectified. When a student is dismissed for other reasons, he may or may not be eligible for readmission depending upon the circumstances of the dismissal.

Veterans

Mount St. Mary’s Seminary is authorized by the Maryland State Board for Higher Education to accept veterans who have met the admissions standards of the Seminary. Veterans are required to abide by the regulations of the Department of Veterans Affairs as well as those of the Mount. VAR #14236 requires institutions to determine academic need prior to veteran certification in tutorial programs. At the outset of their studies, all newly-enrolled students who are eligible to receive veteran benefits should contact the Office of the University Registrar in Bradley Hall. The University registrar serves as the VA certifying official for the entire Mount St. Mary’s University.

International Students - Rights and Responsibilities

• International Student Visas Mount St. Mary’s Seminary is authorized by U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (I.C.E.) to sponsor qualified international seminary applicants (non US-citizens) to enroll as full-time students in the ordination formation/M.Div. degree program or as full-time students in the Seminary ESL program through the Student and Exchange Visitor Information System (SEVIS). It is recommended that application materials (official transcripts, etc.) from institutions in other countries be accompanied by an English translation and evaluation from a service such as SpanTran or WES. Questions regarding the issuance or renewal of student visas (F-1/I-20's) should be directed to the Office of the Seminary Registrar. For further information see the International Students - Visas and Responsibilities page on the Mount’s website.

• Reporting Requirements

  o All international seminarians studying at the Mount on an F-1 non-immigrant Student Visa must report to the Seminary registrar who is the “designated SEVIS official” (DSO) at the beginning of each semester to verify their continued attendance and enrollment in a full-time load of classes. Seminarians must keep all versions of I-20’s they have received from Mount St. Mary’s Seminary or any other school they attended previously) with their passport at all times. Any changes to the information on the I-20 form, especially changes in address (or financial sponsorship), must be reported to the Seminary registrar/DSO within 10 days.
New international students with an R-1 or Permanent Resident visa status must report to the Seminary registrar at the beginning of their first semester to verify their immigration status.

Federal Compliance All international seminarians studying here on an F-1 Student Visa must comply with all federal regulations (DHS, ICE, SEVIS, SEVP) concerning their non-immigration status; Failure to do so could result in the termination of their I-20 authorization to study at Mount St. Mary’s Seminary.

Travel International F-1 seminarians who plan to travel outside the USA must have an “authorization to travel” signature on the third page of their I-20 which is dated less than 12 months prior to their expected reentry into the USA. They are responsible for submitting their I-20 to the Seminary registrar/DSO for this signature before leaving campus.

Employment/Accepting Stipends

- There are very specific limited circumstances in which an International F-1 student can accept employment, and in ALL cases the DSO must be informed and give approval. Violations of this SEVP policy can cause loss of status and require immediate removal from the USA.
- International F-1 seminarians must apply to the Seminary registrar/DSO for a period of part-time “curricular practical training” (CPT) for any PFE, Summer placement, Deacon assignment, or required Pastoral Year during which they expect to receive any kind of payment, reimbursement, or stipend. Accepting any such financial payment (aside from the tuition, living expenses and other incidental support being offered by the diocese as noted on the I-20) without CPT authorization could be considered a failure to “maintain status” and could have a negative impact when the seminarian applies to change to an R-1 Religious Worker visa upon completion of seminary studies.
- Fourth theologians with an F-1 student visa may apply during their final semester to have a period of full-time “optional practical training” (OPT) which extends the “student status” for one year after the completion of seminary studies. This will allow the seminarian to apply for an Employment Authorization Document (EAD), for which there is a processing fee. The one year of OPT, plus the “grace periods,” will allow the partnering diocese time to submit documentation for the change to an R-1 Religious Worker visa. It is the seminarian’s responsibility to contact the Seminary registrar/DSO for assistance in this process.

Seminary Scholarships
A full listing of endowed scholarships established at Mount St. Mary’s Seminary by friends of the Seminary is available from the Office of Seminary Development and Alumni Relations. Additional support for our Seminary programs is always welcome.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION
Tuition and other fees do not meet the total cost of supporting the students at the University. The Mount makes every effort to keep costs at the lowest possible level and reserves the right to change these costs annually.
Billing

Bills of approximately one-half of the annual charges will be sent prior to the start of each semester and will be due and payable on the date indicated thereon. Starting in fall 2020 the billing process will be moving online and bills will no longer be mailed. Seminarians will be able to designate access for their MyMount account financial information to the partnering diocese or religious order personnel who will be responsible for online payment of their account (Seminarians use the same site, in accordance to FERPA regulations, to also grant their vocation director and ordinary access to academic and formation program information available through the portal and give permission for the Seminary to discuss information with those designated officials). Payment is to be made by check, money order or credit card payable to Mount St. Mary’s Seminary, and sent to Accounting and Finance Office, Mount St. Mary’s University, 16300 Old Emmitsburg Road, Emmitsburg, Maryland 21727. ACH (echeck) payments can be made through CashNet, a secure payment gateway for no additional fees, however credit card payments will be assessed a 2.75% convenience fee.

All bills are due and payable upon receipt. Normally, no student may begin a semester with an unpaid balance on his/her account. Such indebtedness also precludes the possibility of receiving a degree or honorable dismissal. Students who fail to honor their obligations may not be allowed to take final examinations and, in cases of extreme negligence, will be dismissed from the Mount. Seminarians may check their financial and academic information by logging onto their MyMount portal (portal.msmary.edu) – a secure site from which students may access their financial and academic records, such as an unofficial copy of their academic transcript.

Upon nonpayment, Mount St. Mary’s University may declare any remaining balance due and payable. In the event a student account is referred to an attorney for collection through legal proceedings or otherwise, the student will be responsible to pay reasonable collection costs and fees, attorney fees, court costs and other related costs to Mount St. Mary’s. Default interest shall accrue at the rate of one-half percent (0.5%) per month (6% APR) from the date of default until the date of payment, and shall be the rate of interest applicable to any judgment. A “Transcript Hold” will be applied to the student record prohibiting transcripts from being released until the debt is paid in full.

Full-Time Tuition and Fees

The standard annual expenses and fees for full-time resident seminarians is updated annually on the Seminary website.

Additional Financial Information

- Part-time Tuition. Students enrolled for 11 or fewer semester hours during a regular fall or spring semester will be considered part-time and billed at the per-credit-hour rate, plus any other applicable charges.
- Supplemental Tuition Charge. The fall and spring semester full-time charge entitles seminarians to enroll for not less than 12, nor more than 18, semester hours. Semester hours beyond this limit require the permission of the Seminary academic dean and billed at a per-credit-hour rate
- Course Audit Fee. With the approval of the Seminary academic dean and with the approval of the professor, a student may choose to audit a course, i.e., attend and participate without receiving credit or grade. After the first week of class, the student’s status may not be changed from audit to credit or vice versa. Part-time students are billed the “Audit Fee” at a per semester credit hour, plus any special fees that would ordinarily be associated with the course.

- S.T.B. Fee. Students in the Bachelor of Sacred Theology degree program (in addition to the standard full-time tuition) are assessed a fee of $100.00 per semester (payable with each semester’s tuition). This fee is sent to the Pontifical Faculty of the Immaculate Conception at the Dominican House of Studies with whom we are affiliated in offering this degree.

- Insurance. All Mount students are required to have health insurance coverage. Due to changes mandated by the Affordable Care Act, the Mount is no longer able to provide health insurance coverage for students.

- Books and Supplies. Books and supplies are available in the University Bookstore at standard prices. Information regarding required textbooks ordered by Seminary faculty is available by course through the bookstore which is run by Barnes and Noble.

Withdrawal/Refund Policy

- Voluntary Withdrawals A student is accepted on the assumption that he will remain for the entire academic year. If a student voluntarily withdraws before the beginning of classes, all fees are refundable provided that written notice is received by the Seminary registrar before the beginning of classes. When a student voluntarily withdraws or leaves the Seminary for any reason and has no indebtedness to the Mount, a portion of the tuition and room fee may be refunded, depending upon the date of formal withdrawal (that date on which written notice of the intention to withdraw is made and approved by the rector). Unspent board fees will be returned.

- Involuntary Withdrawals Involuntary withdrawal resulting from either suspension, expulsion, or as the result of other disciplinary action, regardless of whether the action took place before or after the semester began, will result in total forfeiture of tuition and room fees for the semester in which the action took place. Unspent board fees will be returned.

Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) for Financial Aid

- Direct Student Loans Students receiving federal financial aid must make satisfactory academic progress towards completion of a certificate or degree program if their aid is to be processed or continued. The general rule is that students must complete with passing grades at least 75% of the credits they attempt. All courses ever attempted at the university are considered when calculating satisfactory progress, even though the student may not have received aid for the prior courses. The rate is calculated by dividing total credits earned by total credits attempted.

If, after completion of the second or subsequent semester of enrollment, a student receiving financial aid falls below the minimum rate of 75% satisfactory completion of courses, aid may be discontinued. Aid will be reinstated only after the student’s completion rate is 75% or above and the student requests reinstatement in writing.

Students who believe that unusual circumstances had caused their failure to make satisfactory progress may petition in writing to the university’s Financial Aid Committee, which will make a decision concerning eligibility for additional aid. The maximum period for which a student may receive any federal aid is 150% of the published length of an academic program. Questions regarding eligibility and applications for federal financial aid should be addressed the Mount’s Office of Financial Aid in Bradley Hall.

- Withdrawal and Refund of Financial Aid Financial aid recipients who withdraw from all of their classes during a term will be subject to federal refund policies, which are different from the University’s refund policy. The amount of aid earned is determined by a pro-rata calculation, multiplying the percentage of the academic term the student has completed by the total amount of federal aid disbursed to the student. If the academic term is more than 60% complete, the student has earned 100% of the aid.

Prior Financial Aid/Loan Deferments

Students with loans from prior academic programs may be eligible for loan payment deferment while a student at the Seminary. It is the students’ responsibility to contact their lending agency/ies, obtain the appropriate paperwork for loan deferment/enrollment verification, and give such forms to the Seminary registrar for processing in a timely manner. As required by the U.S. Department of Education, Mount St. Mary’s University electronically reports the enrollment status of all students on a monthly basis to the National Student Loan Data System (NSLDS).

ACADEMIC POLICIES

ENROLLMENT

Academic Plan

As a part of the admission process, an individualized academic plan is created by the Seminary registrar in consultation with the Seminary academic dean. This plan is accessible on the student MyMount portal. It is used to track and assess completion of degree requirements and to assist Seminary students to register online.

Course Registration

All seminarians planning to enroll for the upcoming semester must register for classes following the procedures designated by the Office of the Seminary Registrar. Current seminarians, by class year seniority, receive first consideration in enrollment. Upgrades to the Mount’s student portal in summer 2020 will allow all Mount seminarians to register directly online in accordance with their individual academic plan. The Seminary academic dean and Seminary registrar routinely conduct group informational meetings by class year the second week after the semester break to answer any registration concerns.

Registration information is distributed via campus email and posted on the seminarians’ MyMount portal. Course schedules (course grid and elective descriptions) will be posted by the Seminary registrar and be available online. It is the seminarian’s responsibility to obtain these materials. No one will receive credit for a course, nor should attend a class as an auditor, unless duly registered.

Drop/Add Course Policy
Courses may be added or dropped until the end of the first week of the semester. The drop/add deadlines (noon of the fifth day of classes each semester) are published in the Seminary calendar. Any schedule changes (drop/adds, section changes, credit/audit status) must be submitted through the new online procedure using the MyMount student portal (effective fall 2020) and approved by the Seminary academic dean.

Coursework Deadlines
The deadline for all graded course assignments to be submitted to the professor is the last scheduled day of the term or the last day of class (often the final exam date), whichever comes first. Time must be allowed for the professor to adequately assess the assignment (exam or paper) prior to the grading deadline. Professors are not permitted to extend assignment deadlines beyond the last day of the term, without the express permission of the Seminary academic dean. Failure to complete coursework in a timely manner is taken very seriously.

Course Load
Full-time status at the Seminary, even though it is a graduate program, is defined as earning a minimum of 12 credit hours per semester. Those wishing to enroll in more than the standard courses by class year (normally 15.5-17.5 credits) must receive the express permission of the Seminary academic dean.

A student may audit a course, i.e., attend and participate without receiving credit, provided that space is available in the course, with the permission of the instructor and the Seminary academic dean. After the course has started, the student's status cannot be changed from audit to regular grade or vice versa. To receive the audit grade (AU) on the transcript the student must satisfy the attendance and other course requirements set by the instructor for an official audit.

Unit of Instruction
Mount St. Mary’s Seminary operates on the semester system, uses the semester hour as the unit for counting credit, and follows the U.S. Department of Education definition of a semester credit hour as found in 34 CFR 600.2.

Credit hour: Except as provided in 34 CFR 668.8(k) and (l), a credit hour is an amount of work represented in intended learning outcomes and verified by evidence of student achievement that is an institutionally established equivalency that reasonably approximates not less than one hour of classroom or direct faculty instruction and a minimum of two hours of out of class student work each week for approximately fifteen weeks for one semester or trimester hour of credit, or ten to twelve weeks for one quarter hour of credit, or the equivalent amount of work over a different amount of time; or at least an equivalent amount of work as required in paragraph (1) of this definition for other academic activities as established by the institution including laboratory work, internships, practica, studio work, and other academic work leading to the award of credit hours.

Independent Studies and Tutorials
In exceptional cases, independent study or tutorial courses may be permitted in order to accommodate a student for whom there is no other practical manner in which to fulfill a program degree requirement. An independent study is an advanced-level study undertaken with a faculty mentor, generally on a topic not usually offered. A tutorial is a specially offered version of a regular course.

- Permission for any independent study or tutorial must be sought from the professor, the department chair, and the Seminary academic dean.
• The Independent Study/Learning Agreement form (available from the Seminary registrar) must be completed and submitted for approval before the end of the drop/add period.

• In the case of an independent study elective to be counted towards the M.A.P.S. degree program, permission must be sought from the director of the M.A.P.S. program, in addition to the Seminary academic dean, prior to making arrangements with a professor for such a course.

Classroom Policies

• Attendance Students are expected to attend all scheduled classes for which they are registered. Unexcused absences (“cuts”) are not permitted and are subject to penalty.

  o Punctual class attendance is the norm. Courtesy demands that an explanation for tardiness be given to the professor. Professors are free to penalize tardiness.

  o Attendance policies and potential penalties for unexcused absences or tardiness should be included in the syllabus and explained by the instructor in each class at the beginning of each semester.

  o Permission to miss class must be obtained, in advance whenever possible, from the professor and from the Seminary academic dean. This permission is to be obtained in writing when an overnight absence from the Seminary is anticipated. Absence from the Seminary is also treated in the Rule of Life.

  o The Seminary academic dean’s office and Learning Services may provide assistance to students who are absent due to emergency events, medical issues, and other personal circumstances.

  o Any seminarian studying with an international student visa who misses two or more consecutive days of classes, and the absences were not pre-approved by the rector or the academic dean, will be reported to the Seminary DSO. If he does not begin attending regularly again, the international seminarian could be considered “out of status” with his SEVIS record for failure to maintain proper attendance. This could jeopardize the seminarian’s ability to stay in the US for further study.

• Classroom Conduct

  o Seminarians are expected to behave as mature adults and as men preparing for Holy Orders. Consequently, private conversations during a class and audible demonstrations of approval or disapproval are disruptive, distracting, and completely inappropriate.

  o Courtesy demands that permission be sought to leave class.

  o Students are permitted to record a class only with the explicit permission of the professor, and according to any restrictions that the professor specifies.

  o No guest shall be brought into class without the explicit permission of the professor.

  o The use of laptop computers is encouraged. These must be used in a manner which does not disrupt the learning environment. Any use of a laptop, or other electronic device, during class for purposes unrelated to the lecture shows a serious lack of respect for the professor and will be dealt with as such.
No student may post class notes electronically or on the internet as this infringes on the intellectual property rights of the professor.

Academic Freedom

Faculty members at Mount St. Mary’s Seminary are hired to teach in a specific area of competence and exercise complete freedom to teach in that area in accord with the principles of their respective disciplines (Governing Documents 6.16.1.). They enjoy lawful freedom of inquiry and of prudent expression of their opinions on matters pertaining to their expertise, while exercising due respect for the Magisterium of the Church (Canon 218). Faculty members shall exercise this freedom within the context of the purpose and mission of the Seminary and taking account of the rights of students, the institution, and the Church (Program of Priestly Formation 345). Faculty members are required to have a mandate to teach from the appropriate ecclesial authority (Canon 812). New faculty members make the profession of faith and take the oath of fidelity.

Course Requirements

- Syllabi At the beginning of each semester, for all courses taught at Mount St. Mary’s Seminary (cores, electives, practicas, and seminars), the professor will provide a syllabus to all enrolled in the class. Seminary faculty are encouraged to post the syllabus on the current course management software (Canvas). Final electronic copies of the syllabi are to be posted in the appropriate folder on the campus network Seminary shared drive no later than the end of the second week of classes for Seminary archival purposes. The syllabi should follow the standard seminary template, available to Seminary faculty on the shared drive, and contain at least:
  - department code, course number, and title as listed in the catalog; the number of hours per week the courses meets for the number of weeks in the semester (e.g., 3 hours per week/15 weeks or 2 hours per week/10 weeks)
  - professor’s name, academic rank, and credentials
  - course description (8-10 lines, usually from the catalog but may be amplified)
  - bibliography (titles of required and recommended texts)
  - place of the course in the overall curriculum, in the Seminary formation program goals, as well as in specific degree programs and goals (as applicable)
  - expected outcomes, goals, objectives for the course (using SMART language)
  - course requirements (specifics about readings, papers, exams – with due dates, detailed instructions, and the percentage weight of different course requirements for the final grade calculation)
  - the availability of the professor outside of class times (including the preferred method for contacting the professor)
  - grading (how it is based, what determines the final grade, any penalties for the late submission of required work or unauthorized absences) – the Seminary grade scale should be included, unless the course is designated as pass/fail.
• Required Reading Although there is no absolute norm regarding the quantity of reading normally required for a graduate level course, students should generally expect to devote more time to reading outside of the classroom than they devote to attending classes.

  o The University bookstore carries all required textbooks

  o Phillips Library provides a reserve shelf for texts specified by the professor o The use of Canvas or other campus-standard course management software is encouraged for electronically posting materials for the students’ use. All copyright laws shall be respected by the students and faculty.

• Semester Examinations

  o Midterm Examinations Professors are encouraged to conduct a midterm exam or other project to assess student progress at the midterm. These should be graded promptly. Any seminarians making insufficient progress should be notified and reported in an email to the Seminary registrar. Midterm deficiency reports are forwarded to the seminarian's formation advisor, the Seminary academic dean, and the rector.

  o Final Examinations A final examination or an appropriately equivalent assignment are required for all courses at the end of each term.

     ▪ Absence from final examinations is permitted in the case of serious illness or some other emergency; in those cases, the final examination will be rescheduled as soon as possible after semester's end.

     ▪ Two and a half hour final exam periods are scheduled for Seminary core classes and count towards the contact hours for the course. The general final exam schedule is posted by the Seminary registrar. Final exams in Seminary elective courses are to take place during the last week of classes. Two and a half hour final exam periods for courses taught by undergraduate professors are scheduled by the University registrar and should be confirmed with the professor.

     ▪ Seminarians are encouraged to consult both the Seminary calendar and the specific final exam schedule prior to making travel arrangements. Seminarians who are scheduled to take two exams on a single day have the right to move one of these exams to another day, with permission from the requisite instructor and the Seminary academic dean. Students should discuss moving an exam with their instructors well before final exam week.

• Papers/Written Assignments Departments should take care that all students are required to submit research papers in the core classes. Written requirements for MA (Theology) degree candidates are detailed under the description of that degree program.

  o General Norms The Seminary follows the Turabian/Chicago style sheet, and accepts its preference for footnotes, rather than endnotes. Students are encouraged to own a copy of the most recent edition of Kate Turabian’s *A Manual for Writers of Research Papers, Theses, and Dissertations: Chicago Style for Students and Researchers (fondly known simply as “Turabian”), University of Chicago Press, 2018 (ninth edition).

- Student Course Evaluations All students are expected to complete an online evaluation for each of their classes before leaving campus at the end of the semester. This input is important both to the professor teaching the classes and to the Seminary administration for the overall assessment of the Seminary curriculum.
  - The evaluation forms will be available online through the MyMount student portal on the date set by the professor (typically the last day of class) and shall consist of rating standard statements regarding the course, the professor, and a free form section for constructive comments which can be particularly helpful for the ongoing review and revision of the curriculum. Evaluations for practica courses and formation seminars consist of just the comments section.
  - Seminarians in undergraduate/graduate philosophy courses may be asked to complete course evaluations administered by the philosophy department.
  - Seminary faculty receive a compilation of the evaluation results for their courses after the final grades have been received for the semester. The rector and Seminary academic dean receive copies of all course evaluation results for their use in ongoing curriculum review and revision.

Grading System
Each faculty member at Mount St. Mary’s is free to devise any system of student evaluation that is based on reason and results in professional judgments of student academic performance and achievement. Ordinarily, this means faculty members base grades on the following criteria:

- Understanding of material
- Articulation and communication of course material
- Application and integration of material
- Fulfillment of basic course requirements

All syllabi should detail how the grading is based, what determines the final grade for the course, plus any penalties for late submission of required work or unauthorized absences. The Seminary Grade Scale (below), as agreed to by the faculty, should also be included unless the course is designated as pass/fail.

Grade Point Average
The grade point average (GPA) is computed by dividing the total number of quality points earned (cumulative or by semester) by the total number of course credit hours attempted (for the same time period). The transcript records both the cumulative GPA and the average for each semester at Mount St. Mary’s. Neither transfer credits for courses taken at other institutions nor Mount St. Mary’s pass/fail courses are computed into the GPA. Courses carrying a grade of I (incomplete), F (failure), or FA (failure due to absence) are entered as zero points, but may be counted towards the credits attempted in the GPA calculations.

The Seminary Grade Scale (approved fall 2006) is:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Grade</th>
<th>Grade Point</th>
<th>Grade Range</th>
<th>Understood by faculty/students to mean</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>A</td>
<td>4.00</td>
<td>96-100</td>
<td>Exceptional performance</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>A-</td>
<td>3.67</td>
<td>93-95</td>
<td>Excellent work</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>B+</td>
<td>3.33</td>
<td>89-92</td>
<td>Very good work</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>B</td>
<td>3.00</td>
<td>83-88</td>
<td>Good work</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Acceptable work

Below average work for graduate work

Poor work for a graduate degree

Deficient work for a graduate degree

Failure

Pre-theology courses taken in the undergraduate division use the following grade scale:

A (4.00) excellent, A- (3.66), B+ (3.33), B (3.00) good, B- (2.66), C+ (2.33), C (2.00) satisfactory, C- (1.66), D (1.00) poor, F (0.00) failure.

Prior to the fall of 2006, the Seminary Grade Scale was as follows:

A (4.00) superior, B+ (3.50) very good, B (3.00) good, C+ (2.50) more than adequate, C (2.00) adequate, D (1.00) inadequate, F (0.00) failure.

Other Grade Classifications

P/F (pass/fail) For those courses designated as pass/fail, one earns either a grade of either P (pass, credit earned, zero quality points earned, and does not add to credits attempted for GPA) or F (failure, no credit earned, zero quality points earned, adds to the credits attempted for GPA, and Seminary procedures for failures must be followed) for the transcript. Pastoral field education placements (PFED), formation seminars (ORDN), and practicum courses (Homiletics, Mass, Penance, Pastoral Music) are graded pass/fail. All other courses taken for credit are awarded a letter grade. There is no option for seminarians to choose to take other courses for pass/fail at Mount St. Mary’s Seminary.

AU (audit) Seminarians may choose to audit courses (i.e. attend and participate without receiving credit) only with the approval of the Seminary academic dean, and provided that space is available in the course. While auditors are not required to write papers or take exams, they are expected to attend class and be prepared to participate fully. Students must satisfy attendance and any other course requirements set by the professor before the grade of AU is given and the official audit noted on the transcript (no credit or quality points earned and does not add to the credits attempted for GPA). Students should follow the procedures to officially drop/withdraw from an audited class. After the last day of drop/add (end of the first week of classes) a student may not change the enrollment status from audit to regular grade or vice versa.

WIP (work in progress) this grade notation on a transcript shows that the course is in progress and the final grade has not yet been submitted.

Grades Options for Courses Not Completed

W or WF (withdrawing from a course) This grade is posted for students who withdraw from a class after the end of the official add/drop period. A grade of W (or WF) remains on the student’s transcript, but the withdrawn course earns no credit or quality points and does not add to credits attempted for GPA calculations.

Withdrawal from a class, whether offered by the Seminary, the M.A.P.S. program, or the undergraduate division, only by way of exception and with the permission of the Seminary academic dean. The seminarian will give written notice to the professor, the formation advisor, and the Seminary academic dean explaining the reason for the withdrawal (form available from the Seminary registrar). The form should be signed by the seminarian, the professor, the formation advisor, and Seminary academic dean prior to being submitted to the Seminary registrar’s office for processing. No one may withdraw from a course after the fourth week of the semester, unless totally withdrawing from the Seminary.

No adjustment in tuition (full- or part-time) is made as a result of withdrawal from classes. Note that international students must maintain at least a minimum full-time load (12 credits) in order to maintain status in SEVIS.

I (incomplete coursework) The Seminary expects students to complete all academic requirements on-time. Incompletes should not be regarded as an extension of a deadline, but as a statement that the student was unable to complete the expected work in the expected time-frame. Any student who wishes to petition for a grade of Incomplete must complete and submit the signed Incomplete Request Form available from the Seminary registrar.

- The grade of I (no credit or quality points earned, adds to the credits attempted for GPA calculations – effectively the same as a temporary grade of F) is normally only given in exceptional cases to a student who, because of illness or other reasons beyond his or her control, is unable to complete the requirements of a course for which the student has completed at least 75% of the work, and is able to complete the remaining coursework with minimal assistance from the professor.

- The Incomplete Request form must include both the reason for the incomplete and a detailed plan for the completion of remaining requirements, be signed by the student, professor, and the formation advisor. It should be submitted for the Seminary academic dean’s approval by the last day of class for the course in which the incomplete is being requested. Failure to submit the Incomplete Request form will result in a letter grade of “F” in the semester grade report. Copies of the form will be filed with the rector, the director of human formation, the professor, the formation advisor, and the student’s academic file. The content of the form may also be made available to the seminarian’s diocese.

- The student, in consultation with the professor, must complete all outstanding work by such a date that the professor can grade it and submit a course grade to the Seminary registrar by the last day of the fourth week of class of the immediately following semester. The grade change deadline date is included on the Seminary academic calendar.

- Seminarians who are dual degree candidates enrolled in the M.Div. and M.A. (Theology) program with two or more unresolved incompletes in the research components are automatically dropped from the M.A. (Theology) degree program, and so notified by the Seminary registrar. Appeals may be directed to the academic dean in particular cases where it is believed that the incompletes are the result of circumstances beyond the control of the student (such as significant health issues or family considerations). The academic dean, with the agreement of the professors of the research projects involved, may grant permission for an extension of up to one semester in particular cases.

- Students with more than two incompletes in one semester, regardless of their program (dual or single degree), are placed on academic probation.

- If professors submit course grades by the deadline to resolve incompletes, an adjustment will be made right away on the student’s record. The GPA will be recalculated. However, any and all “I” (incomplete) grades become grades of “F”
(failure) if professors do not submit course grades by the date specified in the Seminary calendar for the resolution of incompletes (i.e., end of the fourth week of classes). These failing grades remain on the transcript for the remainder of the semester, even if work is submitted after the deadline to resolve incompletes, and the professor accepts this work and files a grade change.

- Professors are not required by these academic norms to accept submissions after the deadline to resolve incompletes. Formation advisor reports will show that the student failed the course by failing to submit late work even with the extra time given (the posted deadline to resolve incompletes). Grade changes filed by professors after the deadline will be processed and any recalculation of the GPA will be done only at the end of the semester.

- The policy of the University’s graduate M.A.P.S. program and the undergraduate division are to be followed for incompletes in courses on those levels. In addition, permission of the Seminary academic dean must be obtained (using the Seminary’s “Incomplete Request Form” or other appropriate form used by the University). That written explanation will be submitted to the rector, the director of human formation, the professor, the formation advisor, and the student’s academic file.

F (Failure) The grade of F (failure, no credit or quality points earned, adds to the credits attempted for GPA calculations) is given for failure to successfully complete the course requirements established by the professor. Seminarians must repeat one time any core class which they have failed, and any student may repeat one time any elective course or concomitant research project component which they have failed. The official transcript record will indicate retake courses. The GPA will be recalculated with the previous attempt forgiven.

FA (Failure because of absence / non-participation) This grade is posted for students who miss an excessive number of class periods, assignments or exams as determined by the instructor or who do not take a final exam. The FA has the same effect on the GPA as a grade of F.

International Seminarians in the ESL Program

In accordance with Seminary policy, international seminarians may repeat a failed ESL course one time. In the event of a second failure of the same course, he will be reported to the academic dean and Seminary DSO and placed on Academic Probation. (See Seminarian Handbook, “Academic Probation”) Any seminarian with a cumulative GPA of 1.50 or less is subject to dismissal, which would result in a loss of “status” (by not complying with his responsibilities as an international student) and could jeopardize his ability to stay in the US for further study.

Academic Deficiency Reports

At Midterm Seminary faculty report academic deficiencies at mid-term via an email to the Seminary registrar. Whenever possible, the deficiency report should suggest reasons for the deficiency encountered (study skills, note taking, writing skills, absence from class, etc.). Copies of relevant materials (failed exams, very poor written work, etc.) should be appended or submitted separately and will be kept in the student’s academic file.

- The mid-term deficiency report emails are forwarded to the Seminary academic dean, rector, director of human formation, and the seminarian’s formation advisor.
At End of Semester The Seminary registrar provides to the rector, director of human formation, and the Seminary academic dean with a listing of all students showing a deficiency in their final course grades at the end of each semester.

Deficiency Definition
- a single grade of "C-", "F", or "I"; or
- a semester total with two or more "C / 2.0" grades or lower.

Grade Appeals
A student may appeal the final grade in a course only on the grounds that a grading policy is unclear or has been unfairly applied. Recourse should be made first to the professor concerned, but also keeping their formation advisor informed of the situation. A student wishing to pursue the matter further must register a written appeal with the Seminary academic dean no later than the fourth week of the semester following the posting of the grade (deadline for submitting grade changes). Upon receiving the appeal, the Seminary academic dean will determine whether or not to convene an academic appeals board comprised of members of the Seminary Academic Committee.

Grade Reports
Seminarians may access their grades (as well as financial records) at any time through the MyMount student portal (portal.msmary.edu), using their usual network user-id and password, provided that a student has met all financial obligations. The Seminary does not issue midterm progress reports, however the faculty does report to the administration the name of any seminarian receiving deficient grades at the midterm. Starting in fall 2020 seminarians will be able to give FERPA access for their MyMount account to the personnel of their partnering diocese or religious order to view their semester grades (and financial information). No report of grades is made at the end of the school year for a student whose financial account with the University has not been settled.

If an error has been made in the final semester grade, it is the responsibility of the student to contact the professor to appeal the grade. Any corrections should be made within one month after the beginning of the following semester (at the same time as the deadline to resolve incompletes).

Transcripts from the Mount
Official securely delivered electronic transcripts will be provided to schools, employers or to the individual at no cost to the student. There is a $3.50 charge for printed transcript which need to mailed domestically or picked up at the Seminary registrar’s office. Transcripts printed and mailed internationally will cost $6.00.

All requests for Mount St. Mary’s Seminary transcripts should be submitted electronically through the third-party vendor Parchment (giving express permission of the student for the release of academic records as required by federal law). All other financial obligations to the Mount must be paid before transcripts are released. Requests will be processed as expeditiously as possible; however, a minimum of five working days should be allowed for processing. During examination periods, registration and the two-week period immediately before and after the end of semesters, there may be an additional delay. It is advisable to alert the Seminary Registrar via email that you have submitted a request needing processing or if you need your academic ID number.
The link for submitting Seminary transcripts and request procedures are available online at https://seminary.msmary.edu/registrar/transcript-requests.html. If you started at the Mount earlier than 1990, your transcript will likely have to be manually entered into our current database or sent as a paper copy. Please allow an additional 3 to 5 business days for processing.

Academic Probation

Any student who falls below the minimum 2.00 term grade point average in required program courses will be placed on academic probation, which is noted on the transcript, and subject to a formal review. Academic probation is an official alert for students that their academic performance must improve if they are to progress toward graduation. If the resolution of an Incomplete raises the term GPA above 2.00, the transcript notation is removed.

The formal review process for a seminarian on probation includes the following:

- A professor who has given a grade of “C-” or “F” is to meet with the student and review the student’s work (papers, tests, notes, etc.). As soon as possible professors are asked to submit in writing to the Seminary academic dean an indication of their opinion regarding the precise difficulty encountered (poor study habits, poor writing skills, poor note taking, absence from class, etc.).

- The student will take standardized tests (Millers’ Analogies, TOEFL) and/or have interviews with Learning Services (or ESL office) regarding the study skills, note taking skills, and learning disabilities. These findings will help the Seminary understand the precise difficulty encountered.

- A meeting with the Seminary academic dean, the formation advisor, and a representative from Learning Services (or ESL) will take place for the purpose of identifying specific steps for recovery. In some cases the academic load may be reduced, the extracurricular program adjusted, the pastoral field assignment modified, or specific remedial courses proposed. In more extreme situations it may be necessary to recommend summer school.

A seminarian’s continuance as a candidate for ordination will depend on suitable progress according to his ability and the approval of the faculty. All students on academic probation must make satisfactory progress in their academic program during the following semester at the Seminary or risk being dismissed for academic reasons. A minimum 2.00 cumulative GPA is necessary for successful completion of the ordination formation program and the awarding of the M.Div. degree. A student with a cumulative GPA of 1.50 or less at the end of the academic year is subject to dismissal by the rector; at the very least be required to repeat the year.

Academic Dismissal

Students with a single semester GPA below 1.0 or have a cumulative GPA of 1.50 or less are subject to dismissal by the rector.

The Seminary reserves the right to dismiss at any time any students who fail to meet minimal standards of academic responsibility or who are deemed to be a detriment to themselves or to others, as determined by the rector. Such grounds for dismissal could include but are not limited to ceasing to attend classes and disrupting the life and work of the University community. Any student who is on academic and disciplinary probation at the end of a given semester is subject to dismissal from the Seminary. In such instances, the Seminary academic dean will evaluate the academic status and disciplinary status to determine whether in combination they are serious enough to warrant a recommendation of dismissal to the rector.
Pastoral Year

Some partnering dioceses require their seminarians to take a pastoral year as part of their ordination formation program. Such seminarians are not considered to have withdrawn, even though not on campus for the academic year, but should enroll in a full-time equivalent pastoral internship course (ORDN 010) with the expectation of returning to the Seminary the following academic year to complete their degree program. Those on pastoral year should contact the Seminary registrar for information on registering for classes prior to their return, but will not need to apply for readmission. No tuition or fees are charged for ORDN 010.

Leave of Absence and Medical Leave

Students may apply for a leave of absence, typically for a period of one or two semesters. In addition, students with a serious medical problem that prevents their continuing study during a given semester or prior to a new semester may apply for a medical leave. In either case, application for a leave (together with appropriate documentation from a healthcare professional, if necessary) should be made to the rector. Return to study after a leave is contingent on the student’s meeting the conditions established by the rector at the time the leave is granted. The student must apply to the rector for readmission, following procedures provided by Seminary admissions. No extensions are granted for a leave. If a student does not return at the end of the prescribed period for the leave, the leave automatically becomes an administrative withdrawal from the Seminary.

- The same refund policy that applies to students who withdraw during the semester will apply to students granted a leave.

- Students granted a medical leave prior to the 5th week of the semester are subject to the refund policy identified here. Students granted a medical leave after the fifth week of the semester for an unforeseen medical emergency may apply to the provost requesting special consideration of the institutional refund policy. Any refund granted after the fifth week may only be credited to a subsequent semester's tuition balance.

- Students who fail to register for classes during the fall or spring term and have not requested a leave of absence will be administratively withdrawn from the Seminary.

Withdrawal from the M.Div. degree/Ordination Formation Program

- In addition to the procedures outlined in the Seminary’s Rule of Life, Section II “Practices within the Seminary Community” (available on the Seminary website under Human Formation), any student withdrawing from the Seminary must ask the Seminary registrar to withdraw enrollment from all current courses and degree programs.

- An international student, who plans to withdraw early and transfer to another school, must inform the Seminary registrar/DSO of that intent as soon as possible. An international student who withdraws early from their degree program (and is not transferring) has a 15-day grace period in which to leave the USA. However if dismissed or withdraws without informing the DSO, the student must depart the USA immediately (there is no grace period). Failure to maintain status with SEVIS can have serious consequences for the international student’s future ability to visit, study, or work in the USA.
Academic Standing / Determination of Rank

Academic Integrity

It is Mount St. Mary’s University policy that an academic community must operate with complete openness, honesty and integrity. Responsibility for maintaining this atmosphere lies with the students, faculty and administration. Therefore, the achievement of personal and academic goals through dishonest means will not be tolerated.

Seminarians, in their attitudes and activities, are expected to exhibit due respect for matters of faith and morals, for civil and Church authority, and for the rights and dignity of others. A student’s life must manifest personal integrity and discipline.

The Seminary reserves the right to take appropriate action regarding students whose conduct is not in accord with expected levels of integrity or is detrimental to the students’ or the Seminary’s best interest. Students are expected to work under an honor system in taking examinations and in preparing papers, reports, or other class assignments. Violation of this honor system is considered a serious offense. Source materials and citations used in the preparation of papers are to be clearly indicated by proper notations and credits. Academic misconduct, and in particular plagiarism, is a serious offense that may result in loss of academic credit and dismissal.

Academic misconduct includes but is not limited to:

- Cheating in any form is both a violation of the honesty expected of every student and in particular of the integrity expected of those preparing for priestly ministry. Forms of cheating include:
  - unauthorized use or exchange of information before or during a quiz, test, or semester examination
  - unauthorized collaboration on a class assignment: providing or receiving assistance in a manner not authorized by the professor in the creation of work to be submitted for academic evaluation including papers, projects and examinations
  - submitting the same work in two courses without the professor’s permission, and buying or selling work for a course are also forms of cheating.
  - doing unauthorized academic work for which another person will receive credit or be evaluated.
  - attempting to influence one’s academic evaluation by means other than academic achievement or merit.

- Plagiarism, the representation of someone else’s words or ideas as one’s own, is a serious offense that may result in loss of academic credit and dismissal.
  - The various forms of plagiarism include, but are not limited to:
    - failing to document correctly in one’s written assignment the words, arguments, or ideas secured from other sources
    - submitting papers containing material written by another person
    - copying homework assignments or exam answers
Plagiarism may involve printed as well as electronically retrieved materials. The campus-wide MSMU Acceptable Use Policy (.pdf) is to be followed.

- Misconduct Assistance, the cooperation with another in an act of academic misconduct, is also a serious matter.
  - A student who writes a paper or does an assignment for another student is an accomplice and will be held accountable just as severely as the other.
  - Any student who permits another to copy from his or her own paper, examination, or project shall be held as accountable as the student who submits the copied material.
  - Students are expected to safeguard their work and should not share papers, projects, homework, or exam answers with other students unless specifically directed to by their professors.

Procedural Guidelines for Lack of Academic Integrity in the Seminary

Both cheating and plagiarism are treated in the Seminary as both serious violations of academic integrity and as a formation issue. The response of the Seminary is dictated by its overall concern for priestly formation. In the event that questions are raised concerning seminarians:

- If a professor has reason to suspect that academic misconduct has occurred, the professor will speak to the Seminary academic dean in order to determine the appropriate actions. The Seminary academic dean informs the rector, the director of human formation, and the formation advisor of the seminarian(s) involved.
  - If a formal charge is warranted:
    - The professor will notify the student of the infraction in writing. Ordinarily, notification of the student should come no more than three weeks after the due date of the assignment in question. The professor is responsible for keeping the evidence of academic misconduct in its original form and need not return the original version of the materials to the student. Copies of the student’s work and information about other evidence will be provided to the student upon request.
    - The professor will notify the Seminary academic dean in writing (with a copy of the notification to the rector) and forward copies of all information and materials. The Seminary academic dean will consult with the rector about prior offenses and then will officially notify the student in writing of the charge and the student’s right to appeal. The Seminary academic dean will maintain all records of the charge including electronic records to ensure the penalties for the second and third offenses are administered by the Seminary. The Rector, after reviewing the particulars of each case with the academic dean, has the authority to make the ultimate and final decision on the appropriate penalty to impose.
    - Penalties for any infraction are cumulative in that they are imposed in light of the student’s record at Mount St. Mary’s Seminary.
      - The minimum penalty for the first offense will be the grade of zero for the assignment or examination. The instructor, at his/her discretion, may impose a more severe penalty, including a final grade of “F”/failure for the course.
A second offense during his seminary career will automatically result in a final grade of “F”/failure for the course in which this second incident occurred and a recommendation to the rector for the expulsion or suspension of the seminarian.

- If, in the judgment of the rector, there is deliberate plagiarism, the sponsoring diocese shall be consulted.
- In the event of a clear lack of academic integrity, cheating or plagiarism, involving Seminary students enrolled in any degree program, the Seminary academic dean has the authority, in consultation with the Seminary Academic Committee, to dismiss such a student from any or all degree programs. Seminarians may appeal a degree program dismissal directly to the rector.
- In the event of a clear lack of academic integrity involving non-ordination program students enrolled in the Seminary courses or degree programs, the Seminary academic dean has the authority, in consultation with the Seminary Academic Committee, to dismiss such a student. Non-seminarian students may appeal this decision directly to the rector.
- The rector alone has the authority to dismiss seminarians (ordination formation program students) from Mount St. Mary’s Seminary, and his decision is final.

Penalties for Academic Misconduct (university courses)

In the event that questions of plagiarism or cheating are raised regarding any student enrolled in the undergraduate division or graduate M.A.P.S. program courses, such students are bound by the prescriptions and policies of those University programs. These academic policies and regulations, as well as the procedures for appeals, are published in the appropriate catalog (available on the University website).

Student Grievance Procedures

The grievance procedure outlined below is intended to insure a fair hearing and a just response to student grievances at Mount St. Mary’s Seminary. It does not apply to matters for which other procedures have been established by Seminary policy (e.g. see the Formation Advising Program).

- Definition

  Grievances arise when students perceive that they have been subject to arbitrariness, bias, unjust discrimination, harassment, unfairness or unreasonable deviation from the established written Seminary policies (see above and in the Seminarian Handbook’s section on Academic Norms). Disagreement with a policy (such as a grading policy) does not constitute a grievance. A grievance is an allegation that the policies have not been followed or have been unjustly applied. The person alleging an offense is called the grievant; the person (or persons) against whom the grievance is alleged is called the respondent.

- Process

  o Informal Resolution In most cases, a student should attempt to resolve his grievance through direct communication with the respondent(s) before proceeding further. In cases of alleged sexual harassment, however, the student may choose to proceed to Step 2 (Administrative Intervention) without first seeking informal resolution.

  o Administrative Intervention In the event that a mutually acceptable resolution is not attained by informal process, the grievant approaches the Seminary administration within 30 days of the incident (the rector may extend this deadline to ensure due process). For matters related to the academic program, a grievant shall approach the academic dean. For matters related to the pastoral formation program, a grievant shall approach the director of pastoral field education. For matters related to student life, a grievant shall approach the dean of men. If the grievance is with the administrator, see “Grievance Hearing” below. The administrator shall discuss the matter with the grievant and respondent(s), either together or separately. This is not a formal hearing; no minutes are kept. The judgment of the intervening administrator shall be acted upon promptly.

- Grievance Hearing In the event that the student believes that a grievance, as defined above, remains despite administrative intervention or, if the grievance was with the administrator, the student shall request a grievance hearing. The grievant shall submit a written request for a hearing to the vice rector within four days from the time when the administrative intervention allegedly failed to resolve the matter. In the written request, the grievant shall state concisely the basis for the grievance, the process followed thus far, and the relief or remedy that the grievant is seeking. The grievant should attach any relevant documentation (e.g., correspondence, emails, or witness statements) to the request.
  - The respondent shall be informed that a grievance hearing has been requested and is given four days to submit a written statement and any relevant documentation to the vice rector.
  - After he has received both sets of documents, the vice rector will provide copies to both the grievant and the respondent so that they may prepare for the hearing.
  - The Grievance Committee consists of the formation team which corresponds to the class rank of the grievant. If the grievance is with the vice rector or any other member of the team, those individuals are excused, and, if necessary, the senior faculty member (in years of service) chairs the meeting. The Grievance Committee shall meet no later than two weeks from the date of the grievant's request.
  - Both grievant and respondent(s) meet together with the team. Each are given the opportunity to speak to the committee. The vice rector (or chair) shall ensure that both grievant and respondent(s) are given adequate opportunity to present their positions, one at a time starting with the grievant. They are not to question each other, but to direct their comments to the committee. The committee may ask questions of either the grievant or respondent after both presentations have been made. Both parties shall remain at all times during the hearing, and then both are excused so that the team may deliberate.
  - The committee deliberates and reaches a conclusion (by majority vote) in the form of a recommendation to the vice rector regarding the relief or remedy that the grievant sought. The vice rector makes the final decision and informs the grievant and respondent of the committee recommendation and his decision. A brief summary (not to exceed one page) of the grievance and the judgment is provided to the rector. A copy is also kept on file with the Seminary registrar.

- Appeal
  - Either party may appeal the vice rector’s decision to the rector. Appeals must be made in writing within 48 hours of the vice rector’s decision (this time limit may be extended by the rector to protect due process). The judgment of the rector is final.
  - Policies regarding grievances related to the undergraduate program are to follow its published procedures.
  - The rector alone has the authority to dismiss students from the Seminary, and his decision is final.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Identification/MountCard
The MOUNTcard is the official multifunctional campus photo ID for the Mount. It is issued to all new Mount St. Mary’s University students during their program’s orientation. The MOUNTcard serves the following functions:

- Library card
- Badge access to enter the Seminary complex buildings
- Use with dining service meal plans
• Option of opening a prepaid debit account for spending on campus (no cash advances are available)
• Printer use
• Use of the Knott Athletic Recreation and Convocation Complex (ARCC) facilities
• Entrance to athletic events

The MOUNTcard office is located in the Accounting and Finance Office on 3rd floor Bradley Hall. Call 301-447-5819 or email mountcard@msmary.edu for information or to schedule an appointment to receive a card.

Mount Alert System

The Office of Public Safety makes use of a system of various forms of messaging to notify the Mount community of various situations. All members of the Mount community are encouraged to keep their contact information up-to-date on the Mount Alert system (www.msmary.edu/mymountalert) to receive messages about any weather delays, University class cancelations, or other emergency situations. In the event of severe weather, students can also contact the weather line at 301-447-5777, check the Mount website www.msmary.edu, or listen to area radio stations for announcements. In general Seminary classes are not changed due to weather delays or cancellations, but pre-theology classes taught by undergraduate professors may be impacted. Seminary faculty will notify their students and the Seminary academic dean if unable to get to campus for class and may arrange to meet remotely.

CONFIDENTIALITY OF STUDENT RECORDS

Mount St. Mary’s Seminary accords all rights under the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA). The Seminary does not release personally identifiable information or education record information by any means without written consent of the student, except in those cases exempted by FERPA. Mount St. Mary’s may release directory information unless a student requests in writing that this information be withheld.

Students who wish to withhold directory information may do so by filling out the Request to Prevent Disclosure of Directory Information form, available from the Seminary registrar. Directory information includes: name, address, telephone number, dates of attendance, previous institutions attended, major fields of study, enrollment status, awards, honors, degree(s) conferred (including dates), and date and place of birth.

Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA)

Mount St. Mary’s University complies with the provisions of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, as amended, and any regulation promulgated thereunder. A copy of the Mount St. Mary’s University institutional compliance statement is located in the Office of the University Registrar and will be made available upon request to the University registrar.

Notification of Student Rights under FERPA

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 as amended (FERPA) affords students certain rights with respect to their educational records. In general, students have the following rights:

- The right to inspect and review their own education records in a timely manner (within 45 days of the request for access)
- The right to seek amendment of records the student believes are inaccurate, misleading, or otherwise in violation of the student’s privacy rights
• The right to consent to disclosures of personally-identifiable information from the student’s records to third parties

  o At the beginning of each academic year, after entering Mount St. Mary’s, the seminarian is required to give written consent for his bishop or the bishop’s delegate to review the seminarian’s records. Starting in fall 2020 seminarians will be able to designate this FERPA permission for their sponsoring diocese/religious order personnel to access their online MyMount academic and financial information.

  o This right is subject to certain exceptions; for example, the student’s written consent is not required for the following disclosures:
    ▪ to faculty and administrators of Mount St. Mary’s who have legitimate educational interests
    ▪ to certain government agencies and officials or as required by law
    ▪ to other schools in which the student intends to enroll, upon written request by the student.

• The right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures to comply with the requirements of FERPA. Anyone who believes his or her rights have been violated may file a complaint with the Family Policy Compliance Office, U.S. Department of Education, 600 Independence Avenue, SW, Washington, D.C. 20202-4605.

• Seminarians and others who wish to have specific information regarding their rights of access to institutional education records maintained in their name should contact the Office of the Seminary Registrar.

Nature and Content of Files

• Directory Information
  Mount St. Mary’s maintains the following student “directory information”: name, room number, telephone, home address, date and place of birth, ethnic and racial background, sex, diocesan affiliation, clerical status (where applicable), dates of attendance at Mount St. Mary’s, degree program, degrees granted, previous educational institutions attended, email address, photograph, and awards received. This information may be released by Mount St. Mary’s without specific prior authorization by the student. The student, however, has the right to require that all or certain portions of this information not be designated as directory information by so notifying the administrative assistant to the rector.

• The Personal File
  o The personal file of each student is kept in the office of the administrative assistant to the rector. After a student’s departure, it is kept in secure file cabinets in Seminary storage. Starting in fall 2020 many of these materials may be kept electronically on the secure cloud-based campus information system.

  o The personal file contains all the admissions materials received upon a student’s application to the Seminary. In addition, it includes the student’s annual evaluations while a seminarian at Mount St. Mary’s as well as his composite peer evaluations, field education evaluations, summer evaluations, self-presentation, correspondence between the seminarian’s diocese and the Seminary in his regard, and canonical documents associated with the reception of ministries, admission to candidacy, and the reception of orders.

- The rector, director of human formation, and the administrative assistant to the rector have access to all information in the seminarian's personal file. This information may also be shared with the seminarian’s bishop and vocation director.

- Admissions materials received upon a student’s application to Mount St. Mary’s Seminary that become part of his personal file are reviewed by members of the Admissions Committee. The Seminary formation advisors are given access to their advisees’ autobiography, priesthood essay, and a summary of Admissions Committee notes on information from the admissions materials relevant to a seminarian’s formation.

- The formation advisor receives copies of their advisee’s summer evaluations, field education evaluations, composite peer evaluations, and diaconate self-presentation. Starting fall 2020 these materials may be stored electronically on the secure cloud-based campus information system and accessible via permission rules.

- The medical and psychological records maintained by Mount St. Mary’s and kept in the seminarian’s personal file are governed by FERPA, HIPAA, and any applicable state laws pertaining to medical records. Copies of medical records are shared with the Health Center of Mount St. Mary’s University. Seminarians may have access to their psychological evaluation and test results only through the medium of a qualified interpreter of such instruments.

Academic Transcripts and other Academic Files

Each current student has an academic file, maintained by the Seminary registrar on behalf of the Seminary academic dean. These hard-copy documents are kept locked in the Office of the Seminary Registrar. Semester grades are routinely sent to the seminarian's bishop, vocation director, and formation advisor. Starting in fall 2020 grades will be made available through their seminarians’ MyMount portal. Academic files, when possible, will be stored electronically on the secure cloud-based campus information system. The academic file contains:

- Academic degree plan(s), course registration by semester, and a current unofficial copy of the student’s Mount St. Mary’s Seminary transcript
- Official copies of transcripts from all previously attended colleges, universities, or seminaries (received as a part of the admissions process)
- Any midterm deficiency reports or other correspondence regarding the student’s academic progress
- In the case of international students, a copy of the student’s passport, student visa, SEVIS form I-20, and any other pertinent information

Retention Policy

The Seminary policy regarding records retention is available from the Office of the Rector. Some materials in a student’s academic or personal file such as course schedules, drop/add requests, or other forms are destroyed after the student has graduated or otherwise left the Seminary.
Graduation Procedure

Fourth theologians and second pre-theologians are required to fill out an Intent to Graduate form when registering for their final spring semester classes. Seminarians completing a B.A. or M.A.P.S. degree must contact the Office of the University Registrar for their policies and deadlines. Collection of these forms provides the registrar’s office with accurate student information and allows for a timely review of student academic records to determine eligibility to graduate. Such review will also provide students with an opportunity to complete during the spring semester any degree requirements that may have been overlooked during their time at Mount St. Mary’s. Students who have unmet requirements will be notified by the appropriate registrar.

Participation in Graduation

Seminarians are expected to attend and participate in a special vespers ceremony for the conferral of degree at the beginning of May. Those receiving a baccalaureate or M.A.P.S. degree, may opt to also participate in the University’s baccalaureate and commencement ceremonies, but are not required to do so.

Honors and Awards

A notation is made on the transcripts of the recipients of any of the honors, awards, or prizes listed below.

Semester Honors are calculated and published at the end of the fall and spring semester. Those on the Rector’s List must earn a 3.85-3.99 term GPA with no incompletes, and those designated as Dubois Scholars must earn a 4.00 term GPA. Seminarians and their dioceses will be notified by letter, and transcripts will indicate each semester in which the honor has been achieved.

Degrees with Academic Honors Seminary degrees conferred by the University are awarded honors for exceptional quality, attaining an above average cumulative grade point average upon graduation, as follows:

- Summa cum laude (minimum 3.850 cum GPA)
- Magna cum laude (minimum 3.650 cum GPA)
- Cum laude (minimum 3.500 cum GPA)

Grade point averages are not rounded. Grades earned prior to matriculation at Mount St. Mary’s will not be included in the grade point average. A minimum of one-half of required courses must have been taken at Mount St. Mary’s for honors eligibility.

Memorial Awards and Prizes for the highest academic achievement in the following areas:

- The Belle Holtz Memorial Award for the highest scholastic average maintained throughout the course in Church History, as certified by the Seminary faculty. Founded by Anna Margaret (Belle) Holtz, late of Emmitsburg and Thurmont.
- The Most Rev. Harry J. Flynn Memorial Award for the highest scholastic average maintained throughout the course in Moral Theology, as certified by the Seminary faculty. Founded by Mrs. Felicia Mendelis Plusik.
- The Mary Katharine Beers Memorial Award given by Rev. John Michael Beers to honor a fourth year Seminary student who excels in the study of and use of patristic and liturgical Latin.
- The Rev. John F. Cogan Memorial Prize for the seminarian with the highest scholastic average throughout the philosophy course. Founded by Rev. Msgr. Louis J. Mendelis, S.T.D., LL.D., Seminary class of 1924, in memory of the late Rev. John F. Cogan, Ph.D., class of 1914, professor of philosophy in the college (1918-1955).

- The Martin and Margaret Frank Holtz Family Memorial Award for the highest average maintained throughout the course in Sacred Scripture, as certified by the Seminary faculty. Founded by Anna Margaret (Belle) Holtz, late of Emmitsburg and Thurmont.

- The Most Rev. Harry J. Flynn Memorial Award for the highest scholastic average maintained throughout the course in Systematic Theology, as certified by the Seminary faculty. Founded by Mrs. Felicia Mendelis Plusik.

- The Rev. Elwood Sylvester Berry Memorial Prize for the student of the theology course who has maintained the highest scholastic average and has earned the certification of the Seminary faculty. Founded by Rt. Rev. Louis J. Mendelis, S.T.D., LL.D., Seminary class of 1924, in memory of the late Rev. E. S. Berry, S.T.D., class of 1903, professor of theology (1923-1954).

ACADEMIC SUPPORT AND OTHER SERVICES

Formation Advisors
Advising is a form of teaching. Faculty advising of seminarians, unlike undergraduate academic advisors, does not involve formal matters such as approving course schedules prior to registration, but does include helping seminarians to monitor their own academic progress in the degree programs, as well as establishing goals across all aspects of the formation program. Faculty advising also includes conversation about seminarians’ developing pastoral and spiritual life and aspirations for future priesthood.

Formation advisors are assigned by the vice rector and meet as two teams to discuss seminarians’ annual progress throughout the full Formation Program. More details are available in the Formation Program portion of the Seminarian Handbook, and available on the Seminary’s Inside the Mount section of the website.

Learning Services
The Department of Learning Services, located in the Archbishop Borders Learning Center, provides academic support to all Mount students, focusing on study skills development to build academic success. It offers programs on topics such as time management, organization, note-taking, test-taking, and learning and memory strategies as they meet individually with staff members who assess individual strengths and needs.

Disability Services
The Seminary recognizes that seminarians with documented disabilities are entitled to reasonable accommodations and appropriate academic adjustments as stated in Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990. Current and valid documentation of disability, including functional limitations and the impact of disability on academic performance, is required. Seminarians with disabilities should contact the director of learning services at 301-447-5006.

Mount St. Mary’s University, as a whole, is committed to providing equal educational opportunities and full participation to all qualified students. No qualified student with a disability shall be excluded from participation in any University program or activity, denied the benefits of any University program or activity, or otherwise subjected to discrimination with regard to any University program or activity.
English as a Second Language
Mount St. Mary’s Seminary offers a unique ESL support program, providing individualized English language instruction focusing on each student’s particular language needs, accredited by the Commission on English Language Program Accreditation (CEA). Class sizes are very small, with most instruction delivered in one-on-one student/instructor classes. All instructors are native English-speakers with professional training and experience in teaching ESL/ESOL/EFL. See further information about ESL at the Seminary under the section on Academic Programs.

The Writing Center
The University’s award-winning Writing Center, located in the Phillips Library, assists students in developing their skills in writing analytically and critically. Available to students from all degree programs at all levels of skill, the Center offers instruction in a variety of forms: tutorials, short courses, and workshops, to name a few. Through its flexibility, the Center can help meet both the immediate and long-term needs of students involved in various writing projects. Appointments are available from 2-5 p.m. weekdays. Call ext. 5367 for an appointment. Tutoring is also offered on a walk-in basis at the Phillips Library several nights each week.

Phillips Library
The Msgr. Hugh J. Phillips Library’s collection of learning resources includes about 150,000 bound volumes and a carefully developed collection of scholarly information sources that provide access to e-books, journal articles and a variety of data sources. Included in our e-resources collection are approximately 27,000 professional and scholarly journal publications and 300,000 eBooks.

The collection includes all the major databases in each academic discipline including the complete JSTOR back files. Content from Sage, EBSCO, ProQuest, ATLA and many others is available from the library’s website.

Phillips Library is a member of OCLC, the world’s largest library non-profit cooperative. OCLC’s WorldCat Discovery service provides access to our books and article databases. Through this service, we can borrow materials from around the world through our inter-library loan (ILL) system. Our librarians also create subject guides that help students develop effective research strategies.

Our library staff includes two librarians who provide research assistance and information literacy instruction to individuals and groups. Our main desk services, acquisitions, cataloging and inter-library loans are provided by three highly competent, student-focused employees, with the help of several dedicated student assistants.

Phillips Library is a member of the Catholic Research Resources Alliance, whose purpose is “to provide enduring global access to Catholic research resources in the Americas.” Phillips Library’s Catholic Studies Collection brings together about 4,000 of our most prized theological volumes in a scholarly yet very visible study area. The library also includes the University archives that contain many historic documents and rare books relating to Catholic history in the United States. Many of these resources are available through our digital archives collection.

The Phillips Library is a member of the Maryland Independent College and University Association (MICUA). Our students and faculty have direct access to the collections of each MICUA member library.
Phillips Library offers students a variety of comfortable spaces in which to study in isolation or together with peers. Each floor of the building offers many seating options that accommodate students’ needs.

Information Technology

Today’s campus communications rely on technology that is continually changing. Mount St. Mary’s University is very proud to offer some of the finest systems, allowing students and faculty to interact and be part of a sophisticated on-line community. The Mount community enjoys the advantages of wireless access, high-speed connections to the Internet and innovative classroom technology.

IT Services include free access to electronic mail and the Internet is provided campus-wide via high-speed wired and wireless access. The Mount’s website (www.msmary.edu) provides access to the University’s campus-wide information system. The Mount’s portal provides an interactive environment for teaching and learning for students and faculty, with further upgrades being implemented in summer 2020. Many services, such as registration, billing account review and payment, official and unofficial transcripts, are available online.

Standard software used on campus includes Windows and the Microsoft Office Suite (Word, Excel and PowerPoint). The Information Technology Support Center (ITSC) offers assistance with software and hardware-related issues and is located on the ground floor of the Knott Academic Center. If you have questions or need audio visual support, please contact them by email at itsc@msmary.edu or by phone at 301-447-5805. The Mount highly recommends Windows-based laptops for all on-campus students.

Outside the Classroom

The Mount is dedicated to providing an environment outside of the classroom that fosters learning and personal growth in preparing women and men for a role of leadership and responsible citizenship in society. The Mount offers comprehensive services and programs designed to provide an exceptional and diverse student experience at the University.

- Athletics plays an important part of the University’s culture of healthy lifestyles and competitive excellence. A member of the Northeast Conference (NEC) and a Division I member of the NCAA, the Mount fields seventeen teams with approximately 350 participating athletes. Seminarians serve as team chaplains.

- The Bookstore’s mission is to serve the University community by supplying required textbooks and related educational materials, while providing a premier retail environment to ensure quality and contribute to the good health of auxiliary enterprises of the University. Web address http://msmu.bncollege.com

- The Office of Campus Ministry contributes to the mission of the University to enable students to cultivate a mature spiritual life through liturgical, faith formation and community service ministry.

- The Conference and Special Programs Office is designed to utilize the campus facilities and resources in order to contribute to the financial good health of the University’s auxiliary services.
• Dining Services provides satisfying meals to a diverse University community. The department supplies essential services of dining, vending, catering and concessions to the entire community.

• The Office of Health Services provides health education, prevention and treatment services to students as they learn to manage the health care needs and challenges associated with the demands of college life and the transition from adolescence to adulthood. The Catholic mission and values of the University serve as a guiding principle for educational and treatment services available to students of the University and Seminary.

• The Post Office is a full-service mail room, currently located at the physical plant building, and serves as the central distribution center for handling all interoffice and U.S. Postal Service mail as well as other package mailing services. The office is also responsible for the management of all student mailboxes and other student mail services.

• The Department of Public Safety at the entrance to the Mount St. Mary’s University campus is a service-oriented, law enforcement, problem-solving and crisis response organization. Its primary purpose is to provide a safe, secure and orderly environment in which teaching, learning and administration operations of the University have an opportunity to excel.

• Campus Recreation fosters individual and community growth by enhancing and encouraging the participant’s physical, intellectual and social development through diverse programming in aquatics, club sports, fitness and health, and intramural sports. Seminarians participate on many of the intramural teams. The department provides operational support and coordination for the Knott Athletic Recreation and Convocation Complex and its programs.

Student Life
Information regarding student life at Mount St. Mary’s Seminary, the Seminary’s Rule for Life and the Seminarian Handbook, the Student Government Association (and its Constitution), various student activities, upcoming events, the seminarian blog and vocation stories, and other pertinent information can be found online at the website www.msmary.edu/seminary. Statistics on the current enrollment, partner dioceses, etc., are available upon request.
